ൟൟൟ Traditional Bhajans of Bhakta Samaj ൟൟൟ

The six seasons are Hemant, Shishir, Vasant, Grishma, Varsha (monsoon) and Sharad. During the months of Kaartik and Maagshar during Hemant season Govardhan Raas and Raaga from Kalyaan to Kedaar - the twelve monthly Raag are rendered. During the months of Pausha and Magh, verses of Nani and Moti Vadhaamani are rendered. Nani and Moti Dhamaar, and Rang Rasiyo, Rayso, Dhanashri, Garbi of Phaag and verses known as Latkaaniya are also rendered during the months of Phagun, Chaitra, Vasant. In addition to these, verses in the worship of Rama are sung.

Different Bhajans in accordance with different seasons, months and moods are signified. Here, I feel it is necessary to mention, that, upon the death of the departed loved ones, the last in memorials are performed mostly during morning hours. It does not seem appropriate that the Aarti to be sung during the evening or verses of Godi are sung. However, at such times, rendering Raag such as, Bilaaval and Ashaavasri seem much appropriate. If one does not know how to render it, this does not take much time to learn it. Be it so. ॐ

Traditional Bhajans: Raga Guide

In the context of traditional bhajans of Bhaktas, a raga (rāg) is a melody or tune in which a bhajan is sung. The traditional bhajans of Bhaktas are sung in a variety of rāgs which consists of rāgs for a particular season or occasion and also rāgs for a particular time of day. For the evening bhajan sessions, there is a sequence of rāgs which are sung until midnight. These are known as bārmāsi rāgs which means rāgs for any month.

Now let's look at the rāgs associated with a particular season or occasion.

Spring season (Vasant, Holi, Dhuleti)
Nirgun Vasant, Sagun Vasant, Vasant Dhanāshri, Rang Rasiyo, Rāyaso, Dhamār, Garbi

Janmāshtami
Malār, Hindolā-ni Sāmeri, Rishikesh Sāmeri, Malār Chhappe, Hindolā-ni Kāfi, Hindolā-no Kālero, Hindolā-nu Māru, Sajani, Bihāg Fer

Funeral Procession
Bilāval, Āshāvari or Sārang during the procession; after cremation, Dhol-Mangal and then Charchari

Kirtan
Nāni Āshāvari, Moti Āshāvari, Sārang

Wedding Procession
Dhol, Mangal

The rāg vasant is associated with the spring season while rāg malār (or malhār) is associated with the rainy season. Rang rasiyo, rāyaso and garbi are sung on Dhuleti (the day after Holi). For Janmāshtami, there is a sequence of hindolā rāgs which leads to the rāg bihāg fer at midnight. For the kirtan sessions which are normally held during the day, the rāg is based on time of day. In the morning, the rāg will be āshāvari while in the afternoon, the rāg will be sārang.

Here we have given just a basic raga guide. Of course, there are many more other rāgs which are sung today.

Choosing very simple words and expressions, our fellow bhajanik Dharmendrabhai composed this inspirational 'Bhajan'. Dharmendrabhai has performed a yeoman service for the Bhakta Samaj in uniting the young generation.

What is most important, Dharmendrabhai has composed the wordings of this 'Bhajan' in Raga Malkauns. While we enjoy singing this Bhajan and devote prayers at the feet of God, let us try to realize why Dharmendrabhai has chosen Raga Malkauns for this Bhajan. As we look around we find people bereft of mental peace. Hindustani classical music contains several Raga, which are known to have therapeutic effect. Raga Malkauns is one such Raga.

The Hindu scriptures narrate, when Sati Parvati jumped into the Agni Kunda (sacrificial fire) being performed by Daksha Prajapati and gave up her life. Lord Shiva was outraged and performed the Rudra Tandava to express his grief and anger. When Lord Shiva was not calming down even after Tandav dance, the goddess Saraswati is believed to have created the Raga Malkauns to calm Lord Shiva. Raga Malkauns is said to have supernatural powers and can conjure up spirits, if rendered properly. The best time for this raga is late night. The effect of the raga is soothing and intoxicating.

0. We will carry on worshiping "RamKabir" and we will continue being committed worshipers.

1. On the basis of our "Bhajan" we have gracefully attained recognition, and we shall strive to make it worth meaningful, not only by singing prayers or devotional songs, by imbibing within us the virtuous teachings of Kabir Saheb.

2. We shall congregate on every Monday night. We will make efforts to learn tuneful notes and musical modes (Raga-Ragini) of singing. Basically, as we all know, singing prayers and even other songs with proper Raga, creates an atmosphere befitting the sense of what is being sung.

3. We, the members of Bhakta Samaj, are going to harness the spiritual essence of Nadbrahma for the betterment of the people at large.

4. We shall come together on auspicious days and festive occasions, and share spiritual joy of singing prayers and bhajan.

5. By the grace of "Mohan" (source of inspiration Mohanbhai), we have avowed to make this earth worth venerating.

6. And lastly, enable the disciples (Dharma Bal) of Kabir Saheb, by way of inspiring them through these prayers and bhajan.

2. O Ishvar Bhaji-e Tane ॥ ઓ ઈશ્વર ભજીએ તને suňdar vadan kamal dal lochan, ga-u-dhenu ke saňge āve ārati karat jashodā maiyā, kabir-ji dar-shan pāve ... 3

0. In this verse, the sage poet Kabir wonders, why shouldn't mother Jashoda feel blissful and be in high spirits when the Supreme Incarnation of Akhand (one who is not separate or broken away from the Brahma - the creator of the universe) and Avinashi (indestructible)[1] grazes her cows? How can you stop singing benedictory poems or songs?

1. The ultimate creator of the universe, whose grace cannot be attained with millions of meditations, penances and prayers; Kabir is astonished as to what sort of divine karma that Jashoda had performed that she has been blessed with the boon that enables her to fondle and play with the Supreme Divine Himself!

2. Despite the deities such as Brahma, Vishnu, Shankar, Indra and others don't get tired singing praises of him, and the Shesh Naag incessantly chants his name devotionally through his thousand mouths, but have not been able to realize his true divine essence.

3. Having eyes like lotus petals and attractive countenance, God, drives along a herd of cows as a cowherd, and as Jashoda lovingly and ceremoniously (with an Aarti) welcomes him home; perceiving such divine moments, Kabir considers himself divinely graced and honored.

[1] Avinashi or indestructible - In Bhagwad Geeta, Lord Krishna has described quality of the spiritual aspect of soul as - नैनं छिन्दन्ति शस्त्राणि, नैनं दहति पावकः। न चैनं क्लेदयन्त्यापो न शोषयति मारूतः॥ - 2/24 - This soul is formless, body-less and imperceptible. Hence, it cannot be destroyed by any perceptible weapon, burnt by fire, drenched by water or dried by wind.

āp jagat-ko rup banyo hai, āp jagat-ko mul kahai kabir sohi jan-jāne, gnān uday bhaye sur ... 5

1. The heavenly blissful divinity that is omnipotent and omnipresent is showing us his wondrous games. My dear saintly friends, he is not very far away. He is very much around! What is needed is just contemplation on him with pure mind.

2. A method to realize his divine essence is described in the Vedas, Purana, Bhagwat Geeta, but, leaving that apart a man runs around thoughtlessly in the search of god, is nothing but foolhardiness.

This reminds us of a couplet from a poem of Akha Bhagat, an eminent Gujarati poet, “એક મૂરખને એવી ટેવ, પથ્થર એટલા પૂજે દેવ;

પાણી દેખી કરે સ્નાન, તુલસી દેખી તોડે પાન;

તે તો અખા બહુ ઉત્પાત, ઘણા પરમેશ્વર એ ક્યાંની વાત?”

(A dumb believer in god worships every rock that he sees and takes a dip in every pond or river he comes across. Wherever he finds a Basil plant, he would pluck a leaf and chew. Akha exasperatedly asks, why so much restlessness? How absurd it is to talk of several gods!)

3. The soul, which incessantly flows out akin to flood waters divinely vibrates as if emanating in the form of self-originating sound heard by the yogis or mystics, is omnipotent, pure and brightly illuminated.

4. Your master is within you and his voice echoes from within you. When one has a good fortune of meeting a saintly Guru, the actual meaning of spiritual enlightenment is realized. This realization is rumbling from within. Listen to it.

5. Describing the image of the Supreme Almighty, Kabir says, he is the creator and a source of this universe. The one who has realized the divine realization understands true essence of the Supreme Almighty.

7. Sahaj Samādhi Bhali Ho ॥ સહજ સમાધિ ભલી હો

Nādbrahma pada 13, Rāga: Godi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૩, રાગ - ગોડી

0. A Pundit or a so-called saint who makes publicity of his own ideals, thoughts or opinions on religious is nothing but propagating lies or confusion. If just by uttering 'RAM', a name of god, if one could attain salvation, then just by uttering 'SUGAR', one should be able to have sweet taste in mouth.

પાવક કહે પાંવ જો દાહૈ, જલ કહે તૃખા બુઝાઈ

ભોજન કહે ભૂખ જો ભાગૈ, તો દુનિયા તરિ જાઈ - ૧

1. If what is said was true, then the soles may get scorched just by pronouncing 'HEAT', thirst may get quenched by saying 'WATER' and hunger pangs would subside by saying 'FOOD'. If that was so, there won't be any grief in the world and emancipation for everyone in the world could have been possible.

નર કે સંગ સુવા હરિ બોલૈ, હરિ પ્રતાપ ન જાનૈ

જો કબહુ ઊડિ જાય જંગલકો, તો હરિ સુરતિ ન આનૈ - ૨

2. If a parrot is taught to say, 'RAM… RAM…', it would do that and go on repeating it. But can the bird shall ever realize the significance of the divine realm. And by chance, if it flies away into forests, it may hardly remember god.

બિનુ દેખે બિનુ અરસપરસ, બિનુ નામ લિયે કા હોઈ

3. What is the use of chanting anything, any mantra, or even god's name without ever understanding anything and just by imitating someone? If by pronouncing 'WEALTH' if everybody could become wealthy, there won't be any pauper left around!

સાચી પ્રીતિ વિષય માયાસોં, હરિ ભગતનકી હાંસી

કહ કબીર એક રામ ભજે બિનુ, બાંધે જમપુર જાસી - ૪

4. Kabir says, "O' living being! O' spiritual seeker! Your affection, attachment or devotion is towards the worldly pleasures, avarices and illusions, which have taken hold of your mind and conscience. This way, you are just making fun of god and do not achieve anything. Unless you truly devote your intellect in the worship of god, you can never attain salvation."

In the evening, when our kids return home from schools, we affectionately greet them and at times neighboring women too, join us in fondling the kids. Finding the kids who were well groomed while going to schools in the morning, sometimes look dishevelled on return, but for mothers, they still look much adorable. Don't you find such similarity of events when the Gopis used to find young Krishna herding the cows back home with dust rising from their hooves and the gradually setting sun spreading crimson glow in the sky?

9. Ga-u-chāri Gher Āve ॥ ગૌચારી ઘેર આવે

Nādbrahma pada 23, Rāga – Godi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૩, રાગ - ગોડી

ગૌચારી ઘેર આવે, શ્યામળિયો વ્હાલો, ગૌચારી ઘેર આવે;

પીંઢારો પરવર્યો મોહન, મધુરી શી મુરલી બજાવે ... ટેક

ga-u-chāri gher āve, shyāmaliyo vahālo, gauchāri gher ave pinDhāro par-varyo mohan, madhuri shi murali bajāve …. repeat
As young Krishna, whom the Gopis fondly called Shyamaliyo returns home bringing back the cowherd from the grazing grounds, he looks much adorably lovable. For the mother Jashoda to see her son, having accomplished the task for the day is a pleasant sight. As relaxed young Krishna plays soothing tunes on his flute, the listeners are absorbed in the evolved heavenly ambience.

Let me get lines drawn with fragrant Krishna Chandan and Sandalwood powders, and make Rangoli using real pearls. Let me sprinkle flower petals and spread flowers in the street, when the Lord of Narsinh arrives at my temple.

10. Ārati Ho Dev Shiro-Mani Teri ॥ આરતી હો દેવ શિરોમણી તેરી

Nādbrahma pada 29 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૯

આરતી હો દેવ શિરોમણી તેરી;

અવિગત વિગત જુગત નહીં જાણું, ક્યોં પહોંચે બુધ મેરી ... ટેક ārati ho dev shiro-mani teri;

avigat vigat jugat nahi jānu, kyoň pahoňche budha meri ... ārati ho
O' Supreme Divinity, I beseechingly pray to you and say that, I don't have knowledge about several unfathomable details of these worldly affairs, I don't know what Yoga is. Your realm is beyond my intellectual reach. I am perturbed, how can I ever realize your divinity?

નિરાકાર નિર્લેપ નિરંજન, ગુણ અતીત તુમ દેવા;

જ્ઞાન ધ્યાન સે રહે ન્યારા, કિસબિધ કીજે સેવા ... ૧

gnān dhyān se rahe nyārā, kisa-bidha kije sevā ... 1
O' Supreme Divine, you are formless and undefiled. As you are above the three constituent spiritual qualities (Sattvik, Rajas and Tamas) or have transcended them, you are unsullied. You cannot be realized through knowledge through spiritual discourses or books and through meditation. Then how can I worship you?

નિગમ નેતિ બ્રહ્માદિક ખોજે, શેષ પાર નહીં પાવે;

શંકર ધ્યાન ધરે નીશી બાસર, સો ભી અગમ બતાવે ... ૨

nigam neti brahmā-dik khoje, shesh pār nahi pāve shaňkar dhyān dhare nishi bāsar, so bhi agam batāve ... 2
All the religious scriptures, Brahma, Vishnu and Mahesh have proclaimed all spiritual knowledge, time and again, as "Not enough, not enough – નેતિ, નેતિ". Even Shesh Bhagwan has not been able to fathom your existence. Even after contemplating upon you day and night, Lord Shankar has to consider you inconceivable.

સબ ગાયે અનુમાન આપણે, તમ ગતિ લખીએ ન જાયે;

કહે કબીર કૃપા કરી જન પર, જ્યોં હૈ ત્યોં સમજાયે ... ૩

sab gāye anu-mān ā-pane, tama gati lakhi-e na jāye kahe kabir krupā kari jan par, jyoň ha-ii tyoň sam-jāye ... 3
Everyone in the universe worships you singing in your praise but as a matter of fact, none can narrate a path to reach unto you. "Therefore," Kabir says, "have mercy up on me and enable me to perceive you and understand you as you are."

11. Ārati Kije Narsiňh Prabhu-Ki ॥ આરતી કીજે નરસિંહ પ્રભુકી

Nādbrahma pada 30 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૩૦

આરતી કીજે નરસિંહ પ્રભુકી, વેદ વિમલ જશ ગાવે ... ટેક

ārati kije narsiňh prabhu-ki, ved vimal jash gāve ... repeat Let us worship God having an image of a man and lion - Narsinh, whose devotional prayers are even sung by the Vedas.

પહલી આરતી પ્રહ્લાદ ઉગારે, હિરણ કશીપુ નખ ઉદર બિડારે ... ૧

pahali ārati prahalād ugāre, hiran kashipu nakh udar bidāre ... 1
With the first prayer of the greatest devout, Prahlad, Hiranya Kashyapu's stomach was torn apart by God in the form of a man whose head is that of a lion.

દુસરી આરતી વામન સેવા, બલિ કે દ્વારે પધારે હો દેવા ... ૨

dusari ārati vāman sevā, bali dvāre padhāre ho devā ... 2
With the second prayer offered to Vaaman, the fifth incarnation of Vishnu, God himself stood at the doorstep of his disciple, King Bali.

તીસરી આરતી બ્રહ્મા સધારે, સહસ્ત્રા બાહુ કે કારજ સારે ... ૩

tisari ārati brahmā sadhāre, sahastrā bāhu e kāraj sāre ... 3
With the third prayer offered to God Dattatreya, Brahma, the creator of the Universe was appeased and he enabled Sahasra Bahu Arjun with all the prosperity he had lost.

ચોથી આરતી અસુર સંહારે, ભક્ત વિભીષણ લંકા સધારે ... ૪

chothi ārati asur sam-hāre, bhakta vibhishan laňka sadhāre ... 4
With the fourth prayer of Lord Ram, the demons were destroyed and the devoted follower of Ram, Vibhishan was coroneted as the king of Lanka.

પાંચમી આરતી કંસ પછાડે, ગોપી ગ્વાલ સખાપતિ પાલે ... ૫

pāňch-mi ārati kaňsa pachhāde, gopi gvāl sakhā-pati pāle ... 5
With the fifth prayer, Kansa, the devilish king of Mathura was killed and the shepherds and their women were protected from the wrath of the evil ruler.

તુલસી કે પત્ર કંઠ મણિ હીરા, હરખી નીરખે ગાવે દાસ કબીરા ... ૬

tulasi ke patra kaňth mani hirā, harakhi nirakhe gāve dās kabirā ... 6
Singing in the praise of Lord Krishna, Kabir says, a garland made of Basil (Tulsi) leaves hanging in the neck of God looks as precious as that made of precious jewels and diamonds.

12. Shri Padma-nābh Pari-brahma ॥ શ્રી પદ્મનાભ પરિબ્રહ્મ

શ્રી પદ્મનાભ પરિબ્રહ્મ પુરુષોત્તમ પેઢે નહિ રે,

હરિ અવિગત ગોવિંદ સંતજી રે, સહાય કરો શ્રીપતિ ધણી રે, shri padma-nābh pari-brahma purushot-tam peDhe nahi re, hari avi-gat govind saňt-ji re, sahāy karo shri-pati dhani re, 1

The Supreme Divine, Omniscient Brahma is not something that could be bought off the shelf. The Supreme Divinity, whom we call Vishnu or Govind, is indistinct and invisible, Omniscient and saintly being, and the Master of Lakshmi, is implored by the devout poet for help to fathom the ocean of life.

હરિ ચત્રુભુજ શ્યામલ વર્ણ, સારંગધર સોહામણો રે,

હરિ રૂંવડેલો વૈકુંઠ નાથજી રે, દુક્રીત હરણ દામોદર રે, hari chatru-bhuj shyāmal varna, sāraňg-dhar sohā-mano re, hari ruňva-delo vai-kuňth nāth-ji re, dukrit haran dāmo-dar re, 2

Envisioning image of God, as Chatrabhuj (four handed) of ash-blue complexion (Shyamal Varna), Sarangdhar (holding a mighty bow named Sarang) devout saintly poet is enthralled. The master of spiritual realm (Vaikunth), Damodar is eradicator of all sorrows.

હરિ નિરંજન નિરાકાર, નિષ્કલંક પુરુષે અરાધીયે રે,

ધન ગાયે દ્વારિકા નાથજી રે, શ્યામલ વર્ણ સોહામણો રે, hari niraňjan nirā-kār, nishka-laňk purushe arā-dhiye re, dhan gāye dvārikā nāthaji re, shyāmal varna sohā-mano re, 3

Let us worship unstained, formless, purest form of the Supreme Divinity, let us sing in praise of Dwarikanath whose ash-blue complexion is enchanting.

હરિ સેવ્યો સમર્થ સાર, પાર લે એનો કોઇ નવ લહે રે,

હરિ સોહે છે અવિનાશ વ્હાલો, વાસ આપે વૈકુંઠ ધણી રે, hari sevyo samarth sār, pār eno ko-ii nav lahe re, hari sohe chhe avi-nāsh vahālo, vās āpe vaikuňth dhani re, 4

Nobody can fathom the essence of the grace bestowed upon someone by the Supreme Divine. The gracefully appearing immortal and eternal God only can provide us a place in his eternal abode (Vaikunth).

હરિ માધવ મુકુંદ મોરાર, મહાદેવ સોહામણો રે,

હરિ ભક્તિ મુક્તિ દાતાર લ્યો, નારાયણ છે નિર્મલો રે, hari mā-dhav mukuṅd morār, mahā-dev sohā-mano re, hari bhakti mukti dā-tār lyo, nārā-yan chhe nir-malo re, 5

Addressing and praying graceful God by different names like Hari, Madhav, Mukund, Morar, Mahadev devout says that, God is merciful to grant us the boon of devotion and ultimate liberation and such Narayan is the purest entity.

સદા સારંગધર શું વિચાર, પાર લૈ કાનૈયો આત્મા રે,

આવી વેગે મળ્યો વિશ્વાસજી રે, તારોની ત્રિભોવન ટળવળે રે, sadā sāraṅga-dhar shuṅ vichār, pār lai kā-nai-yo ātmā re, āvi vege malyo vish-vās-ji re, tāro-ni tribho-van tala-valere, 6

What is there to think about, when Sarangdhar or Kanaiyo can lift our soul to a state of salvation? Our faith in you has strengthened, for whose grace the entities of all the three worlds, viz. heaven, earth and the lower region are pining.

જીવ તો મોહ્યાં છે કુળમાં, કલીકાલે જીવ જંપીઓ રે,

એ તો હરિ વિના નવ લહે શ્વાસ, શ્વાસ સદા સારંગધર રે, jiv to mohyā chhe kul-māṅ, kali-kāle jiv jampi-o re, e to hari vinā nav lahe shvās, shvās sadā sāraṅg-dhar re, 7

The soul is engrossed in worldly affairs, and when it has been calmed down, it cannot breathe without the help of God, since Sarangdhar (Lord Krishna) has always been a source of breath.

સદા વૈષ્ણવ મન રહે ઉલ્લાસ, આનંદ અંગે ઉલટ્યો રે,

ભલે આવ્યા પરિબ્રહ્મ રાય વ્હાલો, વૈષ્ણવજન માંહી પરવર્યો રે, sadā vaishnav man rahe ul-lās, ānaṅd aṅge u-latyo re, bhale āvyā pari-brahma rāy, vahālo vaishnav-jan māṅhi par-varyo re, 8

Mind and body of Vishnav (devotee of Vishnu) always remains blissful and joyful. Welcoming Brahma who has come to grant ultimate freedom from the cycle of death and birth, the devout says, that he has attained ultimate deliverance.

હરિનો વર્ત્યો જય જયકાર, સાર બોલોની હવે સાચા ધણીનો રે,

હરિનો આવ્યો જ્યારે મન વિશ્વાસ ત્યારે, પાસ છૂટ્યા ચાર ખાણના રે, hari-no vartyo jaya jaya-kār, sār bolo-ni have sāchā dhani-no re, hari-no āvyo jyāre man vish-vas tyāre, pās chhutyā chār khān-nā re, 9

Inspired by divine characteristics, cheering God's name lets us all sing in his honor of our true Divine Master. And now, when our faith is affirmed on God, all our bonds of four quarters (i.e. Paradise (Swarg), the heavens, earth and a very deep abyss of the earth (Paatal).

હરિ ઘેર ઘેર વૈકુંઠ વાસ, દાસ તુમ્હારો વિનવે રે, ભલે આવ્યા પરિબ્રહ્મરાય, સમર્થ ધણી સંતે સેવ્યો રે.

hari gher gher vai-kuṅth vās, dās tum-hāro vinave re, bhale āvyā pari-brahma-rāy, samarth dhani saṅte sevyo re, 10

Your devout disciple pleads with you, O' God, to grant shelter in the heavenly abode. Since, the true disciple has always remained attached to the Ultimate Divinity; he has no reservations of receiving Brahma who has come to take him to the ultimate heavens.

દોહરો (doharo)

આદિ અનાદી એક તું, સ્થાવર જંગમ તારૂં નામ.

તું અમર ને તારૂં નામ, સકલ વૈષ્ણવને પ્રણામ.

ādi anādi eka tuṅ, sthāvar jaṅgam tāru nām tuṅ amar ne tāru nām, sakal vaishnav-ne pranām

Couplet

You are the most primordial, eternal, omni-present; omni-mobile is your name. You and your name, both are immortal and thus all those who worship Vishnu are proffered obeisance.

13. Mere Piyu To Base Re Agam-puri ॥ મેરે પિયુ તો બસે રે અગમપુરી

Nādbrahma pada 41 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૧

મેરે પિયુ તો બસે રે અગમપુરી, મિલના કૈસે હોય ... ટેક mere piyu to base re agam-puri, mila-nā ka-i-se hoy … repeat

My dear one, my beloved god, stays in an unknown land, Oh' how can I meet him.

હાંજી ઢૂંઢત ઢૂંઢત મેં જરજર્યાં, ખેવટ મત બાલ;

વ્રેહ રૂપી નદીઓ વહે, કિસબિધ ઉતરું પાર ... ૧

hāňji DhuňDhat DhuňDhat meň jar-jarya, khevat mat bāl vreh rupi nadi-o vahe, kisa-bidha utaru pār … 1
I spent life searching in forests, but O' Boatsman, stop burning my heart;
Several rivers separating us gush around, how to cross over them.

હાંજી પત્તિયાં લખી લખી ભેજતી, કોઈ ન કહે રે સંદેશ;

Lovelorn letters were sent, but his message remained distant dream,
Where is the place, where my dear dwells, where is that realm.

પાપ પુન્ય દોઉં વાણી, વિષયા લગી રે બજાર;

કેતેક સોદા કર ગયે, કેતેક આવનહાર ... ૩ pap punya do-uň vāni, vishayā lagi re bajār ketek sodā kar gaye, ketek āvan-hār … 3

All those talks of good and evil, seems like wordy business futile,
What a deal you've made, that I yearn to see you come around.

કહે કબીર સુનો સાધુઓ, સબ મિલિ કરો વિચાર;

Kabir's devotional verses have always imparted inspirational teachings on ways to live life that takes one from virtuous living to spiritual enlightenment.

14. Jone Vichāri Tuň Jivadā ॥ જોને વિચારી તું જીવડા

Nādbrahma pada 44 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૪

જોને વિચારી તું જીવડા, શા સુખમેં મોહી રહ્યોજી ... ટેક

jone vichāri tuň jivadā, shā sukh-meň mohi rahyo-ji ... repeat Addressing the soul of a man, Kabir asks to think about the life and one's pursuit of illusionary happiness.

આવ્યો ત્યારે તું એકલો, જાતાં એકલો જાવુંજી;

વચમેં સંબંધ શા કામના, માયા જાળમેં બંધાયોજી ... ૧ āvyo tyāre tuň ekalo, jātā ekalo jāvu-ji vach-meň sambaňdh shā kām-nā, māyā jāl-meň baňdhā-yo-ji ... 1

You have come to life just alone, and ultimately, you would depart from this world alone. Then why have you engulfed yourself in this web of worldly relations, which are not going to last beyond this world? Why have you blinded and bounded yourself with illusions?

મારૂં મારૂં શું કરી રહ્યો, નહિ મળે તારું તનજી;

જૂઠા રે પુત્ર ને પ્રેમદા, જૂઠો ભવનો ભંડારજી ... ૨ māru māru shuň kari rahyo, nahi male tāru tana-ji juthā re putra ne premadā, jutho bhav-no bhandāra-ji ... 2

Why are crazily repeating "this is my; that is my", whereas, when the time to leave this life arrives, you will not be able to take your body, that you adore and love so much, along with you. All so called relations of son or wife are mere illusions and temporal and thus the entire worldly bonds are nothing but falsity that has blinded our conscience.

ધન રે મળ્યાનો ધર્મ એ જ છે, જે કાંઇ હાથે વપરાયજી;

અંત સમે સહુ મેલી જાશે, પલમેં થશે પરાયોજી ... ૩ dhan re malyā-no dharma e ja chhe, je kāň-ii hāthe vap-rāy-ji aňt same sahu mEli jāshe, pal-meň thashe parāyo-ji ... 3

The basic of tenet of creation of wealth is to spend it, instead of amassing and accumulating it. Advising on virtue of charity and spending on noble causes, Kabir says, you will have to leave all your wealth and properties behind you, which will be owned by some other, the moment you shut your eyes for last.

જમ રે જોરાવર લઇ જશે, મેલશે ચોરાશીમેં ઠેલીજી;

દારૂણ દુઃખ જન્મ મરણનું, ત્યાં કોણ તારો બેલીજી ... ૪ jam re jorā-var la-ii jashe, mElashe chorāshi-meň theli-ji dārun dukh janma maran-nu, tyāň kon tāro beli-ji ... 4

When the mighty death gods drags you away from this world, and hurl you into the cycle of eighty-four lakhs lives that a soul has to endure, who would be your savior or who could alleviate from the pangs of birth and deaths, life after life?

સાચું સગપણ હરિગુરૂ સંતનું, જીવને જાલમેંથી કાઢેજી;

સુખ રે આપીને દુઃખ દૂર કરે, પરિબ્રહ્મને ભેટાવેજી ... ૫

sukh re āpi-ne dukh dur kare, pari-brahma-ne bhetāve-ji ... 5 Having described how worldly bonds are deceptive and illusory, Kabir kindly offers an ultimate solution. The worthy relation is that of a saintly spiritual teacher, who only can extricate the soul from the web of worldly attachments. True Guru provides sublime happiness and frees the soul from angst and tormenting sorrows borne out of mundane worldly relations, and thus leads it on the spiritual path of attaining ultimate salvation.

માની શકે તો માનજે, લેવો મનષાનો લ્હાવોજી; māni shake to mān-je, levo manashā-no lahāvo-ji dās kabir sāchu kahe, fari nahiň male āvo dāv-ji ... 6

Subservient to God, saint Kabir says, if you can believe on these words of wisdom, do follow them, and make the best of your life as a human being, else, you will never ever get such a golden opportunity to realize the ultimate truth and attain deliverance.

15. Māru Man Mānyu Ramatā Rām Shuň ॥ મારું મન માન્યું રમતા રામ શું

Detached from the worldly passions, when one devotes attention at Ram and worshiping the Supreme Creator, there shall be no hindrance on the spiritual path and one can fathom the distance to spiritual attainment with sublime joy.

On the bank of confluence of three rivers - (e.g. Ganga, Jamuna and Sarswati) the Moon and the Sun chose each other for marriage. Through this symbolic reference to the meeting of soul (Sun) and mind (Moon) on the confluence rivers (i.e. a group of the three tubular vessels - Ida, Pingla and Sushumna) Kabir explains that, when soul and mind are unified within the human body consisting of these three tubular vessels, divine light shines within and no obstacle is caused in spiritual pursuit.

And as the soul and mind of spiritual seeker have become one, seeker is spiritually elevated to that realm where emanates just one self-originating sound heard by the yogis or mystics. With such ultimate attainment, Saint Kabir feels himself liberated of all fears and finds himself in steady meditation of the Supreme Divine.

Why are you lost in thoughts of relations - as to whom the children or who owns the calves, or who is whose father or mother; at last, when the time arrives for leaving this life behind, there shall be none to accompany on a path beyond this life. Ultimately, only the merits of your righteous and meritorious deeds or evil Karma shall count.

As one reaches the end of life, it is believed that one reaches a line dividing life and death, demarcated by a legendry river - Vaitarni. One has to cross over this river and transcend on to the path beyond the life. Not even water to satiate your thirst will be available, hence take along, whatever you will need to reach the divine abode.

What are all those things that one needs to take along on the journey beyond life? Kabir Saheb's list is simple. Take along enough stock of virtuous and righteous deeds or Karma along, and also take along with you remembrance of God. And when you have so much with you on the ultimate path, Kabir Ji says, the Supreme Saheb will grant you a place in his spiritual realm.

It will be pity if a single individual of a family is not devoted to spirituality or does not believe in the Supreme Divine. It will be a matter of terrible shame and disgrace for the entire family. We see around us several people with dual standards - outwardly noble, but inwardly immoral. With changing attitude they always sing different tunes. How can one expect salvation, when no attempt was made for spending time with saints and sages? Such careless people are just tugged away by god of death. Kabir says such people are thus ultimately destined to go once again through cycle of birth and death of eighty-four hundred thousand species of living beings.

Shri Yogeshvarji says, when Mother destiny smiles on a man, Guru appears before his disciple, and if luck favors than the Guru could be recognized, gain benefit, and receive ordainment and ultimately attain emancipation of soul.

Having received an honor of welcoming Guru, joyous disciples ritually perform Aarti. For the disciple their Guru is Hari - God incarnate. Then the place even if an ordinary house, which is graced by the Guru, turns into a temple. Human mind is such that, when one is graced by happier times by the grace of God, one wants to make the most of it. So do the disciples too, want to make the most of divine presence of the Guru.

It is believed wherever the Saints dwell, wherever they go, those places become pilgrimages. You need not go from one pilgrimage to another to find ultimate realization. Just seek out grace of enlightened Guru, at whose feet where auspiciousness of millions of pilgrimages and the riverbanks of Ganga, Jamuna and Reva. Doubtlessly absolutely enlightened Guru is truly an incarnate of Lord who is the savior of all the three worlds.

An abode of enlightened Guru is like a gloriously embellished palace, a decorated temple. We might be simply delighted by the outer beauty of such forms, but true, ultimate is pleasure, a divine joy is experienced when you enter within. Here, "within" refers to the depths of our soul. By God's grace you will be able to envision other disciples as forms of divinity.

The worldly calamities do not shake or shatter a virtuously inclined person even when the world around him is full of chaos and when most of the people strive to seek momentary psychological relief by resorting to religious acts like visiting temples, adorning garlands of Rudraksha or Tulsi, performing Yajna (holy fire) or abstaining from taking foods. Great enlightened sages have observed such actions as futile attempt to seek grace of the Supreme Divine and remedy for the adversities and calamities, which are actually engineered by the man itself.

As a matter of fact, the root cause of our worldly problems lies within us, deeper within our conscience. Only those who are spiritually devoted or ensure their Karmas are righteous manage to keep their neck out of the troubled waters. The actual cause of manmade maladies lie within the man, as a cause of physical illness is known to be within the human body, which could be cured by proper diagnosis and treatment.

There are times when an individual, bewildered by adversities and calamities holds up hands beseeching divine intervention as a remedy for his worldly problems. When someone falls sick, a physician holds his or her wrist to check pulse and diagnose the extent of illness. When a realizations downs on an individual engulfed by worldly problems, most of which are self-created, wise devout individual pray the God to absolve them from their misery. In the initial stage of spiritual practice, at times a seeker is filled with self-doubts, and pleads God to hold his hand and check his spiritual pulse, so as proper remedy could be found for his anguish.

19. Māri Nād Tamāre Hāth ॥ મારી નાડ તમારે હાથ

muj-ne potā-no jāni-ne, prabhu-pad pālajo re ! ... repeat

The Bhajan begins with such a plea by an individual on the spiritual path, yet confused by worldly torments pleading God to hold his hand. He prays God to consider him to be his own essence and elevate him from the quagmire of worldly murkiness, and ultimately grant a place in His spiritual realm.

પથ્યાપથ્ય નથી સમજાતું, દુઃખ સદૈવ રહે ઉભરાતું, pathyā-pathya nathi samjātuň, dukh sadaiv rahe ubhrātuň, mane hashe shuň thātuň nāth nihālajo re ! ... 1

Indecisive about avoidable and unavoidable ways in his quest to seek divine mercy the devout lost amidst different theories and ways of attaining spiritual calm complains of ever flooding anguishing thoughts pulsating within his heart. Unable to put his finger on actual cause of his confusion, the devout plead God to find cause of his anxiousness!

અનાદિ આપ વૈદ્ય છો સાચા, કોઇ ઉપાય વિશે નહિ કાચા,

દિવસ રહ્યા છે ટાંચા વેળા વાળજો રે ! ... ૨

Since time immemorial you have been the true medic - the spiritual healer - who has the remedy of all ailments inflicting the humanity at large. None in this world is sure of longevity. Saint Kabirdas Ji has reflected –

कहा भरोसा देह, बिनसी जाय छिन मांहि ।
सांस सांस सुमिरन करो और जतन कछु नाहिं ।।

What is the certainty about this body? Any time, it may get destroyed, which means, none is certain what may happen in a fraction of second. Ponder over this thought and meditate upon the teachings of the Satguru. That is the only recourse to connect the soul with the Supreme Soul!

The poet says, not much time is left, hence, pleads with God to make the most of the time, whatever is left to live.

વિશ્વેશ્વર શું હજી વિચારો, બાજી હાથ છતાં કાં હારો ?

મહા મૂંઝારો મારો, નટવર ટાળજો રે ! ... ૩ vishveshvar shuň haji vichāro, bāji hāth chhatā kaň hāro ?

mahā muňjhāro māro, natvar tālajo re ! ... 3

The devout poet has been worshiping God for a long time. Yet, he feels the ray of divine grace still seems to eluding him. Desperately he can't stop asking, "O' the Lord of the Universe! I have come to you seeking your benevolence. What are you still thinking?' The poet seems to be asking himself, when the game is in your favor, why should you be losing it?

That's the thought baffling me, but My Lord! Natvar, relieve of my anxiety.

કેશવ હરિ મારું શું થાશે ? ઘાણ વળ્યો શું ગઢ ઘેરાશે !

લાજ તમારી જાશે, ભૂધર ભાળજો રે ! ... ૪

lāj tamāri jāshe, bhudhar bhālajo re ! ... 4

The poet is perplexed and wonders what would happen to him? Pondering over the swarming thoughts of setback and miseries enveloping his conscience, the poet is worried of its devastation in face of the adversities on the spiritual path. Sounding a admonitory note, the poet says, God, if I lose my fight against the worldly anomalies, your reputation as a savior will be lost and tarnished. The poet implores, "O' God, the Lord of this Universe, please ensure to take care of me till my last breath!

The mind is crowded with the thoughts of limitless samsara—affairs and happenings in the outside world. Concentration of the mind is impossible until all those thoughts are put out.

Finding the mind in such a state, Kabir Saheb asks...

How could I explain you, my mind?

1. Were you like gold, I could have asked for Suhaga (Borax) and placed you in it and blowing through a curved (Vanknali) tube, melted you like water, and then I could give a desired shape.

2. And my mind, were you like a stallion. I could have bridled you, and tightened saddle on your back, and then riding on your back restraining you with a whip, I could have made you tread on the desired spiritual path.

3. And were you like an elephant, I might have chained you and even shackled your legs. Then sitting astride you like a Mahout (elephant driver), I might have made you run on preferred path using an elephant goad (Ankush).

4. Were you, my mind, a piece of iron, I could have turned you flaming red hot. Then I could have asked for an anvil to be brought and hammered you to turned you into a thin wire.

5. In case you were intelligent (Jnani), I could impart spiritual knowledge to you and guide you on path of truth. Kabir Saheb, at last says, and by treading the spiritual path to acquire spiritual enlightenment, taking recourse to the path of Truth, you could be made to reach the ultimate state of immortality.

0. This is a bhajan sung by Surdas. Singing in praise of pure unadulterated love, Surdas says bonds of love are strongest in the world. In fact, god is never pleased by mock offerings of fruits, flowers or variety of eatables. What the Supreme Soul expects from his disciple, is true unadulterated love.

Before the great battle of Mahabharat, Shri Krishna went to Duryodhan as mediator to develop amity between Kaurav and Pandav brothers. When Duryodhan invited Shri Krishna to be his guest and join him for royal dinner, Krishna declined the invitation, as there was no love in Duryodhan's gesture. On the other hand, he accepted to stay at humble and pious Vidur's hut and eat plain vegetables and khichdi.

1. Driven by devout love of old lady Shabari, Ram ate already tasted ber fruits offered to them, during their 14-years stay in forests. Although, Shri Krishna was a ruler of Dwarika, driven by love, he didn't hesitate to serve his loved ones and bestowed divinity on the one, who loved him.

2. During the Rajsuya Yajna performed by Yudhishthir, Shri Krishna voluntarily picked up patal (plates made from leaves) after the saints and guests finished their meals. And driven by love for his disciple and friend, Arjun, he accepted to be his charioteer and forgot that he was a ruler of Dwarika.

3. He showered such love on cowherd men and women (Gopi) of in Vrindavan that they used to dance to the lilting tunes of his flute. Concluding the last stanza, Surdas considering himself a nasty man, says, I can go on singing in praise of Shri Krishna, the incarnation of love.

Wondering at the marvel of God, Saint Kabir sings,

0. Coalescing five elements[1] & Fortified with three qualities[2], Grand bungalow is made, resounding with sounds divine;
Soft bristling shading this is the home of Supreme Divine.

1. A wondrous edifice of ten doors with hollow airy pole within,
How amazing is that traversing thin air out & in, keeps it alive.

2. Several[3] volitions dance like lasses on the rhythmic waves of mind, Soul & Spirit[4] throb like drums, on moving melodies, thirty-six[5] in all.

3. Kabir says, O' man, you've beautified your bungalow, own self, Divinity dwells within it, who has always been your creator divine.

ghuňghat-kā pat khol re, toko piva mileňge, ghuňghat-kā pat khol ghat ghat-meň vah sāň-ii ramatā, katuk vachan mat bol re ... repeat Lift veil off your face and, you'll meet your lover divine; lift off your veil...
Your Sai dwells in every being, don't utter bitter words.

ધન જોબનકો ગર્વ ન કીજૈ, જૂઠા પચરંગ ચોલ રે;

સુન્ન મહલમેં દિયના બારિ લે, આસન સોં મત ડોલ રે ... ૧ dhan joban-ko garva na kije, juthā pach-raňg chol re su-n-na mahal-meň diya-nā bāri le, āsan soň mat dol re ... 1

Shun pride of your wealth, youthful health, your body of five elements is mortal, Light up a lamp in dark desolated palace, don't move off your seat.

જાગ જુગતસોં રંગ મહલમેં, પિય પાયો અનમોલ રે;

કહૈ કબીર આનંદ ભયો હૈ, બાજત અનહદ ઢોલ રે ... ૨ jāg jugat-soň raňg mahal-meň, piya pāyo ana-mol re kahe kabir ānaňd bhayo hai, bājat ana-had Dhol re ... 2

Wake-up from trickery of pleasure-house, now that you've found your lover divine, Kabir says, joy of enlightenment is attained, sounds of drumming soul are heard.

પચરંગ ચોલ (pach-raňg chol) = our body made of five elements

સુન્ન મહલ (su-n-na mahal) = soul filled with ignorance

અનહદ ઢોલ (ana-had Dhol) = voice of soul that reverberates without striking

જુગત (jugat) = trickery

રંગ મહલ (raňg mahal) = pleasure-house, worldly pleasures

24. Guru Binā Ka-u-n Batāve Bāt ॥ ગુરુ બિના કૌન બતાવે બાટ

Nādbrahma pada 75 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૫

ગુરુ બિના કૌન બતાવે બાટ, બડા વિકટ યમઘાટ ... ટેક

guru binā ka-u-n batāve bāt, badā vikat yam-ghāt ... repeat Path of spiritual pursuit is full of difficulties. Who else can show us the correct path? Certainly, life on the brink of death (yam-ghāt) is treacherous.

ભ્રાંતિ કી પહાડી નદિયાં બિચમોં, અહંકારકી લાટ ... ૧

bhrānti ki pahādi nadiyā bichamoň, ahaňkār-ki lāt ... 1
The spiritual path is full of illusions symbolized by mountains and hills, and in between a span of egotism lies.

કામ ક્રોધ દો પર્વત ગઢે, લોભ ચોર સંઘાત ... ૨

kām krodh do parvat ghadhe, lobh chor sanghat ... 2
Two great mountains of passion and anger are on the way. And added to that is greed as a thief lurking on the path.

મદ મત્સરકા મેહ બરસત, માયા પવન બહે દાટ ... ૩ mad matsar-kā meh barasat, māyā pavan bahe dāt ... 3

Arrogance and jealousy are showering like incessant rains, while nasty winds of delusion (Maya) are blowing mightily.

કહત કબીર સુનો ભાઇ સાધો, ક્યોં તરના યહ ઘાટ ... ૪

kahat kabir suno bhā-ii sādho, kyoň taranā yah ghāt ... 4
Kabir calling upon the seekers of spiritual enlightenment to seek Guru's refuge, else the turning points on this path are difficult to surmount.

The great mystic poet and saint, Kabir was a weaver. In his poems, fondly referred to as Bhajans, he used to weave tenets of philosophy and spiritualism, which could be easily understood by laymen singing his Bhajans. One such great and popular Bhajan is "Jhini Jhini Bini Chadariya".

25. Jhini Jhini Bini, Chadariyā ॥ ઝીની ઝીની બિની, ચદરિયાં

Nādbrahma pada 76 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૬

ઝીની ઝીની બિની, ચદરિયાં, ઝીની ઝીની બિની;

jhini jhini bini, chadariyā, jhini jhini bini
A fine wrap-cloth is woven. (Here the wrap-cloth refers to the physical form surrounding the soul within.)

કાહે કૈ તાના, કાહે કૈ ભરની, કૌન તારસે બિની;

ઇંગલા પીંગલા તાના ભરની, સુષમન તારસે બિની ... ૧ kāhe ke tānā, kāhe ke bharani, ka-u-na tār-se bini iňgalā piňgalā tānā bharani, susha-man tār-se bini ... 1

It is a mystery by which warp and woof it is woven, Ingla - Pingla are the Warps and Sushumna is Woof

આઠ કંવલ દલ ચરખા ડોલૈ, પાંચ તત્વ ગુન તિની;

સાંઈકો સિયત, માસ દસ લાગે, ઠોક ઠોક કે બિની ... ૨

āth kaňval dal charakhā dole, pāňch tatva gun tini sāň-ii-ko siyat, mās das lāge, thok thok ke bini ... 2 Mingled with three gunas as the pattern Assiduously the Lord took ten months to weave
This body of eight-petal lotus & five tatvas

સો ચાદર સુર નર મુનિ ઓઢી, ઓઢી કે મૈલી કીની;

દાસ કબીર જતનસે ઓઢી, જ્યોંકી ત્યોં ધરિ દીની ... ૩

so chādar sur nar muni oDhi, oDhi ke meli kini dās kabir jatan-se oDhi, jyoň-ki tyoň dhari dini ... 3
Such a wrap-cloth when used by common men and saints alike, but some of them dirtied it, while Kabir used it caringly and left it as it was, unblemished.

Eight-petal lotus = Eight virtues (1. compassion, 2. forgiveness, 2. absence of envy, 4. purity, 5. absence of exertion, 6. auspiciousness, 7. absence of meanness and 8. absence of covetousness)

Three Gunas = Sattva, Rajas and Tamas

Five Tattva = Five objects of sense - mind, intellect, ego, prakriti and purusha (soul)

26. Eka Ja De Chin-gāri Mahā-nal ! ॥ એક જ દે ચિનગારી મહાનલ !

Nādbrahma pada 76 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૬

એક જ દે ચિનગારી મહાનલ ! એક જ દે ચિનગારી;

eka ja de chin-gāri mahā-nal ! eka ja de chin-gāri
Just give me one spark of your divine light, O' holy source of fire!

ચકમક લોઢું ઘસતાં ઘસતાં, ખરચી જિંદગી સારી;

જામગરીમાં તણખો ન પડ્યો, ન ફળી મહેનત મારી ... ૧

chak-mak loDhuň ghasatā ghasatā, kharachi jiňdagi sāri jāmagari-māň tanakho na padyo, na fali mahenat māri ... 1
My entire life is spent in rubbing iron and flint stone, but no spark fell on the squib, and all my efforts are wasted.

ચાંદો સળગ્યો સૂરજ સળગ્યો, સળગી આભ અટારી;

ના સળગી એક સગડી મારી, વાત વિપતની ભારી ... ૨ chāňdo salagyo, suraj salagyo, salagi ābh atāri nā salagi eka sagadi māri, vāt vipat-ni bhāri ... 2

Moon and Sun are glowing bright, and entire skyline fiery bright, but my fire-pan couldn't get ignited, thus I'm engulfed with torments.

ઠંડીમાં મુજ કાયા થથરે, ખૂટી ધીરજ મારી;

વિશ્વાનલ ! હું અધિક ન માગું,માગું એક ચિનગારી ... ૩ thaňdi-māň muj kāyā thathare, khuti dhiraj māri vishvā-nal huň adhik na māguň, māguň eka chin-gāri ... 3 Cold ignorance shakes me, as I've lost my patience;

O' Divine source of fire, I don't want anything, but just a spark.

મહાનલ = મોટો અનલ-અગ્નિ; પરમાત્મા

વિશ્વાનલ = વિશ્વાધાર અનલ કે અગ્નિરૂપી પરમાત્મા

ચિનગારી (chin-gāri) = spark of spiritual enlightenment

જામગરી (jāmagari) = soul

27. Junu To Thayu Re Deval ॥ જૂનું તો થયું રે દેવળ

Nādbrahma pada 88 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૮

જૂનું તો થયું રે દેવળ જૂનું તો થયું, મારો હંસલો નાનો ને દેવળ જૂનું તો થયું ... ટેક junu to thayu re deval junu to thayu, māro haňsalo nāno ne deval junu to thayu ... repeat

Now this temple has become old and dilapidated. The soul within is still young, but the temples has become old. In fact, spiritual treatise says that, only the body gets older, but the soul remains unchanged and unaffected.

આ રે કાયા રે હંસા, ડોલવાને લાગી રે, પડી ગયા દાંત, માંયલી રેખું તો રહ્યું ... ૧

ā re kāyā re haňsā, dolavā-ne lāgi re, padi gayā dāňt, māyali rekhu to rahyu ... 1
The body has become so old that, it has begun to tremble. The teeth too, have fallen and what has remained is just blank cavity of toothless gums.

તારે ને મારે હંસા, પ્રીત્યું બંધાણી રે, ઉડી ગયો હંસ, પિંજર પડી રે રહ્યું ... ૨ tāre ne māre haňsa, prityu baňdhāni re, udi gayo haňsa, piňjar padi re rahyu ... 2

Saint Meera, explaining futility of worldly relations says, a bond of love between an individual and soul has been strengthened. But an individual does not know that such bond is transitory. And when the soul leaves the body or escapes, what remains behind is cage-like body.

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ, ગિરિધરના ગુણ, પ્રેમનો પ્યાલો તમને પાઉં ને પીવું ... ૩ bā-ii mirā kahe prabhu, giri-dhar-nā gun, prem-no pyālo tam-ne pa-uň ne pivu ... 3

Singing in praise of Bhagwan Giridhar, Saint Meerabai says, only true spiritual accomplishment lies in worshiping the Supreme divinity with absolute love.

28. Bol Mā, Bol Mā, Bol Mā Re ॥ બોલ મા, બોલ મા, બોલ મા રે

Nādbrahma pada 89 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૯

બોલ મા, બોલ મા, બોલ મા રે, રાધા કૃષ્ણ વિના બીજું બોલ મા રે

bol mā, bol mā, bol mā re, rādhā krishnā vinā biju bol mā re Chant not anything else, O' soul, except Radha - Krishna!

સાકર શેરડીનો સ્વાદ તજીને, કડવો તે લીમડો ઘોળ મા રે ચાંદા સૂરજનું તેજ તજીને, આગીયા સંગ પ્રીત જોડ મા રે ... ૧ sākar sheradi-no svād taji-ne, kadavo te limado ghol mā re chāňdā suraj-nu tej taji-ne, āgiyā saňg prit jod mā re ... 1

Shun not nectar of sugary sugarcane; mix not bitterly Nimba;
Avoiding light of moon-n--sun, avoid falling in love of glow-worm.

હીરા, માણેક, ઝવેર તજીને, કથીર સંગાથે મણિ તોલ મા રે બાઈ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરધર નાગર, શરીર આપ્યું સમતોલમાં રે ... ૨ hirā, mānek, jhaver taji-ne, kathir saňgāthe mani tol mā re bā-ii mirā kahe prabhu giri-dhar nāgar, sharir āpyu sam-tol-māň re ... 2 Throwing away jewels and diamonds, equalize not zinc with gold; Stability of human form is in for worship, says Meerabai, the saint.

29. Nahi Re Visāru Hari ॥ નહિ રે વિસારું હરિ

Nādbrahma pada 91 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૯૧

નહિ રે વિસારું હરિ, અંતરમાંથી નહિ રે વિસારું હરિ.

nahi re visāru hari, antar-ma-thi nahi re visāru hari

Pious devotional singer and saint Meerabai avows not forget Hari - her ardently loved Shri Krishna from her mind.

જલ જમુનાનાં પાણી રે જાતાં, શિર પર મટકી ધરી,

આવતાં ને જાતાં મારગ વચ્ચે, અમૂલખ વસ્તુ જડી ... ૧ jal jamunā-nā pāni re jātā, shir par mataki dhari āvtā ne jātā mārag vachche, amulakh vastu jadi ... 1

Frequenting the river bank of River Jamuna to fetch water with an earthen pot placed on her head, she is said to have found the most valuable thing. What is that precious thing she found? Incessant chant of the name of God, proves futile, unless it is uttered with utmost love and devotion combined with virtuous deeds. If the God decides to shower grace on his devotee, it may come as something precious, unexpectedly found while treading the path of life!

પીળાં પિતાંબર જરકશી જામા, કેસર આડ કરી ... ૨

āvtā ne jātā vrundā re van-mā, charan tamāre padi pilā pitāmbar jarkashi jāmā, kesar ād kari ... 2

While passing through the forest of Vrunda (Tulsi - Basil) Meera used to visualize the presence of Lord Krishna in the forest as she fervently falls to the visualized image of the Lord attired in yellow dress woven with gold threads, with saffron Tilak on forehead.

મોરમુગટ ને કાને રે કુંડલ, મુખ પર મોરલી ધરી

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરધરનાં ગુણ, વિઠ્ઠલ વરને વરી ... ૩

mor-mugat ne kāne re kundal, mukh par morali dhari bāi mirā kahe prabhu girdhar-na gun, viththal var-ne vari ... 3

Visualizing the image of Lord Krishna, Saint and poet Meerabai describes, splendorous charm of Krishna adorned with a throne embellished with Peacock feather, earring on the ears (even in modern times, Hindu males customarily and ritualistically adorn earrings) and with flute placed over his lips. Singing the virtues of Lord Krishna alias Vitthal or Girdhar, Meerabai, declares she is married to her beloved deity, Lord Krishna.

30. Maňgal Maňdir Kholo ॥ મંગલ મંદિર ખોલો

Nādbrahma pada 95 ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૯૫

મંગલ મંદિર ખોલો દયામય, મંગલ મંદિર ખોલો ... ટેક

maňgal maňdir kholo dayā-may, maňgal maňdir kholo ... repeat
At one point of time in spiritual pursuit, a devotee senses that he has reached the pinnacle of accessing divine grace. But as a saintly being rises to greater heights on the spiritual path, he does not demand reward for his efforts. Rather he requests the Supreme Almighty to kindly open the doors of the heavenly realm and let him in.

જીવન વન અતિ વેગે વટાવ્યું, દ્વાર ઊભો શિશુ ભોળો ... ૧

jivan van ati vege vatāvyu, dvār ubho shishu bholo ... 1
Although we all wade through our social or worldly affairs with befitting prowess and maturity, but at the end of the spiritual journey, the soul is as naive as a child.

તિમિર ગયું ને જ્યોતિ પ્રકાશ્યો, શિશુને ઉરમાં લ્યો લ્યો ... ૨ timir gayu ne jyoti prakāsh-yo, shishu-ne ur-māň lyo lyo ... 2

In the second stanza the poet describes entire life spent on pursuing worldly pleasures as the darkest nights of ignorance. At last, when the soul realizes futility of the life spent on worldly pursuits, a divine light is perceived within. In the divine light the seeker realizes his smallness that is akin to a child before divine greatness.

નામ મધુર તમ રટયો નિરંતર, શિશુ સહ પ્રેમે બોલો ... ૩

nām madhur tam ratyo niraňtar, shishu sah preme bolo ... 3
As the devout seeker realizes true essence of Supreme Divinity and begins chanting God's name incessantly with utmost love for god, attainment of realization of supreme divinity becomes possible and a place in the spiritual realm is assured.

દિવ્ય તૃષાતુર આવ્યો બાળક, પ્રેમ અમીરસ ઢોળો ... ૪

divya trushā-tur āvyo bālak, prem ami-ras Dholo ... 4
At last, the poet pleading God says, I have come to your doorstep of divine realm and I am thirsty for the elixir of your grace. Please pour the divine elixir in my extended palms, drinking which I may attain emancipation.

31. Ātalo Saňdesho Mārā ॥ આટલો સંદેશો મારા સદ્‌ગુરૂને કહેજો

આટલો સંદેશો મારા સદ્‌ગુરૂને કહેજો, dharma-dās-ni araji suno re gosā-ii bhakti-ne mukti am-ne dejo ... saňdesho mārā sad-guru-ne kahejo

An ardent devotee always remains engaged in seeking ways and means of attaining the grace of the Supreme Divine.

0. Dharmadas Ji, the poet, pleads for conveying just a small message to the spiritually enlightened Guru to remain within his heart and soul. In fact, an enlightened Guru is just an image of the Supreme Divinity.

1. This body, which is your temple, seems very frail. Poet pleads for keeping his faith intact until the time comes for relinquishing this mortal life. The devout just wants, this small message be conveyed to the enlightened Guru.

2. And after the soul leave this body, kindly let me know, in which realm it shall dwell. The devout seeker wants just this message to be conveyed to his enlightened Guru.

3. I cannot perceive your spiritual image. Do enable me to perceive and realize your spiritual image. Just convey this message to the Supreme Divinity, through my saintly Guru.

4. Please bless our soul that you dwell within my heart through birth after birth. Bless me with such attitude that I always hold your divine image within my soul. This message is to be conveyed to my saintly Guru.

5. Dharmadas Ji beseeches, O' God, please listen to my pleas for eternal devotion and ultimate emancipation or freedom from the shackles of the chain of life after death and then again death. Just convey this message to my Guru.

32. Hari-nām Hirā Kaňchan Prem Jadyo Hai ॥ હરિનામ હીરા કંચન પ્રેમ જડ્યો હૈ

Nādbrahma pada 143, Rāga: Kānado ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૪૩, રાગ - કાનડો

હરિનામ હીરા કંચન પ્રેમ જડ્યો હૈ;

જંગમ ઘાટ હરિનામ જરાનો, દેખી ચોર અજ્ઞાન ટળ્યો હૈ;

કહે કબીર એ નિગમ અગોચર, ભક્ત હેત રસનાએ ઉચર્યો હૈ ... ૨ jaňgam ghāt hari-nām jarāno, dekhi chor a-gnān talyo hai kahe kabir e nigam ago-char, bhakta het rasanā-e u-charyo hai ... 2

હરિ નામ હીરા કંચન પ્રેમ જડ્યો હૈ

સતગુરુ શબ્દ શ્રવણે સુનકર, દૃઢકર હૃદયે બનાઈ ધર્યો હૈ - ટેક

Having realized chanting the name of Supreme Almighty as much valuable as a wealth comprising of valuables like gold, diamonds, a devotee discovers true love in devotion for the Supreme Divinity. Ever since the divine words uttered by the holy Guru have been heard and entered within, those have been firmly embedded within the heart.

ચશ્મા જ્ઞાન, વિવેક જ રહેણી, ચિત્ત ચંદન ચોંટ્યો, ન ટળ્યો હૈ

આસપાસ પ્રતીત પીરેજા, બુધ્ધિ ચુની લે પાટ પડ્યો હૈ - ૧

Supremely delightful mix of knowledge and conscientiousness has been smeared on the forehead that does not fade at all. This means, when realization and awareness about essence of the Supreme Divinity sets within our consciousness, it does not get obliterated. As the presence of the Supreme Divinity is realized all around us, the intellect does not approve of anything else.

જંગમ ઘાટ હરિનામ, જરાનો દેખી ચોર અજ્ઞાન ટળ્યો હૈ

કહૈ કબીર એ નિગમ અગોચર, ભક્ત હેત રસનાએ ઉચર્યો હૈ - ૨

Having realized the significance of meditating over divine presence remaining within the worldly affairs, a devotee comes to realize its fickle and mortal nature. Such realization not only wipes out deep dark clouds of ignorance, but also inspires a devotee to chant the name of god with great reverence and that's how Kabir says, although, god is beyond physical comprehension and perception, nevertheless, the love for god, borne out of divine realization makes our tongue chant god's name.

For attainment of spiritual realization, Kabir shows a very simple and easy to follow method. Just chant the name of Rama.

33. Rām-nām Jab Liyo Man Teň ॥ રામનામ જબ લીયો મન તેં

Nādbrahma pada 144, Rāga: Kānado ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૪૪, રાગ - કાનડો

રામનામ જબ લીયો મન તેં;

યોગ યજ્ઞ જપ તપ વ્રત તીર્થ, સકલ સમર્પણ કિયો મન તેં ... ટેક rām-nām jab liyo man teň;

yog yagna jap tap vrat tirth, sakal samarpan kiyo man teň ... repeat Simplifying spiritual attainment process, Kabir says to his mind, if you are chanting Rama... Rama... it suffices your purpose of performing Yoga, Yajna, Chanting Mantra, performing penance, observing fast, visiting pilgrimages, or make sacrificial offerings.

જીવન જન્મ સફળતાકો, જેણે હરિ દૃઢ વ્રત લીયો મન તેં;

નિર્ભય ભયો પરમપદ પાયો, અમી મહારસ પીયો મન તેં ... ૧

nirbhay bhayo param-pada pāyo, ami mahā-ras piyo man teň ... 1
Life of such devout seeker is successful, who has firmly embedded the essence of the Supreme Divinity within his heart or mind. Only such spiritual seeker can find a place in the spiritual realm and he only can taste the divine elixir - the gift from the Supreme Divinity.

પીવત અમર ભયે સનકાદિક, શંકર પીવત લીયો મન તેં;

કહે કબીર કૃપા કરી મોં પે, દિનાનાથ દિયો મન તેં ... ૨ pivat amar bhaye sanakā-dik, shaňkar pivat liyo man teň;

kahe kabir krupā kari moň pe, dinā-nāth diyo man teň ... 2 Drinking such divine elixir of Spiritual Realization, Sage Shaunak and other seekers became immortal and even Shankar instituted spirituality within his mind. Conveying his gratitude, Kabir says, God has been utmost generous that he has been blessed with a mind, that holds the divine image of the Supreme Almighty.

 જીવન જન્મ સફલ તાકો જીને હરિ દૃઢ વ્રત લીયો મન તેં;

Every spiritual teacher and saint advise the devotees to leave their worries in the care of God and devote once attention towards performing one's responsibilities and offer prayers.

34. Kahāň Kami Jāko Rām-ji Dhani Ho ॥ કહાં કમી જાકો રામજી ધણી હો

કહાં કમી જાકો રામજી ધણી હો;

kahāň kami jāko rām-ji dhani ho;
manashā nāth mano-rath pure, sukh nidhān ki bāt dhani hai ... repeat Voicing this wisdom we are assured that, a devotee who has devoted oneself at worshiping Bhagwan Ram, does not have to worry for meeting his mundane needs. The God takes care of his disciples and provides him all comforts by which he can live his life.

કૌન કામ કલ્પિત કી માયા, કરત ફિરત અપની અપની હૈ;

ખાઇ ન શક્યો ખર્ચીએ ન જાણ્યું, જ્યાં ભોરીંગ શિર મણી રહેત હૈ ... ૧ ka-u-n kām kalpit ki māyā, karat firat apani apani hai;

khā-ii na shakyo kharchi-e na jānyu, jyāň bhoriňg shir mani rahet hai ... 1
However contrary to the above we all chase illusions and imaginative desires in futility and follow our mindless whims. Neither we ate well, nor learnt how to spend our wealth. And in doing so, we remain oblivious to the fact that, a precious jewel rests on the head of deadly dangerous snake, a symbolic representation of lowly passions. Only if we can avoid pitfalls on the spiritual path, we can possess that precious jewel, which represents realization of the Supreme Divinity.

શિવ વિરંચી જા કો પાર ન પાવે, મોહે બપરે કી કહાં ગણવા હૈ;

જા કી પ્રીત નિરંતર હરિ શું, કહે રોહીદાસ વાકી સદા બની હૈ ... ૨

shiv viraňchi jā ko pār na pāve, mohe bapare ki kahāň ganavā hai;

Saint Rohidas says that the process to attain ultimate salvation is full of complexities and great of Tantrik (followers of Shiv-Tantra) cannot fathom the path of pure spirituality. Saint Rohidas rightly says that he is not concerned with counting beads of a rosary. Rather, he points out at the end that, only those with pure thoughts and absolute love for god can fathom the spiritual path and attain a place in the Divine Realm.

35. Saňt Samā-gam Kije Re Bhā-ii ॥ સંત સમાગમ કીજે રે ભાઇ

સંત સમાગમ કીજે રે ભાઇ, સંત સમાગમ કીજે રે ભાઇ;

Expounding on the need to be in company of virtuous beings, the poet says, Brother, develop companionship or association with people of spiritual and saintly disposition. Who knows, whether knowingly or unknowingly, you get associated with an individual, who may enable you to attain spiritual realm? It is something like a piece of iron that turns into a chunk of gold by mere touch of a magical stone, called Parasmani.

ભાત ભાત બનરાઇ જો કહીએ, ભીન્ન ભીન્ન વા કો નામ ધરાઇ;

Association of saints is like a boat ride to fathom the ocean of life. One does not have to take risk of swimming across, if such a boat is available. Just chanting Ram's name and being in a company of pious saint is enough to attain salvation.

36. Hari-ko Bhajan Kar Ho Man Pyāre ॥ હરિ કો ભજન કર હો મન પ્યારે

હરિ કો ભજન કર હો મન પ્યારે, પ્રભુ કો ભજન કર હો મન પ્યારે;

O' my dear mind, sing in worship of god. When you have one tongue to chant the god's name, why should you lazy off in spiritual pursuit? There is no need to move thousands of rosaries to appease Supreme Divine.

જા કે શરણ પતિત ગત પામે, ગુણકા કુબ્જા વ્યાધ ઉદ્ધારે;

અધમ તરે અધિકાર ભજનસે, હરિ સુમરણ સઘળા અઘ જાયે ... ૧

Why should not you chant god's name, which has been instrumental in spiritual alleviation of fallen or sinful being? Chanting devotionally god's name, evil individuals like Gunka, Kubja and Vyadh could attain eventual deliverance. Only through devotional singing and chanting of god's name, spiritually fallen can righteously fathom across worldly ocean of passion and each one can attain by singing in praise of Supreme Divine.

અજામિલ સુત નામ ઉદ્ધારે, જલ ડુબત ગજગ્રાહ ઉગારે;

Ajamil, a Brahmin attained salvation by uttering the name of his son, Narayan, and when a massive crocodile, clutching a leg of an elephant, was to kill it, the elephant ardently remembered god and prayed to save his life. Lord Krishna, the incarnation of the Supreme Divinity, had made it possible for Putna and Banyar Bhil (Adivasi) to attain Nirvana, as they all uttered god's name with true devotion in the ultimate moments of their lives.

Let me first wash your feet, Rama. After I wash your feet, you may board my boat. This is because, just as your foot touched a rock, the rock was transformed as Ahilya. Now, if my boat, which is made of wood and is the only source of my livelihood is turned a woman, how can I survive. Just think of it.

He further cleverly asks, there is nothing wrong with you, but there is something in the dust of your feet that, if it touches anything, that turns into a woman. At last, agreeing to the pleas of the boatman, by divine grace of Rama, not only the boatman, but his entire clan elevated to the divine realm.

Realizing fickleness of mind, a devout spiritual seeker calls out for some enlightened being to placate the mind and guide it on the path of spiritual pursuit. The spiritual seeker does realize that the mind is as fickle as a greedy thief. Once it goes out of control, it is difficult restraining it.

જોડ જોડ ધન ઊંડા ઘાલે, જહાં કોઇ લેણા ન પાવે;

કાલ આયે જબ કંઠ ગ્રહેગો, સેનો સેનમેં બતાવે ... ૧

jod jod dhan uñdā ghāle, jahāñ ko-ii lenā na pāve kāl āye jab kañth grahego, seno sen-meñ batāve ... 1
Driven by such a mind, a man goes on hoarding wealth all through the life and goes on burying it away from prying eyes, from where none can get it. But one one of the morrows as death holds a man by neck, and stares down in eyes, futility of would be realized.

ખોટા દામ ગાંઠે લઇ ડોલે, હસી હસી વસ્તુ મૂલાવે;

બોયે બાંબુ આમ્રફલ ચાહે, સો ફલ હાથ ન આવે ... ૨

khotā dām gāñthe la-ii dole, hasi hasi vastu mulāve boye bāmbu, āmra-fal chāhe, so fal hāth na āve ... 2 Man revels in thoughts of possession of worthless wealth, and goes on happily evaluating worldly possessions. Having planted a Bamboo, one desire to have mango; same way, lured by worldly joys, how can one ever relish heavenly taste of the fruit of divine grace?

ગુરૂ પ્રતાપ સંત કી સંગત, મન વાંછિત ફલ પાવે;

jāt julāhā nām kabirā, harakhi nirakhi gun gāve ... 3
Lastly, realizing true worth of being in association with a Spiritual Teacher or a saintly being, one may expect to beget a desired fruit of self-realization. Seeing a seeker attaining the divine grace, Weaver Kabir says, everyone rejoice and sing in praise of Almighty.

40. Nirakh Parakh Guru Karanā Avadhu ॥ નીરખ પરખ ગુરુ કરના અવધુ

Nādbrahma pada 167, Rāga: Kalyān ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૬૭, રાગ - કલ્યાણ

નીરખ પરખ ગુરુ કરના અવધુ, નીરખ પરખ ગુરુ કરના;

અવધૂત નિરખ પરખ ગુરુ કરના,

તન, મન, કછૂ હાથ ન આવે, કાહેકો પચ મરના

0. Addressing a wandering ascetic, Kabir advises that one should select a spiritual teacher with due diligence and care. If we cannot get nothing at all from a Guru, which may nourish our body or mind, then what is the use of wasting time in pursuing such individual.

કાલ ન છૂટો, જંજાલ ન મેટો, ભયો ન મનકો સૂરા,

કુલ કા બાસ કરો મત કોઇ, જો ગુરુ મિલૈ ન પૂરો

1. In case, truly enlightened Guru cannot be found, one cannot attain ultimate liberation or salvation, and one cannot conquer over the evils like a chivalrous man. Don't stay back in the security and safety of your home, but set out in search of a Guru who is complete in all spiritual aspects.

અષ્ટ ધાતુકા પિંજરા બનાયા, તામેં જુગત કા સુવા

સતગુરુ મિલૈ તો કાલસે બાંચે ના તો રસૈ હુવા

2. The human form is akin to a cage made up of eight metals or elements and within that a parrot in the form of living element resides. Only if one gets in touch with truly virtuous Guru can one would be saved, else one would be totally destroyed.

કંદ્રપ રૂપ કાયકો મંડન, મિથ્યા કાહ ઉલીચેં ?

કહે કબીર સમજ ન ભોંદૂ, અમી અરંડ કા સીચે !

3. Why should we indulge in futile efforts to take so much care of this wonderful human form symbolizing grace of god of passions (Kamdev)? Kabir asks exasperatedly, "O' guile-less ignorant being, why don't you understand that the castor oil that you are collecting so assiduously is, in fact, not an elixir.

41. Sādhu Ki Saňgat Pā-ii Re ॥ સાધુ કી સંગત પાઇ રે

Saints like Narsinh, Jaidev and Surdas, also the butcher Sajana were poor, physically handicapped, ugly looking and lived in dilapidated huts. Yet God driven by true dedication and devout love ate Khichadi at the place of Karma Bhagat.

દત્તાત્રેય ગુરુ ગોરખ યોગી, ગગન મંડલ મઠ છાઇ;

કહેત કબીર સુનો ભાઇ સાધુ, જ્યોતમેં જ્યોત મિલાઇ ... ૩ dat-tā-trey guru gorakh yogi, gagan maňdal math chhā-ii; kahet kabir suno bhā-ii sādhu, jyot-meň jyot milā-ii ... 3

Lastly, Kabir calls upon all of us and exhorts that, all the saints and sages from Dattatreya, Guru Gorakhnath have made it to the heavenly realm and at the same time Kabir says that all these have strived to keep burning the flame of spiritual pursuit.

42. Kyoň Hari-nām Visārā ॥ ક્યોં હરિનામ વિસારા

Nādbrahma pada 181, Rāga: Kāfi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૮૧, રાગ - કાફી

ક્યોં હરિનામ વિસારા, મન મૂઢ ગવાંર;

kyoň hari-nām visārā, man muDh gaňvār;
A spiritual seeker who has just been awakened from worldly passions laments saying, why God's name was forgotten by stupid and dim-wit mind?

ચલના દૂર અબ ક્યોં થાકે, પંથ ખાંડે કી ધાર ... ૧

chal-nā dur aba kyoň thāke, paňth khāňde ki dhār ... 1
Now, when the seeker has set out on a long arduous path of spiritual realization, how can it afford to get tired? As the path of attainment of place in divine realm is like treading on the sharp edge of a sword.

અજ હું ચેત કહાં ભયો ગાફેલ, અભ કછુ કર લે સાર ... ૨

āja huň chet kahaň bhayo gāfel, abha kachhu kar le sār ... 2
Even now it is not too late to get awakened from delusions and realize where you have been negligent. It's not late still; even now you can improve your life.

વિષય વાદસે બાજ ન આયે, મારા મારા જમ હાર ... ૩

vishay vād-se bāj na āye, mārā mārā jam hār ... 3
O' mind you did not get tired of worldly passions and lust and went on pursuing wealth and conceit like a lost gambler.

છાંડ કુટિલતા ભજીલે રામનામ, યો હી મત અમારા ... ૪

chhaňd kutil-ta bhaji-le rām-nām, yo hi mat amārā ... 4
Now, leave aside crookedness and worship god's name, as it is of no use indulging in pettiness of passions.

કહેત કબીર સેવો સાધુજન, તો ઉતરે ભવપાર ... ૫

kahet kabir sevo sādhu-jan, to utare bhavpār ... 5
Kabir says, following teachings of pious saints, one can fathom the ocean of life and reach ultimate divine realm.

43. Sādhu-jan-no Saṅg Re ॥ સાધુજનનો સંગ રે

Nādbrahma pada 183, Rāga: Kāfi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૮૩, રાગ - કાફી

સાધુજનનો સંગ રે, બાઇ મને ભાગ્ય મળ્યો હૈ;

sādhu-jan-no saṅg re, bā-ii mane bhāgya malyo hai
It is with great divine grace I have the company of holy saints.

The wicked will remain away from worships, and they will hinder in prayers, too.

નિંદા કરે તે નરકે જાશે, થાશે અંધ અપંગ રે ... ૩

niṅdā kare te narake jāshe, thāshe aṅdh apaṅg re ... 3
The slanderous ones will befall in the hell, and will live the life like blinds and disabled.

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરિધરના ગુણ, મારે તો એની સંગ રે ... ૪

bā-ii mirā kahe prabhu giri-dhar-nā gun, māre to eni saṅg re ... 4
Saint Meerabai says, as I am wedded to the holy virtues of Giridhar, I will live in spiritual joy by the grace of Supreme Divine.

44. Prabhu-ji Vishe Lāgyo Mane Sneh Re ॥ પ્રભુજી વિષે લાગ્યો મને સ્નેહ રે

Nādbrahma pada 184, Rāga: Kāfi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૮૪, રાગ - કાફી

પ્રભુજી વિષે લાગ્યો મને સ્નેહ રે, બીજું મને કાંઇ ન ગમે રે;

prabhu-ji vishe lāgyo mane sneh re, biju mane kāň-ii na game re
I have fallen in love of holy divine, and without him, nothing is liked by me.

પહેલી પૂજા અજદેવ તમારી, તે થકી રહે મારી દેહ રે ... ૧

paheli pujā aja-dev tamāri, te thaki rahe māri deh re ... 1
Firstly, I worship god of my faith. By whose worship my life is sustained.

હાર ને ચીર હું તો નહિ પહેરું રાણા, તુલસીની માલા મારે દેહ રે ... ૨

hār ne chir huň to nahi paheru rānā, tulasi-ni mālā māre deh re ... 2 Meera tells her husband, "Rana, I will not wear royal costumes and jewel-studded garlands. Since I have taken recourse of godly worship, only a garland made of Tulsi (Basil twigs) is worth for me.

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરિધરના ગુણ, હરિચરણે ચિત્ત લેવું રે ... ૩

bā-ii mirā kahe prabhu giri-dhar-nā gun, hari-charane chit-t levu re ... 3
Saint Meerabai says, I behold divine traits and virtues of Giridhar, and if one wishes for attaining divine realm, one must devolve oneself at the feet of the Supreme Divinity.

45. Sādhu-jan-no Saňg Re ॥ સાધુજનનો સંગ રે

Nādbrahma pada 186, Rāga: Kāfi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૮૬, રાગ - કાફી

સાધુજનનો સંગ રે, બાઇ મને ભાગ્ય મળ્યો હૈ;

sādhu-jan-no saňg re, bā-ii mane bhāgya malyo hai;
Saints used to symbolically explain and narrate essence of spirituality. In this Bhajan Saint Meerabai rejoices at attainment of exalted spiritual state and says, it is with great luck I have got the company of the saintly individuals.

કોરી કોરી મટુકીમેં મહી જમાવું, ગ્વાલન હોકર જાવું રે ... ૧

kori kori matuki-meň mahi jamāvu, gvālan hokar jāvu re ... 1
On the spiritual path, soul of a seeker is like dry and empty earthen pot, in which she makes curds (essence of spiritual realization) and treads on the spiritual path akin to a milkmaid.

ફૂલ રે મંગાવું વ્હાલા ગજરા ગૂંથાવું, માલન હોકર જાવું રે ... ૨ ful re maňgāvu vahālā gajarā guňthāvu, mālan hokar jāvu re ... 2 Achieving spiritual realization is like adding fragrance to our life, hence treading the spiritual path similar to a flower-girl.

કપડા મંગાવું વ્હાલા ભગવા રંગાવું, જોગન હોકર જાવું રે ... ૩ kapadā maňgāvu vahālā bhagavā raňgāvu, jogan hokar jāvu te ... 3

And, when a spiritual seeker rises above the worldly attachments, for him or her, only saffron colored clothes symbolizing asceticism hold ultimate significance. In this line, Meera says, on the ultimate state of spiritual attainment, heart of a seeker seeks non-attachment with worldly pleasures like a hermit.

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરિધરના ગુણ, જ્યોતમેં જ્યોત મિલાવું રે ... ૪

mirā kahe prabhu giri-dhar-nā gun, jyot-meň jyot milāvu re ... 4
Lastly, Saint Meerabai says, beholding divine virtues of Giridhar in my heart I strive to unify the light of my soul with that of the Supreme Divine source of light.

46. Darad Na Jāne Māru Ko-ii Re ॥ દર્દ ન જાણે મારું કોઇ રે

When my bed is on gibbet, how can I sleep,
While my lover's bed is on the heavenly skies, how can we meet,
O' my friend, I am lovelorn, none understands my glumness.

ઘાયલ કી ગત ઘાયલ જાને, ઔર ન જાને કોય,

મીરા કે પ્રભુ પિર મિટે, જબ વૈદ સાંવરિયા હોય,

એ રી મૈં તો, પ્રેમદિવાની, મેરો દરદ ના જાને કોય ... ૨

Only a wounded would know pain of a wounded, none can understand it, Meera says that such anguish can only be relieved, when Krishna becomes a therapist,
O' my friend, I am lovelorn, none understands my glumness.

47. Kon Kare Jañjāl Re ॥ કોણ કરે જંજાલ રે

Nādbrahma pada 192, Rāga: Kāfi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૯૨, રાગ - કાફી

કોણ કરે જંજાલ રે, જુગમેં જીવન થોડા;

માતાપિતાએ જન્મ દિયો હૈ, કર્મ દિયો કિરતાર ... ટેક kon kare jañjāl re, jug-meň jivan thodā mātā-pitā-e janma diyo hai, karma diyo kiratār ... repeat

Why should you bother about everything in the world? You have been given just a small life, then why should you at all bother? You have been born by your parents, and when you are born, what you have to do in this world, has been destined the Supreme Almighty.

માટી ચુન ચુન મહલ બનાયા, અંધ કહે ઘર મેરા;

નહિ ઘર તેરા નહિ ઘર મેરા, જાતા જંગલ કા ડેરા ... ૧

māti chun chun mahal banāyā, aňdh kahe ghar merā nahi ghar terā nahi ghar merā, jātā jaňgal kā derā ... 1
You have created a palace collecting all things, which are just as much worth as mud. And blinded by worldly passions, you call that your own house. In fact, it is neither your house nor mine; but it is like a makeshift shelter in a forest, which you are not destined to enjoy indefinitely.

કોઇ તો જશે દશ વીશ વરસમાં, કોઇ તો જશે બાલપન ... ૨

ko-ii to jashe dash vish varas-māň, ko-ii to jashe bāl-pan ... 2
Some will have to go in their twenties or thirties or even in childhood.

કોઇ ઊતરે રત્નાગર સાગર, કોઇ તો ઊતરે ભવપાર ... ૩

ko-ii u-tare rat-nāgar sāgar, ko-ii to u-tare bhav-pār ... 3
And after that, some may go deep down the depths of oceans, whereas, some others can fathom across the ocean of this life and find a place in divine realm.

કહે કબીર સુનો ભાઇ સાધુ, જૂઠા દેહ કા ખ્યાલ ... ૪

kahe kabir suno bhā-ii sādhu, juthā deh kā khyāl ... 4
Saint Kabir rightly explains, O' gentle being, paying attention to physical comforts or discomforts and possessiveness is all in vain, as these are going to remain behind when you leave this mortal life.

48. Vaishnav Jan To Tene Kahi-e ॥ વૈષ્ણવ જન તો તેને કહીએ

Nādbrahma pada 196, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૯૬, રાગ - કાલેરો

વૈષ્ણવ જન તો તેને કહીએ, જે પીડ પરાઇ જાણે રે;

પરદુઃખે ઉપકાર કરે તોયે, મન અભિમાન ન આણે રે ... ટેક vaishnav jan to tene kahi-e, je pida parā-ii jāne re par-dukhe up-kār kare toye, man abhi-mān na āne re ... repeat

He is the true Vaishnava who knows and feels another's woes as his own;
While serving others in suffering and pain, doesn't entertain pride in one's mind.

સકળ લોકમાં સહુને વંદે, નિંદા ન કરે કેની રે;

વાચ કાછ મન નિશ્ચલ રાખે, ધન ધન જનની તેની રે ... ૧ sakal lok-māň sahu-ne vaňde, niňdā na kare keni re vāch kāchh man nish-chal rākhe, dhan dhan jan-ni teni re ... 1

He respects everyone in the world around, and not denounces anybody;
Blessed is his mother, who keeps his speech, deeds and thoughts pure.

સમદષ્ટિ ને તૃષ્ણા ત્યાગી, પરસ્ત્રી જેને માત રે;

જીહ્વા થકી અસત્ય ન બોલે, પરધન નવ ઝાલે હાથ રે ... ૨

sam-dashti-ne trushnā tyāgi, para-stri jene māt re jihvā thaki a-satya na bole, par-dhan nav jhāle hāth re ... 2 Viewing all equally, he rids himself of covetousness; reveres every woman as his mother.
Never attempts to utter untruth by his tongue and does not covet wealth of others.

મોહ માયા વ્યાપે નહિ જેને, દૃઢ વૈરાગ્ય જેના મનમાં રે;

રામ નામ શું તાળી રે લાગી, સકળ તીર્થ તેના તનમાં રે ... ૩ moh māyā vyāpe nahi jene, druDh vai-rāgya jenā man-māň re

rām nām shuň tāli lāgi, sakal tirth tenā tan-māň re ... 3 Material attachments do not occupy his mind, it being deeply rooted in renunciation.
Who recites name of Rama, dwells in spiritual realm, all pilgrimages dwell within him.

વણલોભી ને કપટરહિત છે, કામ ક્રોધ નિવાર્યા રે;

ભણે નરસૈયો તેનું દર્શન કરતા, કુળ ઇકોતેર તાર્યા રે ... ૪ van-lobhi ne kapat-rahit chhe, kām krodh ni-vāryā re bhane nar-sai-yo tenu darshan kar-tā, kul iiko-ter tāryā re ... 4

One who has conquered greed and guileless, deceit, lust and anger;
Says Narasinh, sight of such a Vaishnava alleviates one's seventy-one generations.

49. Bhutal Bhakti Padā-rath Motuň ॥ ભૂતળ ભક્તિ પદારથ મોટું

Nādbrahma pada 197, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૯૭, રાગ - કાલેરો

ભૂતળ ભક્તિ પદારથ મોટું, બ્રહ્મ લોકમાં નહિ રે; પુણ્ય કરી અમરાપુરી પામ્યા, અંતે ચોરાશી માંહી રે ... ટેક bhutal bhakti padā-rath motuň, brahma-lok-māň nahi re; punya kari amarā-puri pāmyā, aňte chorāshi māňhi re ... repeat Devotion is the supreme element on earth, but that's not in divine realm;

Heaven was realized by holy deeds, but lastly solace is in Chorasi[1].

હરિના જન તો મુક્તિ ન માગે, જન્મો જન્મ અવતાર રે; નિત સેવા નિત કીર્તન ઓચ્છવ, નીરખવા નંદકુમાર રે ... ૧ hari-nā jan to mukti na māge, janmo janam avatār re;

nit sevā nit kirtan och-chhav, nirakhavā naňda-kumār re ... 1 Devout won't seek eternal freedom, and want birth after birth for ever.
That would give a chance to worship, and perceive son of Nand, Krishna.

ભરતખંડ ભૂતળમાં જનમી, જેણે ગોવિંદના ગુણ ગાયા રે;
ધન ધન રે એના માતપિતાને, સફળ કરી એણે કાયા રે ... ૨ bharat-khaňd bhutal-māň janami, jene goviňd-nā gun gāyā re;

dhan dhan re enā māt-pitā-ne, safal kari ene kāyā re ... 2
Having been born on earth of Bharat, whoever has sung to pray Govind, Fortunate are one's parents, who being holy, made worthy human life.

ધન વૃંદાવન ધન એ લીલા, ધન એ વ્રજનાં વાસી રે;
અષ્ટ મહાસિદ્ધિ આંગણિયે ઊભી, મુક્તિ છે એમની દાસી રે ... ૩ dhan vruňdā-van dhan e lilā, dhan e vraj-nā vāsi re;

ashta mahā-siddhi āňganiye re ubhi, mukti chhe em-ni dāsi re ... 3 Worthy is Vrindavan so do is devotion for Krishna, and so do are folks of Vraj, Where settled are eight modes of emancipation and freedom to attain Moksha.

[1] Chorasi – Cycle of eighty-four births

એ રસનો સ્વાદ શંકર જાણે, કે જાણે શુક જોગી રે;

કંઇ એક જાણે પેલી વ્રજની રે ગોપી, ભણે નરસૈંયો ભોગી રે ... ૪

e ras-no svād shaňkar jāne, ke jāne shuk jogi re;
kaň-ii eka jāne peli vraj-ni re gopi, bhane nar-sai-yo bhogi re ... 4
Only Lord Shankar or a Yogi called Shuk can realize taste of eternal nectar;
And who knows this deep devotion, are Gopis of Vraj, Says devotee Narasinha.

50. Nārāyan-nu Nām Ja Letā ॥ નારાયણનું નામ જ લેતાં

Nādbrahma pada 198, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૧૯૮, રાગ - કાલેરો

નારાયણનું નામ જ લેતાં, વારે તેને તજીએ રે;

મનષા વાચા કર્મણા કરીને, લક્ષ્મીવરને ભજીએ રે ... ટેક nārāyan-nu nām ja letā, vāre tene taji-e re manashā vāchā karmanā kari-ne, lakshmi-var-ne bhaji-e re ... repeat

As we utter the name of Narayan, we renounce relations with those who ask us not to do;
We begin worshiping Lakshmi's husband, Narayan with mind, speech and action.

કુળને તજીએ કુટુંબને તજીએ, તજીએ માને બાપ રે;

ભગિની સુત દારાને તજીએ, જેમ તજે કંચુકી સાપ રે ... ૧

bhagini suta dārā-ne taji- e, jem taje kañ-chuki sāp re ... 1
We give up kinfolks and family, also, we give up relations with our parents;
We give up our relations with sister, son and wife, as a snake sheds off its skin.

પ્રથમ પિતા પ્રહલાદે તજીઆ, નવ તજીયું હરિનું નામ રે;

ભરત શત્રુધ્ને તજી જનેતા, નવ તજીઆ શ્રી રામ રે ... ૨ pratham pitā prah-lāde taji-ā, nav taji-yu hari-nu nām re bharat shatru-ghane taji jane-tā, nav taji-ā shri rām re ... 2 Formerly Prahlad left his parents, but he did not give up uttering god's name;

Bharat and Shatrughna also left their mothers, but didn't lose devotion for Shri Ram.

ઋષિપત્નીએ શ્રીહરિ કાજે, તજીઆ નિજ ભરથાર રે;

તેમાં તેનું કંઈએ ન ગયું, પામી પદારથ ચાર રે ... ૩ rushi-patni-e, shri-hari kāje, taji-ā nij bhar-thār re temā tenu kañ-ii-e na gayu, pāmi padā-rath chār re ... 3

Wife of a sage left her husband, for the sake of divine grace of god,
And if fact, she didn't lose anything but, ultimately she attained salvation.

વ્રજવનિતા વિઠ્ઠલને કાજે, સર્વ તજીને ચાલી રે;

ભણે નરસૈંયો વૃન્દાવનમાં, મોહન સાથે મહાલી રે ... ૪ vraj-vanitā vith-thal-ne kāje, sarva taji-ne chāli re bhane nar-sai-yo vrundā-van-māñ, mohan sāthe mahāli re ... 4 Womenfolk of Vraj gave up everything, just to be with their beloved Vitthal, Singing in worship of Lord, all the devotee dwelt in holy ecstasy with Krishna.

There was no place for anyone else except Krishna in the devotional universe of Gopi (cowherd women of Vrindavan). Giving words to the feelings of the Gopis, several psalms, poems and songs have been written by Krishna lovers.

Three words reigned in Gokul - Beauty, Melodiousness, companionship. Standing under drizzling rains in Shravan, it is worth asking ourselves, "Is there anything that has rained in our life that has fascinated us by its sheer spiritual beauty?"

In this bhajan Saint Narsinh Mehta has intricately woven devotional love of Gopi for Krishna and natural beauty abounding Gokul during monsoon. Let us taste the elixir of divine love!

51. Mehulo Re Gāje-ne Mādhav Nāche ॥ મેહુલો રે ગાજે ને માધવ નાચે

Nādbrahma pada 203, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૦૩, રાગ - કાલેરો

મેહુલો રે ગાજે ને માધવ નાચે, રુમઝુમ વાજે ઘુઘરી રે;

તાલ પખાવજ બજાવે ગોપી, કૃષ્ણ વગાડે વાંસલડી રે ... ટેક mehulo re gāje-ne mādhav nāche, rum-jhum vāje ghughari re tāl pakhāvaj bajāve gopi, krishna vagāde vāňsaladi re ... repeat

With the beats of thunderous rains Madhav dances jingling cymbals so sweetly; Gopis roll out beats of Pakhawaj, flute of Krishna stirs up lilting cosmic symphony.

પહેર્યાં ચરણ ને ચીર ચુંદડી, ઓઢી ઐસી પટોળી રે;

દાદૂર મોર બપૈયા બોલે, મધુરીશી બોલે કોયલ રે ... ૧ paheryā charan ne chir chuňdadi, oDhi a-i-si patoli re dādur mor ba-paiyā bole, madhurishi bole koyal re ... 1

Donning embroidered shoes and lovely Chunddi and Patoli Gopis are singing; Frogs, Peacock and Jacobin Cuckoo singing in unison with Koel sweetly cooing.

ધન બંશીબટ ધન યમુના તટ, ધન વૃન્દાવન અવતાર રે;

ધન નરસૈંયાની જીભલડીને, જેણે ગાયો રાગ મલાર રે ... ૨ dhan baňshi-bat dhan yamunā tat, dhan vrundāvan avatār re dhan nar-sai-ya-ni jibhaladi-ne, jene gāyo rāg mālar re ... 2 Blessed are banyan tree and riverbank of Yamuna, so is descent deity of Vrindavan;

Blessed is tongue of Narsinh that sang Raga Malhar in praise of Krishna, the Almighty.

There is a legend about Bhakt Narsinh Mehta. Narsinh Mehta did penance to please Lord Shiva seven days at Indreshwar Mahadeva near Girnar Mountain at Junagadh, Gujarat. Appeased Lord Shiva appeared before Narsinh asked him to request for a boon. Narsinh expressed his desire that he wanted to see Leela of Shri Krishna. Lord Shiva took him to Vaikuntha to witness Shri Krishna's Leela. Shiva handed Narsinh a burning torch (mashaal) while he watched Krishna's dance. While watching Krishna dancing Narsinh lost all awareness of self. The wooden torch burnt all the way down to his arm, but Narsinh was oblivious of his burning arm. Shri Krishna saw this and came running to his rescue and restored his arm. Narsinh pleaded with Krishna to come to him whenever he needed him. Shri Krishna agreed and thus Krishna came to do his household work whenever Narsinh went out for bhajan and arrange for his monetary needs.

This bhajan portrays the scenario that Narsinh perceived in the heaven or his Bhav Jagat.

52. Āja Vrundā-van Ānaňd Sāgar ॥ આજ વૃન્દાવન આનંદ સાગર

Nādbrahma pada 204, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૦૪, રાગ - કાલેરો

આજ વૃન્દાવન આનંદ સાગર, શામળિયો સંગે રાસ રમે;

નટવર વેશે બંસી બજાવે, ગોપીઓ ને મન ગોવિંદ ગમે ... ટેક āja vrundā-van ānaňd sāgar, shā-maliyo saňge rās rame nat-var veshe baňshi bajāve, gopi-o ne man goviňd game ... repeat Today, Vrindavan has turned into an ocean of divine joy as Gopis dance with Krishna (Shamaliyo). Krishna plays his flute clad in attire of Natvar, as Gopis adore Govind.

સોળ કળાની શશી શિર ઉપર, ઉડુગણ સહિત વિમાન ભમે;

નીર ગંભીર સ્થિર યમુના તટ, ત્રિવિધ તનના તાપ શમે ... ૧ sol kalā-ni shashi shir u-par, udu-gan sahit vimān bhame nir gam-bhir sthir yamunā tat, trividha tan-nā tāp shame ... 1

The full moon has climbed high in the sky as if a plane carrying all deities to watch heavenly dance of Govind. Even the waters of river Jamuna have stilled and river banks have turned silent and the entire scenario watching dancing Krishna is relieving all three sorts of discomforts (mental, maladies and worldly difficulties) that torment humans.

ગોપી નીસર્યા નરહરિ જોવાને, નીકળ્યા સોળે શણગાર સજી;

ટોળે ટોળાં ઊભા રહીને, નીરખત નયણા ભરી ભરી ... ૨

gopi nisharyā nar-hari jovā-ne, nikalyā sole shan-gār saji tole tolā ubhā rahi-ne, nira-khat nayanā bhari bhari ... 2
All Gopis adorning graceful jewellery and garments (sixteen adornments) rushing to watch holy Krishna as crowds of people have gathered to heartily watch him dancing.

એક એક ગોપી બીચમા માધવ, કરગ્રહી મંડલી માંહી રમે;

તા થૈ તા થૈ તાન મિલાવે, રાગ રાગણી શમે રે શમે ... ૩ eka eka gopi bichamā mādhav, kara-grahi maňdali māňhi rame tā thai tā thai tān milāve, rāg rāgani shame re shame ... 3 Krishna is playing such gracefully that, each Gopi feels as if Krishna is dancing with her holding and clapping with each one in circular formation (called Ras). Krishna and Gopis are dancing with playful beats of drums and lilting tuneful songs.

હરખ્યાં સુરિનર દેવ મુનિજન, પુષ્પ વૃષ્ટિ કરી ચરણે નમે;

ભણે નરસૈંયો ધન વ્રજ નારી, જેણે કાજે જોગી દેહ દમે ... ૪ harakhyā suri-nar dev muni-jan, pushpa vrushti kari charane name bhane nar-sai-yo dhan vraj nāri, jene kāje jogi deh dame ... 4

The eyes of men and deities alike feel graced by watching such a divine event as they shower flower petals on Lord Krishna and bow down seeking his blessings. Delighted Bhakt Narsinh says, the Gopis of Vruj are so lucky that, to get such a birth, ascetics and devout perform severe penance, are not as lucky as the Gopis were.

53. Sāmbhal Re Shyā-maliyā Vahālā ॥ સાંભળ રે શ્યામળિયા રે વ્હાલા

Nādbrahma pada 205, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૦૫, રાગ - કાલેરો

સાંભળ રે શ્યામળિયા રે વ્હાલા, તારે ને મારે ઘણી માયા રે; જો મહેતાજી જમવા ન આવે, તત્ક્ષણ તજું મારી કાયા રે ... ટેક sāmbhal re shyā-maliyā vahālā, tāre māre ghani māyā re jo mahetā-ji jamavā na āve, tat-kshan taju māri kāyā re ... repeat Listen O' Shyam my dear, how strong is bond of love;

I'd give up my body, if Mehta Ji won't come for lunch.

કપટ નહિ કાંઇ મહેતાનાં મનમાં, હેતે હરિના ગુણ ગાવું રે; વૈષ્ણવજન કેરો વેષ દેખીને, મહેતા ને મંદિર જાવું રે ... ૧ kapat nahi kāň-ii mahetā-nā man-māň, hete hari-nā gun gāvu re vaishnav-jan kero vesh dekhi-ne, mahetā ne maňdir jāvu re ... 1

Mehta nurtures no ill-will in heart, heartily sings prayers;
Seeing Vaishnavaite attire, I wish visiting Mehta's temple.

વિશ્વંભર વિનંતિ મારી માનો, પ્રીત પૂર્વની રાખો રે; અમો અબલા કો આધાર તમારો, ભક્ત ઉદ્ધારણ રાખો રે ... ૨ vishvam-bhar vinaňti māri māno, prit purva-ni rākho re amo abalā ko ādhār tamāro, bhakta ud-dhāran rākho re ... 2 Vishwambhar, accept my request, love me as before;

I, the helpless have your support, be my Emancipator.

નાગર સર્વે જમવા ચાલ્યા, હાથમાં ચંબુ લીધાં રે; અંતર્યામીએ તત્ક્ષણ જાણ્યું, ન્યાતમાં ઢેડાં કીધાં રે ... ૩ nāgar sarve jamavā chālyā, hāth-māň chambu lidhā re aňtar-yāmi-e tat-kshan jānyu, nyāt-māň Dhedā kidhā re ... 3

All Nagar went for lunch holding vessel in hands;
Soon Antaryami learning this did cleaning in caste.

થર થર નાગર ધ્રુજવા લાગ્યા, કહો કેમ કરીશું રે;

મહેતાજીને ન્યાત બહાર પાડતા, આપણ સર્વે પડીશું રે ... ૪ thar thar nāgar dhrujavā lāgyā, kaho kem kari-shuň re mahetā-ji-ne nyāt bahār pādatā, āpan sarve padi-shuň re ... 4 Nagars trembling worrying curse, what shall we do now;

Casting Mehta Ji out of caste, we'll be cast out alive.

માન મૂકી મનાવવા ચાલ્યા, મહેતાજી શરણે રાખો રે;

ભક્તિ તણો છે મોટો મહિમા, નિત નિત દર્શન આપો રે ... ૫ mān muki manāv-vā chālyā, mahetā-ji sharane rākho re bhakti tano chhe moto mahimā, nita nita darashan āpo re ... 5 Leaving ego aside, they went to placate Mehta Ji;

Merit of devotion is greater, let's ever see your sight.

કપટ નહિ કાંઇ ભક્તના મનમાં, મહેતાજી જમવા આવ્યા રે;

માનબાઇના સ્વામી શ્યામળિયા, ન્યાતમાં ઢેડા સમાવ્યા રે ... ૬ kapat nahi kāň-ii bhakta-nā man-māň, mahetā-ji jamavā āvyā re mān-bāii-nā svāmi shyāmaliyā, nyāt-māň Dhedā samāvyā re ... 6

With no ill-will in mind of devout, Mehta came for lunch; Graced by Manbai's lord Shyam, Dheds're involved in caste.

વિશ્વંભર (Vishwambhar) = One who pervades or sustains the whole world. Bhagwan Vishnu.

અંતર્યામી (Aňtaryāmi) = The Supreme Soul dwelling in heart of every living being, Evident Soul (Vedānt) ઢેડા (Dhedā) = Members of untouchable caste, sweepers, etc.

54. Pote Potā-nu Ghar Jānavu Jo-ii-e ॥ પોતે પોતાનું ઘર જાણવું જોઇએ

Nādbrahma pada 209, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૦૯, રાગ - કાલેરો

પોતે પોતાનું ઘર જાણવું જોઇએ, જાણ્યા વિના કહો ક્યાં જઇએ;
અણ ઓળખ્યે ઓશિયાળાં થઇને, પરઘેર ઊભા નવ રહીએ ... ટેક pote potā-nu ghar jānavu jo-ii-e, janyā vinā kaho kyaň ja-ii-e ana olakhye oshi-yālā tha-ii-ne, par-gher ubhā nav rahi-e ... repeat

We ought to know about our home; else where'll we go;
We can't go to other's home as desolate and unknown.

પરણ્યો પરણ્યો પિયુ નજરે ન ભાળ્યો, સાસરિયાનું સુખ નવ દીઠું;
અમૃતપે અતિ લાગે મીઠું, નામ ધણીનું રુડું રે ... ૧ paranyo paranyo piyu na bhālyo, sāsariyā-nu sukh nav dithu amrut-pe ati lāge mithu, nām dhani-nu rudu re ... 1

Though married, haven't seen my married one, nor had bliss of in-laws;
Name of my dearest one is so lovely, it sounds like nectar of life.

કોઇ કાલનો જીવ ભમે છે, ઠરી નહિ બેઠો ઠામ રે;
આવ્યો પ્રાણી લ્હાવો જ લેવા, ભેદુ વિના ભટકાયો રે ... ૨

ko-ii kāl-no jiv bhame chhe, thari nahi betho tham re āvyo prāni lahāvo ja levā, bhedu vinā bhat-kāyo re ... 2
My soul wanders for over ages now, no place to find for ultimate rest;
It arrived in world for joy, but is lost in wilderness of life without a guide.

માર્ગ મેલી કુમાર્ગે ચાલ્યો, નહિ જડ્યું ગામ ને ધામ રે; રણછોડના સ્વામી સુંદીરવર, ઘેર ઘેર ભટકાણો રે ... ૩

ran-chhod-nā svāmi suňdir-var, gher gher bhat-kāno re ... 3 Leaving path of virtue, took a sinful path, couldn't find either your home or place;
O' Graceful great Ranchhod, though I wandered home to home to earn your grace.

55. Huň Tane Puchhuň Māri Veran Nidrā ॥ હું તને પૂછું મારી વેરણ નિદ્રા

Nādbrahma pada 210, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૧૦, રાગ - કાલેરો

હું તને પૂછું મારી વેરણ નિદ્રા, તું છે નાર ધુતારી રે; નથી ધુતારી હું તો નથી ઠગારી, હું છું કોમલ નારી રે ... ટેક huň tane puchhuň māri veran nidrā, tuň chhe nār dhutāri re nathi dhutāri huň to nathi thagāri, huň chhuň komal nāri re … repeat

I ask you, my revengeful sleep, you surely are rogue;
No, I'm neither rogue nor cheat, but a female delicate.

પ્રાણીમાત્રને વિશ્રામ આપું, દુઃખસુખ મેલું વિસારી રે; નાટક ચેટક ભાંડ ભવાઈ, ત્યાં તો હું નવ જાઉં રે ... ૧ prāni-mātra-ne vish-rām āpu, dukh-sukh mElu visāri re nātak chetak bhāňd bhavā-ii, tyāň to huň nav ja-uň re … 1

I offer all creatures respite, let them forget good-bad times;
You won't find me at shows of vulgar theatricals.

કથા કીર્તન ધોળ મંગલ, ત્યાં જઈ પાવન થાઉં રે; ભલે મળ્યા મહેતા નરસૈંયાના સ્વામી, નિદ્રામાં સુખે પોઢ્યા રે ... ૨ kathā kirtan dhol maňgal, tyāň ja-ii pāvan thā-uň re bhale malyā maheta nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi, nidrā-māň sukhe poDhyā re … 2

I rejoice at the places where psalms and prayers are sung;
So be it Narsinh Mehta met his lord, sleeping in bliss.

56. Āja Sonā-no Surya Ugyo ॥ આજ સોનાનો સૂર્ય ઉગ્યો

Nādbrahma pada 215, Rāga: Kālero ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૨૧૫, રાગ - કાલેરો

આજ સોનાનો સૂર્ય ઉગ્યો, વ્હાલાજી ઘેર આવ્યા;

કામ કાજ મને કાંઈ ન સુઝે, મોહનજી મન ભાવ્યા ... ટેક āja sonā-no surya ugyo, vahālā-ji gher āvyā kām kāj mane kāň-ii na sujhe, mohan-ji man bhāvyā ... repeat

When our dear ones arrive at home, our joy knows no bounds. In this Bhajan, giving words to the feelings of a lovelorn Gopi, Bhakta Narsinh Mehta says, as my lover has arrived home, I feel as if sun of gold has risen today. Busied with welcoming endearing Mohan, she cannot concentrate on household work.

આજે મારે મન આનંદ અતિઘણો, પાથરણાં પથરાવું;

ચૂવા ચંદન કસ્તુરીના, છાંટણિયા છંટાવું ... ૧

āje māre man ānaňd ati-ghano, pātharnā patharāvu chuva chaňdan kasturi-nā chhāňtaniyā chhaňtāvu ... 1 Gopi further says, my mind is full of joy as I spread carpets in home. Sprinkling mix of musk and sandal, I am adding fragrance in air.

પ્રેમ આણીને પૂરું સાથિયા, તોરણ દ્વારે બંધાવું;

આરતી ઉતારું મારા કૃષ્ણજીવણની, મોતીડે વધાવું ... ૨

prem āni-ne puru sāthiyā, toran dvāre baňdhāvu ārati utāru mārā krishna-jivan-ni moti-de vadhāvu ... 2
Let me draw propitious figures and fill them with colors reflecting my shades of love. For reception of my endearing Krishna, let me tie a string of flowers and leaves on doorpost. As I in worship of my life, my Krishna waving glittering lamps sprinkling pearls.

ઘુઘરી ઘમકે ને ચાલે ઠમકે, સોના અંબર શોહે;

કંઠે હાર હાથે બાજુ બંધ, લટકે ત્રિભુવન મોહે ... ૩ ghughari ghamake ne chāle thamake, sonā ambar shohe kaňthe hār hāthe bāja baňdh, latake tri-bhuvan mohe ... 3

When my beloved Krishna walks around, his streamlets are jingling, bedecked with gold jewellery, and armlets on arms, the Lord of Three Worlds (Tribhuvan) looks grandiosely handsome.

રૂમઝુમ રૂમઝુમ હું તો ચાલું, દુર્જન લોકો હસે;

ભલે મળ્યા મહેતા નરસૈંઇના સ્વામી, નિંદનારા હાથ ઘસે ... ૪ rum-jhum rum-jhum huň to chālu, durjan loko hase bhale malyā mahetā nar-saňi-nā svāmi, niňda-nārā hāth ghase ... 4

And when I walk bewitchingly, wicked persons laugh leeringly. It's my good luck, says Narsinh Mehta, I met my lord and those who criticized me, seethe with jealousy.

In this poetic imagination of a quarrel between Radha feigning anger against Krishna on various issues makes very interesting reading.

57. Juththā Bolā Jādav Tāro ॥ જુઠ્ઠા બોલા જાદવ તારો

Rāga: Kālerā-nu Tān ॥ રાગ - કાલેરાનું તાન

જુઠ્ઠા બોલા જાદવ તારો, ભેદ ન જાણે કોઇ

ભેદ ન જાણે કોઇ તારો, પાર ન જાણે કોઇ juththā bolā jādav tāro, bhed na jāne ko-ii

bhed na jāne ko-ii tāro, pār na jāne ko-ii Chiding Krishna, Radha says, Jadav, you are such a liar, none can understand your secrets. None can think through your secrets, and none can understand your inner significance.

સ્વર્ગભુવનથી લાવ્યા નારદ, પારિજાતીનું ફૂલ (૨)

પાંખડી એક ન મોકલી (અલ્યા), તમે કીધા હમારા મુલ ... જુઠ્ઠા બોલા swarga-bhuvan-thi lāvyā nārad, pāri-jāti-nu ful pāňkhadi eka na mokali (alyā), tame kidhā hamārā mul ... juththā bolā Sage Narad brought a Parijat flower from the heaven, but you didn't send me just one petal. Is this the way you value me and my devotional love?

પારિજાતીની ડાળે વ્હાલે, હિંડોળા બંધાવ્યા (૨)

સર્વે સખી મળી હીંચકે (અલ્યા), માંહી ગિરધર ગોપાલ ... જુઠ્ઠા બોલા pāri-jāti-ni dāle vahāle, hiňdolā baňdhāvyā sarve sakhi mali hiňcha-ke (alyā), māňhi gira-dhar gopāl ... juththā bolā

You got tied swings on the branches of Praijat tree. Without ever calling me, O' Giridhar Gopal, you have been enjoying swinging with your other female friends (Gopis).

બલીરાજાને બારણે આવી, માંગ્યા ત્રણ વચન (૨)

વામનરૂપે છેતરીયો (અલ્યા), તમે વધી ગયા ગગન ... જુઠ્ઠા બોલા bali-rājā-ne bārne āvi, māňgyā tran vachan vāman-rupe chhetariyo (alyā), tame vadhi gayā gagan ... juththā bolā Even you have cheated King Bali. Out of pleasure, when Bali promised you to ask for three boons, he was sheerly cheated by your tiny form of Vaaman as you grew up tall reaching the sky.

ગોકુળમાં વંટોળ્યો વાયો, ઈન્દ્રનો આણ્યો અંત (૨)

ગિરી ગોવર્ધન કર ધર્યો (અલ્યા), તમે એવા છો બળવંત ... જુઠ્ઠા બોલા gokul-māň vantolyo vāyo, indra-no ānyo ant giri govardhan kar dharyo (alyā), tame evā chho bala-vaňt ... juththā bolā

The King of Dev, Indra too fell to your gimmicry. When tornado blew over Vrindavan, Indra was defeated by you as, you lifted up Govardhan mountain on your little finger and thus protected the lives of the inhabitants of Gokul. You are such strong and powerful.

દાનવકુલ નિકંદન કીધું, ભક્તોને ઉગાર્યા (૨)

નરસૈંયાના સ્વામી મળ્યા (અલ્યા), ઉતાર્યા ભવપાર ... જુઠ્ઠા બોલા dānav-kul nikaňdan kidhuň, bhakto-ne ugāryā nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi malyā (alyā), utāryā bhav-pār ... juththā bolā Danava clan was destroyed and you became saviour of your devotees. Now that, as Narsinh has met his Lord, he sings joyfully as he is assured of attaining salvation.

But, for Radha and other Gopis he has always been a liar, who never returned to Gokul despite promises.

0. Thinking that their darling Krishna alias Shyam is not going to return soon, dejected Gopis convey a message to tell Shyam that, he may continue to live in Dwarika, till his heart pleases.

1. Riding on a chariot with Akrur both the valiant youngsters, Balaram and Krishna departed for Mathura. And when Dushasan began pulling saree of Draupadi, listening to the prayers Krishna miraculously supplied lengths of wraps, thus saved Draupadi's Honor.

2. Now that we know how the man of Yadav clan act who had two fathers. One of them killed his own maternal uncle. Why should he worry of committing sin of letting a lady like me die pining for him?

3. A home is not made up guests and neighbors won't be of use to relieve our pangs. One cannot learn without suffering, and that is true in case of love for one's lover.

4. Since Shyam has left Gokul herds of cows have stopped grazing grass and calves have stopped sucking milk. Entire Gokul is desolated without Shyam and the river banks of Yamuna too, are deserted.

5. At last, voicing haplessness of Gopi, listen to the prayers of your miserable devout, I pray thee with folded hands, Narsinh has always held you in contemplation.

My brother, we have to go on this path. Some of us may have to start walking a day earlier or some other may have to walk a day later. But it is invariable, that we all have to go from this life. Therefore, don't ever be arrogant.

કાહુકો ઘર પાંચ કોસ પર, કાહુકો દસ વીસ

સંતનકો ઘર નીજપુરીમાં, રામનામ જુગદીસ - ૧

Some of us may have to walk about five miles, while some other may have ten miles to walk to reach our ultimate destination. Isn't it said in Gujarati, that, our home is the end of the world? Until we reach home, we cannot relax. Drawing such simile, Kabir says, one who is engrossed in the spiritual contemplation and chants god's name, don't have to go very far. Their abode is within their soul or conscience as they are in the spiritual proximity of the Supreme Divinity.

આ હાટવાડે સોદે આયો, કછુડે ડેકે ડેકે ડેકાયો

તોટા બ્હોળા સોહી જાણે, જેણે એ હાટ લગાયો - ૨

In this verse, simile is drawn between the worldly affairs and a market place. You have come to this market with an intention of buying something 'useful'. Instead you are lost in the illusionary realm. In fact, the Supreme Being, who has set out this market, very well knows all your dealings that you do here!

તેરા સિર પર જમ છે વૈરી, અજહુ સમજ મેરે ભાઇ

કહે કબીર સોઇ જન ઉગર્યા, જેણે સમર્યા રઘુરાઇ - ૩

At least, now you must understand that, death in the form of your enemy is looming large over you. Kabir cautions that, only those who have taken recourse to god and ever remembers to utter god's name shall emerge a savior and attain salvation!

Considering a man similar to a fish, the saint says, a great ocean of divine happiness is swarming within you. Make that your permanent abode and don't venture in outer world in a search of happiness. You are in this world for just a few days. Just ponder over where you will go ultimately!

જહાં નહીં જાલ, જહાં નહીં ઢીમર, જહાં નહીં બંશી બજાય

અમરલોક જહાં મરણ ન પાવે, ઉત્પત્તિ પ્રલય નાહીં - ૧

The ocean that swarming within you has neither any fisherman, nor fishing nets! Even illusionary musical sounds too, are not playing, which may leave you waylaid. In the ocean within you, there are not either births or deaths! Neither there is creation nor is there any devastations! That's why it's called an abode of immortality!

ൟൟൟ Traditional Bhajans of Bhakta Samaj ൟൟൟ

Queen of Medta, Meera ardently loved Shri Krishna. Her love for Shri Krishna was so much profound that she thought of herself as wedded to him and her marriage with the King of Medta was false.

0. Addressing the king she says, "Rana Ji, Giridhar Krishna is my darling lover. He is unique inside-out and he is the Supreme Creator of all.

1. Krishna managed to grow mulberry tree at the house of Dhana Bhagat, and spread his glory true to his name. Krishna also, arranged to get double packsacks of domestic essentials, and Krishna himself acted as merchant (Vanjaaro) carrying goods to different places on bullocks.

2. Inspired My loved one, Lord Krishna, daughter of minister Ghrishtabuddhi, changed the word Vish (poison) into Vishaya (her own name) and got her married to him, and in this manner she managed to save life of Chandrahaas. He also helped Sage Gautam's wife attain emancipation and also ensured Nirvana of Keer family.

3. And when Airawat* was caught by a crocodile, Bhagwan Vishnu ran barefoot to save his life, and supplied lengths of wraps to Draupadi to protect her honour. Incarnated as Bhagwan Narsinh, he also saved life of his devout Prahlad and also ensured his emancipation by tearing of stomach of Hiranyakashyap and thus killing him.

4. Singing in praise of Prabhu Giridhar Meera says, he is dearest to all saintly beings. As she has always considered herself maid-servant of Krishna, why she should think of being a wife of Rana?

*Airawat = As per ancient legends, the elephant of Indra that was obtained during Samudra Manthan as the fourteenth precious thing.

ચંદ્રહાસ (chaňdra-hās)

In ancient times, Chandrahaas was born as a prince of Angad kingdom result of a boon granted by Mahadev. But by six months of his age, his parents were assassinated. A maid-servant escaped taking him along to another kingdom of King Kuntal. When Chandrahaas was five, the maid-servant died. Young boy used to do errands and worship Lord Vishnu. When some Brahmins were invited for luncheon, the King Kuntal, taking pity on the devout child he asked him to come for luncheon. When his minister Ghrishtbudhi discarded Chandrahaas during preferring worships to Brahmins, Sage Galav predicted, "Ghrishtabuddhi, the child whom you have discarded will, one day, become your son-in-law." Ghrishtabuddhi asked contract killers to kill the child, but they let the child live and they cheated the minister providing false evidences of his death.

Later, a childless King Kulind adopted Chandrahaas as his son. Ghrishtabuddhi saw that Chandrahaas was the adopted son of King Kulind. Thinking of a plan, he requested the King Kulind to spare prince Chandrahaas to send a message to his son, Madan. Ghrishtabuddhi handed a sealed envelope to the prince with a following message:

‘સ્વસ્તિશ્રી કૌંતલપુર સ્થાન મદનકુંવર બળવંત, અહીં ચંદ્રહાસને મોકલ્યો છે તે પત્ર લેજો ગુણવંત,
રૂપ ન જોશો, રંગ ન જોશો, ન પૂછશો ઘરસૂત્ર,
મુહૂર્ત ઘટી કોને ન પૂછશો એને વિષ દેજોની, પુત્ર.’

In short, he asked his son Madan to put Chandrahaas to death by poisoning him. On the other hand, where Chandrahaas was having afternoon siesta, the garden turned exotically green and full of flowers. Vishayaa, the daughter of Grishtabuddhi saw the young prince and fell in love with him at first sight. She found the envelope and read the message. Quickly thinking she changed the word Vish (વિષ) to Vishayaa (વિષયા). Now, the message read - "એને વિષયા દેજોની, પુત્ર" - give him Vishayaa, meaning get the daughter immediately married to the Prince. Isn't it truly said, 'Man proposes, God disposes'?

Committed theft for the sake of saint, did not doubt the death;
Ghatamdas by caste a Meena, went to the recluse of god.

ઘાટમદાસ (ghātam-dās)

[In trying to trace the legend narrated on Saint Ghatamdas, in the above bhajan, I found a different legend on Ghatam Das, which is narrated below for the interest of the readers.]

A dreaded dacoit called Ghaatam lived near Jodhpur. He was Mina by caste. Once he visited a a village called Ghodi, near Jaipur. On his way back, he saw a religious congregation. Out of curiosity and wanting to take rest, Ghatam mingled with the group of devout villagers.

He was fascinated by the speech being delivered by a hermit. As the meeting ended, Ghatam went into the hermit's hut and bowed before him. The hermit asked him, "Who are you, my son?" Ghatam replied, "Baba, I am Ghatam."

The hermot was astonished; he said "But Ghaatam is a great dacoit, a famous thief."

Ghaatam replied, "Well, that's me."

The hermit was about to preach him when Ghaatam said, "Don't ask me to give up my work as a dacoit, as I will not give it up. You may ask me to do something else."

"Will you promise me to do whatever I say?" The hermit asked.

"Yes, I promise that I will do."

"Very well, if I ask you to give up all evil deeds, you may not give up those. But, you may just adhere to four points – 1. Tell truth. Never tell a lie. 2. If you meet saints or hermits, serve them devotionally. 3. Before you begin to you eat food, always offer first morsel to go god and pray, "Whatever I eat, I proffer that to you. 4. Lastly, wherever saints are worshiping, stop there and join in worshiping. Just adhere to follow these four dictate." Ghatam thought, it is very easy to follow those dictates.

After a few days, Ghatam came to know of a merchant had brought a very powerful black mare to sell to the king of Jaipur. He heard that the mare ran at a lightning speed. He decided to steal it from the merchant. The mare was very costly. He visited the encampment of the merchant in the darkness of early morning. The merchant was asleep, but his sentry was awake.

Seeing a moving silhouette of man the sentry called out, "Who is that?"

The dacoit replied, "I am Ghatam."

The sentry thought this as a joke. How could Ghatam come at such time?

He called out, "Come on, move on, go on your way."

Ghatam untied the rope of the mare, jumped astride and galloped away. Somewhere around dawn, as Ghatam drew closer to his hideout, he saw prayers being offered in a wayside temple. He stopped and tied the mare to a tree nearby and entered the temple and sat down in the prayer meet.

Immediately, the sentry realized something was wrong. He alerted the merchant. During the day, he reported the matter to the king. The King ordered his soldiers to trace the dacoit. It was easy to trace the footsteps of mare. They located the mare tied to a tree-trunk near a temple. They also saw traces of two human feet were leading into the temple. They approached Ghatam and asked if he had brought the mare. He replied truthfully. The soldiers arrested him and took him to the king.

The king was impressed by Ghatam’s adherence to his promise made to the hermit. He knew that, Ghatam was very brave and could fight well. Having thought that, Ghatam was an honest man turned dacoit, he made him a lieutenant in his army.

However, Ghatam was moved by spirituality and gave up the services of the king and became a hermit. Lately, he came to be known as Ghatam Das.

When nothing helps bring a lover back, dejected lover resorts to taunting. Similar feelings of a Gopi of Vrindavan have been vividly narrated by Bhakt Narsinh.

0. Lamenting she says, my lord has not come, he has not returned. Looks like he met some charming woman in Mathura, so why would he like this small village of Gokul?

1. Until now he was a shepherd of Gokul, but now that he has become a king of Mathura. How can he come and stay in rustic Gokul and milch a cow daily?

2. In Mathura he will have lovely dresses and daily new attire. My dear one has escaped from Gokul and what I have is a black threadbare blanket that is black.

3. Sneeringly a Gopi goes to the extent remarking, it would be a good match of dark complexioned Krishna with the hunchback and limping maid-servant of Emperor Kans, Kubja, who is equally dark.

4. Our god made us dance in the narrow path passing through a bower of creepers or and flowery bushes of Vrindavan. But alas! Lord of Narsinh left us despairing and forlorn.

Any young woman would want to have husband like Shri Krishna.

Nurturing such wishful thinking, a young woman asks her friend to accompany her as she has a desire to see Kanji (Krishna).

0. In order to get Krishna as her husband, she would want to light lamps in every big and small temple. As it is believed that worshiping Lord Shiva and his consort Parvati, the young woman decides to worship Lord Shiva.

1. Imaging herself on the bathing-ghat of a sandalwood fragrant pond and bank made of pearls, Kanji is washing his lovely dhotis with Radha pouring water to help Kanji.

2. So much enthralled she is that she make believes that Jashumati (Yashoda) is her mother-in-law, and Nandalal is my father-in-law, while Krishna is my loving husband, Gokul is a town of my in-laws.

3. Bhakta Narsinh singing in praise of lord says, whoever sings, learns and listens to the songs of dances of Krishna and Radha in raas; such an individual will attain emancipation.

0. O’ Almighty, please honor your words of assurance. It is my plea; Should you cause pain and trouble, who would ever worship thee?

1. Without consideration of caste or creed, you picked up soiled leaf plates of Rohidas; Represent as a barber for Sena Nayi, and you were rightly called the Lord of Nayi.

2. You facilitated Prahlad fulfill his pledge, and stayed put yourself in an iron pillar;
And to alleviate Sudhanwa of dangers, you cooled down intensely hot pane.

3. It was you, by providing Panchali lengths of drapes, protected her honor in royal court;
And when mighty elephant uttered 'Rama', you only saved it from drowning in ocean.

4. As Meera was handed a glass of poison, you changed poisonous juice to divine nectar;
And when Ra' Mandlik challenged life of Mehta, you enabled him sing Raaga Kedar.

5. Our faith on you was firmed up, when you alleviated your devout worshipers;
With folded hands I pray the Lord of Tulsi, may you accomplish my inner desire.

In fact, ardent lovers of God have expressed their feelings in many ways. Sometimes for a devout, Krishna is a friend, brother, Guru or father and at times, many religiously dedicated pious poets like Meera and Narsinh Mehta have expressed their love for Krishna as if he was their lover or husband in the spiritual world.

This bhajan of Lord Krishna reflects vivid feelings of a lovelorn married woman, who is moved by her devotion and considers all worldly relations as hindrance on her path of devotion.

0. Lilting tunes of your flute are heard in my home, which is like a temple for me. I have a pair of vessels made of gold and silver and a drape (Odhani) studded with valuable gems.

1. On the pretext of fetching water from the lake she leaves her home to meet her lover and reaching the lake, she kept the pots on the bank of lake. Hanging her drape on a branch of a mango tree, she restlessly awaits her lover.

2. Passionate Kanji (Krishna) teases and catches my saree. Leave it O' my lovely god. If we are seen by my mother-in-law she would get wild and my sister-in-law, yet a friend would rebuke me.

3. On one hand there is dark night engulfing me, and on the other hand, my sleep is lost. And I woke up to the tinkling of the sounds of cymbals. For several days now, all womenfolk have gathered to gossip; hence, I have no recourse but to accompany Shamalia (Krishna).

4. O' my colorful god darling, my dear one made me dance lovingly. O' the lord of Narsinh, as you have met me, and you have enabled me to attain ultimate liberation.

0. O' lord Krishna, the King of Dwarika and husband of Rukmini, please come;
Wicked Duryodhan has begun to torment; I am looking around for you to come.

1. What makes you sleep O' Shyam, shake off your laziness and get prepared now; Goddess Lakshmi caresses your feet, have mercy and grace me with compassion.

2. Got elephant king released from a croc, and helped Sudhanwa the devout;
For defending devout Prahlad, you slay Hiranyakashyap appearing as Narsinh.

3. Where is your Yadav clan of fifty-six crore, and mighty brother Balram;
O' conqueror of Kalinaag and Jarasandh alike, where've you lost your power?

4. Dhruv & Prahlad prayed in womb, & you placed them state eternal;
By age seven you lifted Govardhan and let women of Vraj love thy.

5. Rush to hold me in my difficult time, be my savior O' Lord Krishna;
Come astride your pet eagle, pleads Narsinh Mehta over and again.

The devout worship Krishna differently. Some worship Krishna as a friend, while some may consider him guide, while for several women folks, he is either a friend, a lover or even divine husband with whom they have a relation running through several ages.

In the following devotional song, devout poet Narsinh Mehta has given words to the love-pangs of a woman ardently in love with Krishna. The whole song is a form of loving rebuke. Let us try to enjoy how a devout lover of Krishna complains and how she rebukes.

0. Dancing and playing overnight, Balwant, you are so tired; now don't knock at my door.
Go to the temple of that woman, where you spent your colorful night and had so much fun.

1. Your bloodshot eyes cause acute sleepiness, and lines of your lips have pinkish tinge;
And your small turban covering hair is disheveled, your appearance look like a base rogue.

2. Usually donning yellow Pitambari, O' Lord, you are changed, go and return someone's Patoli;
Now that you are accustomed to the house of mistress, come to my house tomorrow.

3. Other birds joined in chorus when a cuckoo called, my dear, it is dawn after a dark night;
Lord of Narsinh returned home, but separation seemed long, though shorter was night.

0. Your time of human form will end tomorrow, and then you would re-born in Chorashi[1]
You will not get this time again, O' men & women, sing in praise of your god.

1. Being born as a donkey wondering through streets, and potter will take no care;
Climbing atop a rubbish-heap you would bray, as undue weight is loaded on you.

2. Or as a son of a cow, you would pull carts, and roads would never end;
Blinding your eyes, thrusting you in oil-press, sitting atop a stupid will spike you.

3. Born as a camel, you will lift heavy loads, and eat Akul[2] and Kanthar[3];
Born as an elephant if you push a house, you would be goaded by a hook.

4. Being born as a bat, you will hang upside-down on trees and eat forest fruits;
And when birds throng the branches, your body would bear the blows.

5. Narsinh nicely appeals men & women to take his advice to their hearts;
Consider it weighty what is said in short, in no time body and riches will go.

0. With arrogance and strength of youth, you are not worshiping Lord Govind;
Sounding cymbals the death may strike suddenly, either today or tomorrow.

1. You have never cut down the frills and never performed noble deeds; and have entrapped yourself in hustle & bustle of life. And when purifying Yajna is lit up in the temple, you have begun to dig up a well.

2. O'soul, you have gone around entire world, but still you are not cautioned. Your life is like an earthen pot, which may fall apart suddenly struck by a rolling stone and then stupidly repent over the life.

3. You have dipped in murky pond to find pleasure, but that pond is as murky as a lustful woman. Your condition is like a being, which is struggling to save from drowning and growing pumpkins to sail.

4. When the lake was in good shape, bund was not built around it, and you did not acquire nobility by worshiping God. Devout saint Narasaiya says, when you fell to ground struck by death, name of Ram did not come on your lips.

80. Saňsār Rupi Pāranu ॥ સંસાર રૂપી પારણું

[1]Laksh Chorashi cradles
According to Hindu philosophy of birth & death, a soul has to pass through 8.4 million species (here, it is meant as cradles or wombs). The poet says that, if you perform your ordained actions (Karma) well, your soul can attain ultimate liberation from necessity to be born again in some form of specie.

જાગિયે રઘુનાથકુંવર ! પંછી વન બોલે;

jāgiye raghu-nāth-kuňvar ! pañchhi van bole Awake now, O' Raghunathkunwar! Birds are chirping in jungle;

ચંદ્રકિરણ શીતલ ભઇ, ચકઇ પિયુ મિલન ગઇ;

ત્રિવિધ મંદ ચલત પવન, પલ્લવ દ્રુમ ડોલે ... ૧ chaňdra-kiran shital bha-ii, chaka-ii piyu milan ga-ii trividh maňd chalat pavan, pal-lav drum dole ... 1

Moonlight has cooled, the sparrow flew away to meet her beloved;
Winds in three are blowing, luxuriant foliage are swinging on trees.

પ્રાતઃ ભાનુ પ્રકટ ભયો, રજનિકો તિમિર ગયો;

ભૃંગ કરત ગુંજ ગાન, કમલ દલ ખોલે ... ૨ prātah bhānu prakat bhayo, rajani-ko timir gayo bhruňg karat guňj gān, kamal dal khole ... 2

Sun has come up with dawn, darkness of night is washed away;
Black bees are humming, opening lotus buds flying around.

બ્રહ્માદિક ધરત ધ્યાન, સુર નર મુનિ કરત ગાન;

જાગનકી બેર ભઇ, નયનપલક ખોલે ... ૩

brahmā-dik dharat dhyān, sur nar muni karat gān jāgan-ki ber bha-ii, nayan-palak khole ... 3
With awakening of whole universe, saintly beings chant in worship;
Now, it's time to wake up, open up your lotus eyes, O' my dear.

તુલસીદાસ અતિ આનંદ, નીરખી કે મુખારવિંદ;

દાનનકો દેત દાન, ભૂષણ બહુ મોલે ... ૪ tulasi-dās ati ānaňd, nirakhi ke mukhāraviňd dānan-ko det dān, bhushan bahu mole ... 4

Looking at your lotus like face, Tulsidas is filled with pleasure,
Out of joy he gives away in donations, jewelries worth much valuable.

82. Jashodā ! Tārā Kānudā-ne ॥ જશોદા ! તારા કાનુડાને

જશોદા ! તારા કાનુડાને સાદ કરીને વાર; આવડી ધૂમ મચાવે વ્રજમાં કોઈ નહિ પૂછણહાર; jashodā ! tārā kānudā-ne sād kari-ne vār āvadi dhum machāve vraj-māň ko-ii nahi puchhan-hār Jashoda! Why don't you call and restrain your son, Kanuda;

In Vraj he creates so much nuisance, as if there is none to ask.

શીકું તોડ્યું ગોરસ ઢોળ્યું, ઉઘાડીને બ્હાર;
માખણ ખાધું ઢોળી નાંખ્યું, જાન કીધું આ વાર ... ૧ shiku todyu goras Dholyu, ughādi-ne bahār mākhan khādhu Dholi nāňkhyu, jāňn kidhuň ā vār … 1

Opening doors, he broke sling to hang up things, spilled milk & curds;
He ate up butter and spilled out some, and made so much of a mess.

ખાંખાંખોળાં કરતાં હીંડે, બીએ નહીં લગાર;
મહીં મથવાની ગોળી ફોડી, આ શાં કહીએ લાડ ... ૨

He goes on snooping around, and is never afraid of anyone;
He breaks mud-pots for churning buttermilk; can we call it fondling?

વારે વારે કહું છું તમને હવે ન રાખું ભાર;
નિત ઊઠીને એ કયમ સહીએ, વસી નગર મોઝાર ... ૩ vāre vāre kahuň chhuň tam-ne have na rākhu bhār nit uthi-ne e kayam sahi-e, vasi nagar mojhār … 3

Time and again we complain, but henceforth, I won't keep your respect;
While we live within this city, why should we bear this every day?

આડી-અવળી વાત તમારી, હું નહિ સાંભળનાર;
ડાહ્યો ડમરો લાડકો મારો, કદી ન એમ કરનાર ... ૪

āDi-avali vāt tamāri, huň nahi sambhal-nār dahyo damaro lādako māro, kadi na em kar-nār … 4
We are not going to listen to all your talks of beating around the bush;
Stop telling us, your dear docile son is wise, and plays no such pranks.

મારો કાનજી ઘરમાં સૂતો, ક્યારે દીઠો બ્હાર;

દહીં દૂધનાં માટ ભર્યાં છે, બીજે ચાખે ન લગાર ... ૫ māro kānaji ghar-māň suto, kyāre ditho bahār dahiň dudh-nā māT bharyā chhe, bije chākhe na lagār … 5

My son Kanji is asleep in home, where have you seen him out;
Pots full of milk and curds are in home, why should he taste elsewhere.

શાને કાજે મળીને આવી, ટોળી વળી દશ-બાર;

નરસૈંયાનો સ્વામી સાચો, જૂઠી વ્રજની નાર ... ૬

shāne kāje mali-ne āvi, toli vali dash-bār nar-sai-yā-no svāmi sācho, juthi vraj-ni nār … 6 Why these ten-twelve ganged up women have come joined;
Lord of Narasaiyya is truthful, but women Vraj are all liars.

tum jo dayāl moňse bahut kari re sumaran ko nar dehi dini, moň pāpi-thi kashuň nā saryo re ... repeat
You have had a lot of mercy on me,
You given birth as a human to worship, But I sinful have done nothing of that.

ગર્ભવાસ નવમાસ ઉંધે મુખ, ત્યાં ન મેરી સુધ વિસરી રે; જઠર અગ્નિમેં રાખ લિયો હૈ, કંચન સે મેરી દેહ કરી રે ... ૧

garbh-vās nav-mās uňdhe mukh, tyāň na meri sudha visari re

When I lay upside down in Mom's womb, where you have not let me down;
And you have kept a fire burning in my belly, by which my body turned golden.

કહાં લગી કહું અપરાધી જનમકો, આદિઅંત મોં સે બિગડી રે;
તુલસીદાસ પતિત તુમ પાવન, આ બાનેકી લાજ પડી રે ... ૨ kahāň lagi kahuň apa-rādhi janam-ko, ādi-aňt moň se bigadi re tulasi-dās patit tum pāvan, ā bāne-ki lāj padi re … 2

How far do I plead guilty for life, as I have spoiled everything from start to the end;
Says Tulsidas, you are purifier of the sinners; now, my shame is at stake.

In this bhajan, the parrot in a cage is symbolic representation of soul caged in human body.

90. Rām Kaho Piňjar Ke Suvā ॥ રામ કહો પિંજર કે સુવા

Nādbrahma pada 384, Rāga: Bilāval ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૩૮૪, રાગ - બિલાવલ

રામ કહો પિંજર કે સુવા;

અજહુ ખબર પડત નહિ અંધે, ધંધો કરતા સકલ જુગ મુઆ ... ટેક

rām kaho piňjar ke suvā ajahu khabar padat nahi aňdhe, dhaňdho karatā sakal jag mu-ā ... repeat O’ parrot of cage; chant the name 'Rām'. Still you have not realized the truth, while blindly you are engaged doing all worldly activities.

ઘડી સુથાર કઠેરા કીના, અજહુ સાજ નિશ્ચલ નહિ હુઆ;

અંતકાલ રિપુ હો તમ જ્યારે, હાર ચલ્યો જૈસે જુહારી જુહા ... ૧

ghadi suthār katherā kinā, ajahu sāj nish-chal nahi hu-ā

A carpenter curved and created banisters i.e. limitations, and till date you have not been steadied in the life. And when the end of life comes as an enemy to you, you left the world like a loser gambler, which means, without gaining anything.

આશા નિજ પાંચ પનિહારી, ઘટત નાંહિ કર્મજલ કુઆ;

કહે કબીર જેણે હરિ રસ લીધો, વોહી કે મુખ અમૃત ચુઆ ... ૨ āshā nij pāňch pani-hāri, ghatat nāhi karma-jal ku-ā kahe kabir jene hari ras lidho, vohi ke mukh amrut chu-ā … 2 Anticipation is akin to five women fetching water from a well. They go on pulling water out of the well, represented here as a bottomless source of Karma, which never gets emptied and soul goes on satiating one Karma after the other. But Saint Kabir says that, whoever has tasted the elixir of the devotion toward Supreme Divinity, it is like his mouth has sipped Amrut (nectar or juice making person immortal).

In several bhajans Saint Poet Narsinh Mehta has been characteristically sarcastic on religious pundits. Saint Narsinh Mehta, akin to Saint Kabir did not believe in any religious teachings. Rather he was ardently in favor of pursuing spirituality as Niranjan (undefiled), Nirakar (formless) spiritual entity.

0. How the God of Death[1] could harm one, who is devoted to Shyam?
Seeing marks[2], tilak[3] and Tulsi garland in neck, Yam would go away.

1. We should not stay near the worshipers of other faith or deities;
They would fall and make others to fall, and they are called illiberal.

2. Chanting god's name standing or sitting, laughing or playing,
Devoting heart at feet of God, sins of several births would be washed away.

3. Holding God fully consciously, such individual shall never be sad;
Many have been alleviated earlier, and many would pray in days to come.

4. Who has held Viththal in heart, how would he devote to anyone else;
A soul may go around eighty-four million births, except worshiping Lord of Narsinh.

gaDh par rājā rāj karat hai, nisha-din purat duhā-ii kām krodh do-uň garadan māre, a-i-si adal chalā-ii ... 3

જ્ઞાન ભંડાર ભરે ભરપૂર, કછુ ખર્ચો કછુ ખાઓ;

દાસ કબીર ચઢે ગઢ ઉપર, જીત નિશાન બજાઇ ... ૪

gnān bhaňdār bhare bhar-pur, kachhu kharcho kachhu khā-o dās kabir chaDhe gaDh upar, jit nishān bajā-ii ... 4

This bhajan is entirely symbolic. In earlier days, to make the masses understand teachings on spiritualism, the poet saints like Kabir extensively made use of symbolism in their discourses and bhajans. In the following Bhajan, khā-ii ખાઇ and dar-vājā દરવાજા refer to different openings of human body, and spires refer to protruding parts of body. Similarly, shirā શિરા refers to elements of human body. Five pradhān પ્રધાન (ministers) refer to five basic elements according to Hindu cosmology, viz. earth, water, light, air and space.

Placing my faith on Rām, I will build my body like a town;

1. This body is made of sixteen ducts, ten doors and fifty-two spires;
With three hundred sixty elements and a peripheral fortress around.

2. You've regulated five ministers, so that the public won't suffer pains; Consciousness guard the body at all time, let no one plunder the town.

3. A King rules over the fort, and showers benedictions thru day and night;
Passion and anger both pump up ego, such correctness prevails.

4. Treasures of knowledge abound, spent some of it and spent some on foods;
Kabir with a sense of servitude of divinity, climb on spiritual heights to win the battle.

94. Rājā Rām Japo Mere Bhā-ii ॥ રાજા રામ જપો મેરે ભાઈ

Nādbrahma pada 409, Rāga: Moti Āshāvari ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૦૯, રાગ - મોટી આશાવરી

રાજા રામ જપો મેરે ભાઈ, જાકે ચૌદ લોક બડાઈ ... ટેક

rājā rām japo mere bhā-ii, jāke cha-u-da lok badā-ii … repeat Pray O' my brother, pray Ram, who has been acclaimed in fourteen worlds[1].

માગી મુક્તિ ભક્તિ ક્યોં ન માગી, ચિન્યા નહિ રઘુરાય;

જબ ચિન્યા તબ લેવા ન દેવા, સાધન કર લે ભાઈ ... ૧

māgi mukti bhakti kyoň na māgi, chinyā nahi raghu-rāy jab chinyā tab levā na devā, sādhan kar le bhā-ii … 1
You asked for Liberation, but didn't ask for devotion, and never contemplated on Raghurai;
When a thought occurred, it had nothing to do with Him, it's better worship, my Brother.

જબ હરિ જાણ્યા તબ મન માન્યા, મનષા ભોગ લગાઈ;

કોટિ કોટિ તીર્થ વ્રત કીના, એક સિદ્ધિ નવ પાઈ ... ૨ jab hari jānyā tab man mānyā, manashā bhog lagā-ii koti koti tirth vrat kinā, ek siddhi nav pā-ii … 2

When Divinity was realized, mind was assured, sacrificial offering was made with one's mind;
Innumerable pilgrimages were undertaken, not a single spiritual attainment was attained.

કહેત કબીર એક સકલ સાધનમેં, જન્મો જન્મ ફરી આયા;

અબ તો સંત સંગત રૂચિ માંગુ, જેણે હરિજશ સુજશ સુનાયો ... ૩ kahet kabir ek sakal sādhan-meň, janamo janam fari āyā ab to saňt saňgat ruchi maňgu, jene hari-jash sujash sunāyo … 3 Kabir says, pursuing discipline for attainment of God, traversed in vain through several births;

Now, I just seek refuge of the saints, who have given discourse on the grace of Almighty.

[1] Fourteen Worlds – Hindu mythology defines fourteen worlds (not to be confused with planets) – seven higher worlds (heavens) and seven lower ones (underworlds). The Earth is considered the lowest of the seven higher worlds. The higher worlds are the seven Vyahrtis (Lok), viz. Bhu, Bhuvas, Svar, Mahas, Janas, Tapas and Satya (the world that is ruled by Brahma); and the lower ones (the "seven underworlds" or Paatalas) are Atala, Vitala, Sutala, Rasaataala, Talatala, Mahaatala, Paatala.

95. Dehadi Thase Mitti ॥ દેહડી થશે મિટ્ટી

Nādbrahma pada 419, Rāga: Moti Āshāvari ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૧૯, રાગ - મોટી આશાવરી

દેહડી થશે મિટ્ટી, મુરખ તારી બુદ્ધિ ક્યાં નાઠી;

dehadi thase mitti, murakh tāri buddhi kyāň nāthi
O' silly man, your body would turn to dust, have you lost your mind?

જીવ આયો તબ શું લાયો, જાશે ત્યારે નાગો;

નિર્લજ્જ તુજને લાજ નહિ, તને કોણ પહેરાવે વાગો ... ૧ jiv āyo tab shuň lāyo, jāshe tyāre nāgo nirlajj tuj-ne lāj nāhi, tane kon paherāve vāgo … 1

What've you brought when you were born, and you would go unclothed when you leave;
O' shameless, you won't have sense of shame no care, and who would clothe you?

કુડ કપટ કરી બહું ધન સાંચ્યા, સાંચ્યા ધન કોણ ખાશે;

જીવને જ્યારે જમ લઈ જાશે, ત્યાં કોણ વહારે ધાશે ... ૨

kud kapat kari bahuň dhan saňchya, shaňchya dhan kon khāshe jiv-ne jyāre jam la-ii jāshe, tyāň kon vahāre dhāshe … 2
You've played several tricks to earn wealth, who would enjoy your wealth accumulated;
And when a messenger of death would take you away, who would come to your help?

વેઢ વીંટી બાજુબંધ બેરખા, કંઈ ન આવે તારી સાથ;

ચેતનારા ચેતો માનવી, જાવું છે જમને હાથ ... ૩

veDh viňti bāju-baňdh berakhā, kaň-ii na āve tāri sath chet-nārā cheto mānavi, jāvu chhe jam-ne hāth … 3
Bracelets, rings, armbands and Berkha[1], nothing at all will remain in your possession;
Wake up man, wake up now; you have to go with God of Death when your time comes.

ઊંચા વાસ દેખી શું ફૂલ્યો, શું મોહ્યો સુંદર નારી;

નરસૈંયાના સ્વામીની ભક્તિ વિના, તને કોણ પમાડે મુક્તિ ... ૪ uňchā vās dekhi shuň fulyo, shuň mohyo suňdar nāri nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi-ni bhakti vinā, tane kon pamāde mukti … 4

Why you are puffed-up with pride looking at high buildings and fell for beauteous women?
Without worshiping the Lord of Narsinh who would ever grant you ultimate liberation?

96. Rām-ko Nitya Kije Sumaran ॥ રામકો નિત્ય કીજે સુમરણ

Nādbrahma pada 420, Rāga: Sārang ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૨૦, રાગ - સારંગ

રામકો નિત્ય કીજે સુમરણ, રામકો નિત્ય કીજે; નિર્મલ નિર્મલ પ્રેમ હરિરસ, સંત સંગત મિલી પીજે ... ટેક rām-ko nitya kije sumaran, rām-ko nitya kije sumaran nirmal nirmal prem hari-ras, saňt saňgat mili pije ... repeat

At all times worship Ram, and always meditate on Ram; Devotion to the God is purest elixir, share it with saintly beings.

જૂઠી માયા મોહ વિષય રસ, મનકો ત્યાગી દીજે;
હૃદય કમલમેં નિશદિન હરિ હરિ, એહી વિલંબ ન કીજે ... ૧ juthi māyā moh vishay ras, man-ko tyāgi dije ruday kamal-meň nisha-din hari hari, e-hi vilamb na kije ... 1 Illusion, ignorance and lust, cast them off from your mind;

Hold an image of God ever in heart, have no delay in such doing.

તન મન ધન સબ મનષા વાચા, રામ સમર્પણ કીજે;
કહેત કબીર ઔર નહિ માગું, ચરણ કમલ દત્ત દીજે ... ૨ tan man dhan sab manashā vāchā, rām samar-pan kije kahet kabir a-u-ra nahi māguň, charan kamal dat-ta dije ... 2 Devote yourself to Ram with body, mind, wealth, heart and speech;

Kabir prays just for refuge at the feet of Ram, and now worldly gains.

97. Rām Bhajan Visari Ho Gayā ॥ રામ ભજન વિસરી હો ગયા

Nādbrahma pada 421, Rāga: Sārang ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૨૧, રાગ - સારંગ

રામ ભજન વિસરી હો ગયા, રામ ભજન વિસરી હો ગયા; ગર્ભવાસમેં ભક્તિ કબુલી, બાહર આકે ક્યા કિયા ... ટેક rām bhajan visari ho gayā, rām bhajan visari ho gayā garbh-vās-meň bhakti kabuli, bāhar āke kyā kiyā ... repeat Alas! You have forgotten to pray Ram, you disregarded to worship Ram;

While in womb, you agreed to devotion, and forgot after you were born.

મહેલમેં બૈઠી મોજ નિત કરત હૈ, સોળશેં સાહેલીયાં;
પલમેં છોડ ચલ્યો ઠકુરાઈ, વેદ કોઉ ન કહૈ ઓ ... ૧

mahel-meň moj nit karat hai, solashe sāheli-yā pal-meň chhod chalyo thaku-rā-ii, ved ko-u na kahai o ... 1 Sitting in a palace sixteen hundred female friends are merry making daily,
In a flash the soul left all splendours behind, never uttering words of Vedas.

જબ તેરો પંથીપંથ ચલેગો, સંગે સાથી કો ન લિયા;
કહેત કબીર રામ ભજો પ્રાણી, તનમન હરજીકો અર્પીઆ ... ૨ jab tero paňthi-paňth chalego, saňge sāthi ko na liyā kahet kabir ram bhajo prāni, tan-man haraji-ko arpi-ā ... 2

When your soul tread path of devotion, no companion would accompany you;
Says Kabir, pray Ram devoutly, dedicate yourself to God with body and mind.

98. Maňdir Dekh Dare Sudāmā-ji ॥ મંદિર દેખ ડરે સુદામાજી

Nādbrahma pada 426, Rāga: Sārang ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૨૬, રાગ - સારંગ

મંદિર દેખ ડરે સુદામાજી, મંદિર દેખ ડરે
કહાં જો ગઈ મેરી તૃણ કી ઝુપડીયાં, તા ઘેર મહેલ ખડે રે ... ટેક maňdir dekh dare sudāmā-ji, maňdir dekh dare kahāň jo ga-ii meri truna ki jhupadi-yā, tā gher mahel khade re ... repeat Looking at the temple bewildered Sudama stood aghast;

Where is my thatched hut where this palace stood now.

પહેલે રે પ્હોરે હસ્તિ ઝૂલે, દૂજે તોરંગ ખડે રે ત્રીજે રે પ્હોરે વસ્ત્ર જ ભારે, ચોથે રત્ન જડે રે ... ૧ pahele pahore hasti jhule, duje toraňg khade re trije pahore vastra ja bhāre, chothe ratna jade re ... 1

In day's first part elephants stand swaying, and horses in the second part;
The third part of day saw costly dresses, with jewellery in fourth part of day.

જા ઘેર તાલ પખવાજ વાગે, તા ઘેર નૌબત વાજે
જા ઘેર રાગ છત્રીસ આલાપે, તા ઘેર સભર ભરે રે ... ૨

jā gher tāl pakhā-vaj vāge, tā gher na-u-bat vāje jā gher rāg chha-trise ālāpe, tā gher sabhar bhare re ... 2
Is this my house where Pakhawaj is playing and Nobat too being played;
Where thirty-six Raaga are sung, Sudama wonders, is that my house?

ઇત ઉત જાત ફિરત હૈ સુદામા, મનમેં સોચ કરે રે ધામ દેખી મન ચકિત ભયો હૈ, ડરી ડરી ડગલાં ભરે રે ... ૩

i-ta u-ta jāt firat hai sudāmā, man-meň soch kare re dhām dehi man chakit bhayo hai, dari dari dagalā bhare re ... 3 Bewildered Sudama goes about pondering, thinking and wondering;
Looking at the palatial home, as he fearfully trudges forwards.

મહલમેં બૈઠી નાગર બ્રાહ્મણી, પંડિત આયે ઘેર રે સુરદાસ પ્રભુ અપને સખા કો, દારિદ્રય દુર કરે રે ... ૪ mahal-meň bai-thi nāgar brāhmani, paňdit āye gher re sur-dās prabhu apane sakhā ko, dāri-dray dur kare re ... 4 Seated in palace Nagar Brahmin lady, elated seeing Pundit come;

Lord of Surdas worked to eradicate poverty of his dear friend.

99. Goviňd Nām Dharyo Kin Tero ॥ ગોવિંદ નામ ધર્યો કીન તેરો

Nādbrahma pada 428, Rāga: Sārang ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૨૮, રાગ - સારંગ

ગોવિંદ નામ ધર્યો કીન તેરો, ગોવિંદ નામ ધર્યો;
દ્રુપદસુતાકી લજ્જા રાખી, ચીર કો દાન કર્યો રે ... ટેક goviňd nām dharyo kin tero, goviňd nām dharyo drupad-sutā-ki laj-jā rākhi, chir ko dān karyo re ... repeat O' Govind! Who gave you the name, why you have been called Govind;

You protected honour of sister Draupadi by donating lengths of silks.

ચાર પદારથ દિયો હૈ સુદામા, તાંદુલ મુખમેં ધર્યો; સાંદીપકો સુત આન દિયો હૈ, વિદ્યા પાઠ પઢ્યો રે ... ૧ chār padā-rath diyo hai sudāmā, tāňdul mukh-meň dharyo sāňdip-ko sut ān diyo hai, vidyā pāth paDhyo re ... 1

Just for Sudama fed you handful of rice, you gifted him with things of four kinds;
For teachings received from Sandipani, you brought back his son from Pataal[1].

લેને રે દેને તું હરિ દાતા, મોંસે કછુ ના સર્યો;
સુરકી બેર કઠણ હોઇ બૈઠી, જન્મકો અંધ કર્યો રે ... ૨

lene re dene tuň hari dātā, moňse kachhu nā saryo sur-ki ber kathan hoii bai-thi, janma-ko aňdh karyo re ... 2
You are the giver and taker, O' God! I could not do anything of this sort;
But, fate granted to Surdas is so tough, that I am made blind since my birth.

[1] Pataal = lowest of the nether regions according to mythology; abode of Nagas (serpents); a very deep abyss of the earth.

100. Nahi Chhāňdu Bāvā Shri Rām-nām ॥ નહિ છાંડુ બાવા શ્રી રામનામ

Nādbrahma pada 444, Rāga: Nirgun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૪૪, રાગ - નિર્ગુણ વસંત

નહિ છાંડુ બાવા શ્રી રામનામ,

મેરે ઔર પઢનસે કોન કામ, જંજાલ સકલસે કોન કામ;

nahi chhāňdu bāvā shri rām-nām, mere a-u-ra paDhan-se kon kām, jaňjāl sakal-se kon kām
I will not ever give up chanting name of Shri Ram's name,
What is for me to do other than to chant, why get involved in worldly affairs?

પ્રહ્લાદ સધારે પઢ નિશાળ, સંગ સખા લીયે બહુત બાલ;

કહાં જો પઢાવે પંડિત ઔર જાલ, મેરી પાટીમેં લિખ દો શ્રી ગોપાલ ... ટેક prah-lād sadhāre paDh nishāl, saňg sakhā liye bahut bāl kahāň jo paDhāve paňdit a-u-ra jāl, meri pāti-meň likh do shri gopāl ... repeat Taking along several friends, for studies Prahlad went to a school;

As the teacher taught worldly affairs, I write in my slate Shri Gopal.

સોંડા મુર્ગા કહ્યો હૈ જાય, પ્રહ્લાદ બંધાયો વેગે લાઇ;

રામનામ કહેનકી છાંડ બાન, અબહી છોડા હું મેરો કહ્યો હી માન ... ૧ soňdā murgā kahyo hai jāy, prah-lād baňdhāyo vege lā-ii

rām-nām kahena-ki chhānd bān, abahi chhodā huň mero kahyo hi mān ... 1 Lashed with cosh and kneeling down, Prahlad was tied with ropes;
Give up obstinacy to chant name of Ram, you would be freed if you agree.

કહાં જો ડરાવે પંડિત વારંવાર, જેને જલ સ્થલ ગિરિસે લિયો ઉગાર;

માર ડાર ભાવે દેહી ઝાર, રામનામ છાંડુ તો મેરે ગુરૂ હી ગાર ... ૨ kahāň jo darāve paňdit vāram-vār, jene jal sthal girise liyo u-gār mār dār bhāve dehi jhār, rām-nām chhāňdu to mere guru hi gār ... 2 Pundit threatens constantly, who was saved from waters or mountain heights;

Bullied by death or torture, let Guru throw me in cellar, I won't stop chant of Ram.

કાઢી ખડગ કોપ્યો રિસાયે, તેરો રાખનારો મોહે બતાય;

સ્તંભ ફોડ પ્રગટે મોરાર, હિરણ્યાકંસ માર્યા નખ વિદાર ... ૩ kāDhi khadag kopyo risāye, tero rākh-nāro mohe batāy stambh fod pragate morār, hiranyā-kaňsa māryā nakh vidār ... 3 Pulling out a sword he angrily retorted, show me your savior, or I would kill;

Morar emerged ripping a pole apart, with nails killed Hiranya, splitting chest apart.

આદિ પુરુષ દેવાધિદેવ, જેણે ભક્ત હીત ધર્યો નૃસિંહ ભેખ;

કહેત કબીર તેરો ન લહું પાર, પ્રહ્લાદ ઉગાર્યો અનેક વાર ... ૪ ādi purush devā-dhi-dev, jene bhakta hit dharyo nar-siňh bhekh kahet kabir tero na lahuň pār, prah-lād u-gāryo anek vār ... 4

The Supreme Soul, the first man, for good of devout incarnated as Narsinh; Says Kabir, I cannot to realize your mysteries, who saved Prahlad several times.

101. Hari-nām Tatva Tri-lok Sār ॥ હરિનામ તત્વ ત્રિલોક સાર

Nādbrahma pada 445, Rāga: Nirgun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૪૫, રાગ - નિર્ગુણ વસંત

હરિનામ તત્વ ત્રિલોક સાર, લોલીન ભયે સૌ ઉતરે પાર;

hari-nām tatva tri-lok sār, lolin bhaye sa-u utare pār;
God's name is an essence of three worlds[1], its chant liberates the soul from all fears;

એક જોગી એક જટાધાર, એક અંગે ભભૂતિ ઘસે અપાર;

એક મુનિ મુખ મૌન લીન, ઐસે હોત હોત જુગ જાત છિન્ન ... ૧ eka jogi eka jatā-dhār, eka aňge bhabhuti ghase apār eka muni mukh ma-u-n lin, aise hota hota jug jāt chhin-na ... 1

One Jogi[2] has matted hair on head, while the other smears ash on himself;
One Muni[3] speaks not to observe silence, life gets wasted in such gimmicks.

એક આરાધે શક્તિ શિવ, એક પડદા દે દે વધત જીવ;

એક કુલદેવી કો જપે જાપ, ઐસે ત્રિભુવન ભૂલ્યો ત્રિવિધ તાપ ... ૨ eka ārādhe shakti shiva, eka padadā de de vadhat jiv eka kul-devi ko jape jāp, aise tri-bhuvan bhulyo trividh tāp ... 2

One prays to Shakti and Shiv, another goes on sacrificing animals to appease god;
One worships and prays to family deities, thus forgetting three types of anguish[4].

એક અન્ન છોડ કે પીબત દૂધ, હરિનામ વિના હૃદયે અશુદ્ધ;

કહેત કબીર ઐસો વિચાર, હરિનામ વિના કૈસે ઉતરે પાર ... ૩

eka an-na chhod ke pibat dudh, hari-nām vinā rudaye ashud-dh kahet kabir aiso vichār, hari-nām vinā kaise utare pār ... 3
One quits food and drinks milk, heart remains impure without chant of god's name;
Just think, says Kabir, how can you attain emancipation fathoming ocean-like life?

[1] Three worlds - ત્રિલોક - the three worlds, viz. heaven, earth and the lower region.

[2] Jogi – જોગી - ascetic following the Shaiva path (devout follower of Lord Shiva)

[3] Muni – મુનિ – A sage or ascetic following Jainism

[4] Three types of anguish - ત્રિવિધ તાપ – આધિ (mental trouble, anxiety), વ્યાધિ (disease, malady) અને ઉપાધિ (worldly troubles).

This bhajan succinctly reflects internal struggle within the heart of every human being. Here a mind is symbolized by a wasp and conscience or common sense is symbolically referred as female wasp. Sadness of the female wasp is borne out of realization that the worldly passions are futile and detrimental for self-realization. A lotus symbolizes soul. As lotus grows in water and mud yet remains untarnished, similarly spiritually inclined and devout soul remains unblemished. Finally, flowers and forest symbolize worldly passions and the mortal world. Now, let us enjoy the spiritual substance of this great bhajan by Saint Kabir.

102. Chal Chal Re Bhamarā Kamal Pās ॥ ચલ ચલ રે ભમરા કમલ પાસ

Nādbrahma pada 447, Rāga: Nirgun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૪૭, રાગ - નિર્ગુણ વસંત

ચલ ચલ રે ભમરા કમલ પાસ, તેરી ભમરી બોલે અતિ ઉદાસ;

chal chal re bhamarā kamal pās, teri bhamari bole ati u-dās
As a wasp jumps from flower to flower sucking pleasant juice of flowers after flowers a 'bhamari'[2] or a female wasp sadly counsels to divert mind from over-indulgence in material or carnal happiness towards attaining spirituality.

તેં બહુત પુષ્પકો લિયો હૈ ભોગ, તેરે સુખ ન ભયો તન બઢ્યો હૈ રોગ;

મૈં જો કહું તુમ્હેં બાર બાર, મેં સબ વન ઢૂંઢ્યો ડાર ડાર ... ટેક teň bahut pushpa-ko liyo hai bhog, tere sukh na bhayo tan baDhyo hai rog mai jo kahuň tumhe bār bār, meň sab van DhuňDh-yo dār dār ... repeat

The female wasp says that, you have relished joy of several flowers, but that has never given you true happiness, but now your body is inflicted with diseases. I have been telling you time and again, to desist from pursuing false happiness in every flower and on every branch in the forest.

દિવસ ચાર કો સો રંગ ફૂલી, ત્યોંહી દેખી કહાં રહ્યો હૈ ભૂલી;

ઇન વન સંપત્તિમેં લગેગી આગ, તબ તુમ ભમરા કહાં જાઓગે ભાગ ... ૧ divas chār ko so raňg fuli, tyoň-hi dekhi kahāň rahyo hai bhuli

i-na van sampati-meň lagegi āg, tab tum bhamarā kahāň jā-o-ge bhāg ... 1 Nectar of colorful flowers is sure to give you momentary joy. Engrossed in such futile joyful pursuits you seem to have been waylaid from your path. O' Bhamara[1], where would you escape when fire breaks-out in the lush greenery of the forest?

પુષ્પ પુરાનો ભયો હૈ સુક, તબ તુમ ભમરા કો લગી અધિક ભૂખ;

ઉડ ન સકે પર ગયો હૈ તૂટ, તબ ભમરી રુવે શિશ કૂટ ... ૨ pushpa purā-no bhayo hai suk, tab tum bhamarā ko lagi adhik bhukh uda na sake par gayo hai tut, tab bhamari ruve shish kut ... 2

With passage of time when flowers wilt and wither, but your hunger for sensual pleasures seem to have grown. Now, when you have grown old you cannot fly anymore and walk with broken legs. At such time, saddened to see your such a state, the female wasp keeps crying banging her head.

તબ ચૌદિશ જુએ મધુપરાય, તબ ભમરી લે ચલી શિશ ચઢાઇ;

કહેત કબીર મન કો સ્વભાવ, રામભક્તિ બિના જમકો દાવ ... ૩ tab cha-u-dish ju-e madhu-parāy, tab bhamari le chali shish chaDhā-ii kahet kabir man ko sva-bhāv, rām-bhakti binā jam-ko dāv ... 3

At such time, the wasp looks around in four directions for recourse and finds refuge of the female wasp or conscience. Bhamari[2] leads the wasp to the omnipresent realm of the Supreme Soul. Saint Kabir rightly says that, human mind is akin to the wasp, which falls prey to the Jamraj[3] without worshiping Ram.

[1] Bhamara - Male wasp

[2] Bhamari - Female wasp

[3] Jamraj - God of Death

103. Āvyo Mās Vasaňt Vadhā-manā ॥ આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં

Nādbrahma pada 478, Rāga: Nirgun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૭૮, રાગ - નિર્ગુણ વસંત

આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં, છબીલાજીને કરીએ છાંટણા;

āvyo mās vasaňt vadhā-manā, chhabi-lāji-ne kari-e chhāňtanā
Let us sprinkle kumkum[1] on Chhabila[2] Ji, Greetings! Month of Vasant[3] is here;

વન કેસર ફૂલ્યો અતિ ઘણો, તહાં કોકિલા શબ્દ સોહામણાં;

રૂડી આરતના લઇએ ભામણા, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૧ van kesar fulyo ati ghano, tahāň kokilā shabda shohā-manā rudi ārat-nā la-ii-e bhāmanā, āvyo mās vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 1

Flowers of Van Kesar4 are blooming and cuckoo cooing sweetly; Let's take Bhamna[5] of propitious Aarti, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

તું તો વહેલી થા ને આજ રે, તારાં સરસે સારાં કાજ રે;

તું તો મુક હૈયાની દાઝ રે, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૨ tuň to vaheli thā ne āja re, tārā sarase sārā kāj re tuň to muk hai-yāni dājh re, āvyo mās vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 2 Get ready sooner today, all your problems would be resolved;

Leave your heart rending aside, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

તું તો નવરંગ ચોળી પહેર રે, પછી આજ થાશે તારો લ્હેર રે;

રૂડા હરજી આવ્યા તારે ઘેર રે, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૩

tuň to nav-raňg choli paher re, pachhi āja thashe tāre laher re rudā haraji āvyā tāre gher re, āvyo mās vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 3
Wear a Navrang[6] choli[7], and then you shall have joy of life; Lovely Harji[8] has come to your home, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

તું તો સજ શણગાર સાહેલડી, લેને અબિલ ગુલાલ ખોલા ભરી;

પછી ઓ આવે હસતાં હરિ, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૪ tuň to saj shan-gār sāheladi, lene abil gulāl kholā bhari pachhi o āve hasatā hari, āvyo mās vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 4

Put on dresses and ornaments; take handful of Abil Gulal[9];
There comes Hari, smiling pleasantly, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

રૂડી આરતના અંગો અંગ છે, તહાં રમવાનો રૂડો રંગ છે;

તહાં છબીલાજીનો સંગ છે, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૫ rudi ārat-nā aňgo aňga chhe, tahāň ramavā-no rudo raňg chhe tahāň chhabi-lāji-no saňg chhe, āvyo más vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 5 Anxious is filled in every limb, and joy of playing with god is greater;

Here, Chhabila Ji is a companion, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

તહાં આનંદ સરખો થાય છે, તહાં મોહન મોરલી વાયે છે;

તહાં નરસૈંયો ગુણ ગાય છે, આવ્યો માસ વસંત વધામણાં ... ૬ tahāň ānaňd sarakho thāy chhe, tahā mohan morali vāye chhe tahāň nar-sai-yo gun gāy chhe, āvyo más vasaňt vadhā-manā ... 6

Joy prevails there where lilting tunes are played by Mohan[10];
There Narsainyo sings prayers, Greetings! Month of Vasant is here.

Saint Kabir is known to extensively and convincingly use metaphors in Bhajans. Describing the spiritual state Kabirdas Ji inspires us to strive to rise above worldly attachments for attainment of ultimate realization.

0. Where the eternal soul dwells in spiritual realm, the season of spring never wanes[1].
The bee[2] rests where the trees[3] are devoid of roots, branches, leaves and shades.

1. It has dry wells and orchards without lands[4], rivulet flowing between two veins[5];
In such a state of fantasy, a flower-girl proffers flowers picked from here[6]; there[7].

2. Five basic elements make it easy as trees shade living beings with comforts;
But intellect as a flower-girl, plucks flowers of Karma, through days and nights.

3. As mind remains steadily immersed in spiritual realm, flower-girl garlands the soul;
Kabirdas Ji expounds that the soul reaches heights in the body akin to sublime peaks.

[1] Here, the everlasting imperishable spiritual realm is symbolized by season of spring that never dies away.

[2] bee – the living being engrossed in worldly material happiness.

[3] trees – sources of material pleasure

[4] lands with dry wells and blooming orchards – illusionary worldly realm with dark bottomless wells without water that can never quench thirst, and illusionary baseless (ground-less) orchards.

[5] rivulet between two veins – A pulse called Sushumna pulsating between two veins – Ida and Pingla. The soul is restrained between Ida and Pingla i.e. disaffection of mind.

[6] here – material world

[7] there – spiritual realm

105. Rām-nām Prah-lād Pukāre ॥ રામનામ પ્રહલાદ પુકારે

Nādbrahma pada 483, Rāga: Sagun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૮૩, રાગ - સગુણ વસંત

rām-charan nar-hari pragate, janako kārya ja sāryo rām vimukh bhaktan-ko drohi, rākshas māri vidāryo ... 5

0. Devotional chants of Prahlad worshiping Rama, anger the demons; Ignoring warnings of Hiranyakashyap, he lovingly sings in praise of god.

1. Inclusive of King and royal assembly, all demons persuade Prahlad; Spellbound by spiritual elixir, the prince unwaveringly worships god.

2. Defiled devils plead Prahlad, give up chant of Rama, O' child; Believe on what I say as the truth, the King is wildly enraged.

3. Retorting back saying, who is their god and all these are sham;
My life is but love for Rama, and he alone is my beloved master.

4. Wielding a sword Hiranyakashyap roared, where is your master?
He is ubiquitous, dwells within you and also in the pole and rock.

5. Worship at the feet of god made him incarnate as Lord Narsinh;
God killed the demon averse to Ram, subversive to disciple alike.

106. Ārat Rudi Rudi Mārā Vahālā ॥ આરત રૂડી રૂડી મારા વ્હાલા

Nādbrahma pada 484, Rāga: Sagun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૮૪, રાગ - સગુણ વસંત

ati rudo gulāl agar jo, rudo mukh tambol ati rudo maheta nar-sai-yā-no svāmi, nit nit jhākam jhol ... 3

0. My dear God! Your aarti[1] blooms my joy, like flowers blossom in spring;
Like Kesudo[2] blooms in wondrous forest, like spectacular king of flowers.

1. As young lasses clap on rhythmic music and beats of the drums, Skilful women blow conch, as Madan Gopal on flute plays lilting tunes.

2. Vrindavan looks picturesquely lovely and bank of Jamuna looks scenic;
Beauteous groups of Gopi[3] and Gwal[4], and handsome heroic Haldhar[5].

3. How using good Gulal, Agar and chewing Tambol[6] Shyam looks charming;
Master of Narsinh looks charming and with that life is delightfully bright.

[1] Aarti – Prayer song sung waving of lights before the deity. The word "આરત" is incorrect. આરત means (suffering; distressed, afflicted; fallen into a difficulty; important, essential; anxious due to trouble; difficulty; need; longing; aspiration.) The correct word is આરતી.

[2] Kesudo – the tree Butea frondosa – The word Kesar is incorrectly used here. Though, Kesar is of saffron color, so is Kesudo. Kesudo (in Gujarati Khakhro - ખાખરો, પલાશવૃક્ષ) blooms in forest with the advent of spring season.

[3] Gopi – woman of the cowherd class; female devotee of Shri Krishna.

[4] Gwal – cowherd, who takes cows or cattle to pasture or tends them.

[5] Haldhar Vir – Shri Krishna

[6] Tambol – beetle-leaf (dressed with lime, areca nut, catechu, etc.). It is also called Tāmbool (તાંબૂલ).

107. Āvo Mārā Vahāla Ati Radhi-yālā ॥ આવો મારા વ્હાલા અતિ રઢિયાળા

Nādbrahma pada 485, Rāga: Sagun Vasant ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૪૮૫, રાગ - સગુણ વસંત

pāna-tanuň biduň pātali-ā, te tam-ne khav-dāvuň nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi vasaňt khele, jovā-ne tyāň jāvuň ... 3

0. Welcome my dear charming master, my home is graced by your presence;
This day in my life is auspicious, having a chance to see you in person.

1. Let me wash feet of my Navaliya[1] and make him sit comfortably on a throne;
If you sleep, let me spread a bed and quilt as soft as a flower and swing a fan.

2. Let me serve fifty-six delicious foods, Chhabilaji[2], and serve you lovingly; Graceful and charming it would be when I walk before you tinkling my cymbals.

3. Let me make you serve you roll of betel leaves dressed with various ingredients.
And when the master of Narsinh, plays Vasant, I would love to go to see him.

In this bhajan, Shri Krishna has been referred to as husband who is (radhiyala રઢિયાળા) – handsome; (Navaliya નાવલિયા) endearing; (chhabilaji છબીલાજી) – of attractive features; (patalia પાતલીઆ) – slim but healthy handsome man.

ful pichhodi ફૂલ પિછોડી – very soft covering sheet

Vasant – festival of spring

[1] Navaliya – endearing
[2] Chhabilaji – of attractive features

108. Kaho Kem Vasi-e Re Mārā Vahāla ॥ કહો કેમ વસીએ રે મારા વ્હાલા

Shri Krishna was a true socialist of his time. He believed that, young children and calves had first right on milk. This Bhajan of saintly poet Narsinh Mehta describes philosophy of Shri Krishna by his playfulness, when he made the residents of Gokul to share milk, curds and butter.

0. How could one live in Gokul when everywhere looting is done;
The young one[1] of Nand, Narhari[2], has turned self-styled tax-collector[3].

1. He has neither share[4] nor entitlement[5], we fed taking him as a child;
We had to avoid road leading to Mathura for going to sell curds[6].

2. Loving kid overturns vessel of one while eats up milk products[7] of other,
The dear one taunts each one of us, and also Shyam binds us on oath.

3. Dear one drapes each one with Cheer[8] and gifts the other with Choli[9], Endeared Shyam makes feeds curds, and spills of those who share not.

4. All women and lasses overcome by passion[10], have made friendly groups;
Lord of Narsinh plays festival of Holi with all of them in Vrindavan.

0. Let us play colorful Holi holding image of God in mind;
Let us fill up spout with pious saffron color of meditation
And let us contemplate with accomplished divine knowledge.

1. Falling for beauty, elegance, attachment and passion;
Beware O' wise one, that these are undesirable traps;
Five female friends[1] are rushing hither-thither madly;
Pushing around frantically and crazily beating with stick.

2. Beats of drums of mind pulsating in tandem with devout soul;
And then self-originating Anaahat[2] sounds would reach heavens;
Shake off like dust feelings of cupidity, anger, arrogance, fascination;
And celebrate life like sprinkling of colorful clouds of Abir and Gulal[3].

3. Experience of sublime brilliant joy of spiritual accomplishment;
Then such a realm of pure love will liberate from birth and death.
Saint Kabir counsels devout to take recourse of spiritual path;
By the grace of Guru you will have divine joy of singing Phag[4].

---

[1] Five female friends – Five elements within human body (sky, air, fire, water and earth)

[2] Anaahat - such self-originating sound of soul heard by the yogis or mystics.

[3] Abir and Gulal – White and red colored powder sprinkled during Holi festivities

[4] Phag – Joyful songs sung on the advent of Spring Season.

Kabirdas Ji has vividly described the mental state of the spiritual seeker or a devout longing for unification with god.

111. Avi-nāshi Dulhā Kab Mile Ho ॥ અવિનાશી દુલ્હા કબ મિલે હો

Nādbrahma pada 503, Rāga: Dhamār ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૫૦૩, રાગ - ધમાર

અવિનાશી દુલ્હા કબ મિલે હો, હો મેરે પ્યારે, મિલહે તો જાને ન દઉં;

avi-nāshi dulhā kab mile ho, ho mere pyāre, mila-he to jāne na da-uň
O' my love, when shall I get united with immortal bridegroom;
And if at all I get one, I am not going to let him go.

જલ ઊપજી જલહી સોં નેહા, રટત પિયાસ પિયાસ;

મૈં વ્રહની ઠાડિ મૃગ જોઉં, રામ તુમ્હારી આશ ... ૧ jal upaji jal-hi soň nehā, ratat piyās piyās maiň vrah-ni thādi mrug jo-uň, rām tum-hāri āsh ... 1

As thirst gets satiated by water and pang for love by chant of love;
I stand waiting for beloved Rama, like a woman separated from lover.

ખાન પાન કી સૂધ નહિ હૈ, દેહ ગ્રહે કો સાર;

નિશદિન ફિરત ભુવનમેં ભૂલી, મારી હૈ અંગોઅંગ માર ... ૨ khān pān ki sudh nahi hai, deh grahe ko sār nisha-din firat bhuvan-meň bhuli, māri hai aňgo-aňga mār ... 2

I have lost sense of hunger or thirst, and even care of self;
Drifting about in home day and night, fire burns in all my limbs.

દિવસ ન ભૂખ રૈન નહિ નિદ્રા, ગ્રહ આંગન ન સોહાય;

સેજડિયાં વૈરણ ભયી મોં કો, જાગત રૈન બિહાઈ ... ૩

divas na bhukh rain nahi nidrā, grah āňgan na sohāy seja-diyā vai-ran bhayi moň ko, jāgat rain bihā-ii ... 3 Neither hunger in day nor sleep at night, courtyard or home appeal me not;
Even my bed has turned inimical, keeping me awake made me spend the night.

છોડ્યો ગૃહ સ્નેહ જોડ્યો તુમસે, ભયી ચરણે લોલીન;

તલફત ફિરત પ્રેમકી પ્યાસી, જૈસે જલ વિના મીન ... ૪ chhodyo grah sneh jodyo tum-se, bhayi charane lolin tal-fat firat prem-ki pyāsi, jai-se jal vinā min ... 4 Forsaking my love in home, I attached myself to you devoting at your feet;

I wander like a thirsty lovelorn, the way a fish pants for breath out of water.

મૈં તો તુમ્હારી દાસી મોહન, તુમ હમારે શિરદાર;

દીન દયાલ કૃપા કરો માધવ, સહાયો સર્જનહાર ... ૫ maiň to tum-hāri, dāsi mohan, tum hamāre shir-dar din dayāl krupā karo mā-dhav, sahā-yo sarjan-hār ... 5

Mohan, I am your odalisque, and you are grace of my head, my husband;
O' Madhav, my merciful lord with love for poor, my caring Supreme Creator.

કહે હમ પ્રાણ તજતહુ મોહન, કે અપની કર લીજે;

દાસ કબીર વ્રેહ અતિ વધ્યો, હમહી કો દર્શન દીજો ... ૬ kahe ham prān tajatahu mohan, ke apani kar lije dās kabir vreh ati vadhyo, ham-hi ko darshan dijo ... 6

Lovelorn says, Mohan, I am forsaking my life now, make me your own love;
Parting with divine lover has grown, says Kabirdas, O' god enable me to see you.

112. Nita Maňgal Hori Kheli-ye Ho ॥ નિત મંગલ હોરી ખેલિયે હો kathā kirtan maňgal och-chhav, jyoň saňtan ki bhir kabahu kāraj bigade na tero, yoň kahe dās kabir ... 4

Let's play colorful Holi forever, O' My Lover, Let spring bloom forever, let there be festivities of Phag.

1. Saffron mix of mercy with virtues, sprinkle of love, Reverent devotion for Guru, helps live life of success.

2. Earth[1] is Abeer[2], mind is like sandalwood while meditational prayer is fragrant incense; Spiritual knowledge blooms like Gulal[3], Agar[4] and Kasturi[5], with rejoicing within the heart.

3. Dust off the feet of saints is charanā-mrut[6], smear it on forehead reverently, Smash shackles of social status and worldly relations; ring bells of fearlessness.

4. Discourse or chanting add joyous gaiety, as saintly beings come together;
Saint Kabir says, if you devote to God, your none of the tasks would be wasted.

[1] Earth – The word kshamā though popularly known as forgiveness, forbearance; pardon; patience is also means – Earth

[2] Abeer (abil) - kind of fragrant white powder.

My dear ones, let us playfully and joyously live our life that is as colorful the Holi festivities that allays all our fears of death and birth.

1. Let us arrange to to get our mind, speech and body with soul connect with the Supreme Divine, who is merciful to grant us pardon.

2. Let all of our being play in resonance with Ingla[1], Pingla[2] and Sushumna[3] nerves, with seamless flow of meditational concentration. Play festively with our lord leaving all inhibitions aside.

3. And when we live life joyously having attained spiritual realization, there shall remain all but spiritual pure joy. Listening to spatial words having attained spiritual enlightenment both evil elements like carnal desires and anger would scamper away.

4. My holy pious Guru gifted me with such a path like a gift of Holi i.e. Phagua. Saint Kabir says, play with your mind in such a manner that, the the essence of the Supreme Soul come to dwell within your soul i.e. you experience oneness with the universe.

[1] Ingla - According to yoga, one of the three types of (main arteries or vessels) governing the flow of air (Oxygen) on right side of body

[2] Pingla - According to yoga, one of the three main nadis (main arteries or vessels) mentioned in Hatha Yoga governing the flow of air (Oxygen) on left side of body

[3] Sushumna - The middle of the three main arteries mentioned in Hatha Yoga, governing the flow of air (Oxygen) on left side of body.

114. Hari Piyu Saňg Hori Kheli-e Ho ॥ હરિ પિયુ સંગ હોરી ખેલીએ હો

Let us play Holi with our beloved Lord Hari, and dwell in joyous spiritual realization like a married woman gets soulfully united with her husband.

1. Having done some noble tasks (Karma) we have obtained this human form, else we would have been born as a beast or ignorant. All so called ascetics are sitting holding root of ignorance, as entire world seems threatening our existence.

2. Let us concentrate in meditating upon the Supreme Creator of this universe by harmonious unification of Ingla[1], Pingla[2] and Sushumna[3] nerves within us, which shall open restful doors of center of learning. Our soul engrossed in carnal desires gets involved with wherever it finds worldly pleasures.

3. Thoughtfully Saint Kabir cautions that if you have not realized your folly and awakened, you would be lost in the abyss of ignorance. Whoever listens and imbibes my word of advice, would be able to go across this material world and ultimately attain salvation.

O' loved one, let us play Holi with Hari, the way devout Prahlad played.

1. Your childhood was wasted playfully, and youth was wasted in heyday;
High on spirit the mind remained arrogant, disregarding evening or morn.

2. By good Karma, born as human, but your life is spent like a bird or a mule;
Who hasn't known god's significance, his life is spent like a sleeping python.

3. Eternal never gets destroyed, that has unfathomable stories of repute;
All ascetics sit holding root of ignorance, whole world threatens our being.

4. One who remains engrossed in worldly affairs, remains away from God;
Kabir Ji willfully prays Almighty, as our Supreme Lord dwells within us.

Wedding in Vasant is planned, O' my lover, son of Nand Ji is getting married;

1. Wedding is planned on the day of Vasant Panchami in Nautam Constellation[1];
Let me invite saints, swing fly-driver, hang flowery festoons on the door posts.

2. Whiskers[2], silver anklets[3] ana-vat vichhu-ā[4] with jingling sounds of cymbals; Graceful bracelets or bangles on hands, with graceful necklace in neck.

3. Brahma recites verses of Veda and auspicious chanting is chanted;
Deities and men alike and saints together, garlanded God with Varmala[5].

4. Bachelor son of Nand JI, and lovely daughter of Bhikhubhan;
Lord of Bhakt Narasinh Mehta married first, then weddings were celebrated in the world.

[1] Nautam Constellation - new; beautiful.

[2] kal-lā – Whiskers

[3] kāmbi - silver anklets

[4] ana-vat vichhu-ā - Ornaments for woman's big toe

[5] Varmālā – garland of cotton thread

tyāň nar-sai-yo bal jāy jamunā-nā tir-meň ... 54
With joyful awe Nandkumar watched gaiety of festival of Vasant; Perceiving divine festivities, Narsinh joyfully prays on river banks of Jamuna.

Many of our devout saintly poets have let their imaginations scale peaks and tried connecting our festivals with some of our deities like Krishna or Rama. Their intention behind such verses was to add a touch of piousness to celebrations of festivals like Holi, where common people may indulge in vulgarity or irreverence and lead virtuous life as a way to attain ultimate liberation. This bhajan too, reflects such devotional ardor.

[1] Three mountainous peaks (ત્રિકુટી સંગમ) - the three qualities or constituent qualities inherent in all created existence i.e. Tamas (ignorance), Rajas (anger), Satttva (Virtue)

[2] Bank of union of three rivers – (ત્રિવેણી કે ઘાટ) - Confluence of the three tubular vessels (ઇડા, પિંગળા અને સુષુમણા એ ત્રણ નાડીઓનો સમુદાય).

[3] Merudand – Spinal Cord, but here, the word symbolizes an imaginative line connecting six tantric plexuses in the body (from anus to palate).

Lotus-like scarlet soles of child with body enchanting with glorious shine;
Curly locks of hair frame around the face of child with faintly loving smile.

ઉત્તર દિશા એક પુર અયોધ્યા, રામજી કો જન્મ નિવાસ;

ગાવત સુનત હોત સબ પાવન, બલ પરમાનંદ દાસ ... ૩

ut-tar dishā eka pur ayodhyā, rāmaji ko janma nivās gāvat sunat hot sab pāvan, bal paramā-naňda dās ... 3
On the North lies a city called Ayodhya, that is the birth place of Ram;
All who listen to songs of devotion, get sanctified, says Bal Parmanand Das.

જન્માષ્ટમી

Janmāshtami

While conveying dissertation on matters of spiritual wisdom often our ancient enlightened saints used metaphors. Here, the devotional poet Parmanand Das has used metaphor of large swing-board (Hindolo). Singing such Bhajans uplifted the spiritual joy of those who could understand the profound meaning of the otherwise poetic expression, which enthralled the common masses.

A swing-board is an implement that elevates playful ecstasy to greater heights; similarly spiritual meditation acts to uplift the soul to sublime joy of attainment of enlightenment.

124. Vraj Ke Āňgan Rachyo Hindolo ॥ વ્રજ કે આંગન રચ્યો હિંડોલો

Nādbrahma pada 564, Rāga - Godi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૫૬૪, રાગ - ગોડી

વ્રજ કે આંગન રચ્યો હિંડોલો, વ્રજ કે આંગન રચ્યો;

સુર બ્રહ્માદિક દેખન આયે, શંકર તાંડવ નાચ્યો ... ટેક vraj ke āňgan rachyo hindolo, vraj ke āňgan rachyo sur brahmā-dik dekhan āye, shaňkar tāňdav nāchyo ... repeat Bhagvan Shri Krishna has erected a splendid large swing-board in the foreground of Vraj, Entranced by the swing-board, several saintly devout, deities inclusive of Brahma have come to see it and Lord Shankar has enacted Taandav dance driven by spiritual joy.

શુક સનકાદિક મુનિવર નારદ, હિંડોળો દેખન આયે;

નંદકો લાલ ઝુલન હમ દેખ્યો, બડી લૂંટ હમ પાયે ... ૧ shuk sanakā-dik muni-var āye, hindolo dekhan āye naňda-ko lāl jhulan ham dekhyo, badi luňt ham pāye ... 1

Great many sages and saints ranging from Shuk, Shounak, the great sage Narad too arrived to see the swing-board on which, the son of Shepherd kind Nanda, Krishna was swinging. It was like stealing bounty of ultimate joy for us.

વ્રજ કી નાર અટા ચઢ દેખે, અપનો તન મન વારે;

પરમાનંદ દાસ કો ઠાકોર, ચિત્ત ચોર્યો તનકો રે ... ૨ vraj ki nār atā chaDh dekhe, apano tan man vāre paramā-naňda dās ko thākor, chit-ta choryo tan-ko re ... 2 Women folk of Vraj, ran up to terraces of their homes have devoted themselves with body and mind to attain spiritual succour. Even Saint Parmanand Das exclaims that Krishna has taken hold of his heart.

This bhajan vividly depicts and describes the graceful imagery of Lord Krishna and his beloved Radha sharing the swing-board (Hindola).

125. Jhulat Hai Gira-dhāri Hindole ॥ ઝુલત હૈ ગિરધારી હિંડોલે

Nādbrahma pada 565, Rāga - Godi ॥ નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૫૬૫, રાગ - ગોડી

ઝુલત હૈ ગિરધારી હિંડોલે, ઝુલત હૈ ગિરધારી;

jhulat hai gira-dhāri hindole, jhulat hai gira-dhāri ati ānaňd bhaye do-u jhulat, mohan shyām pyāri ... repeat Swaying swing joyous Girdhari, riding on wafts of wind, Gaiety adds to sublime joy with Radha at his side on swing.

ભુવન ભુવન સેં આઇ ઝુલાવન, સબ ગોકુલકી નારી;

સકલ શણગાર કિયે વ્રજવનિતા, પહેરે કુસંબી સાડી ... ૧ bhuvan bhuvan seň ā-ii jhulā-van, sab gokul-ki nāri sakal shan-gār kiye vraj-vanitā, pahere kusambi sādi ... 1

From every household, each lass of Gokul, throng Jamuna river banks; Adorned with alluring ornaments lasses of Vraj are sashaying saffron sarees.

જમુના પુલીન મનોહર સુંદર, વૃન્દાવન સુખકારી;

દેખત શોભા સુરનર ભૂલે, કૃષ્ણદાસ બલિહારી ... ૨ jamunā pulin mano-har suňdar, vrundā-van sukh-kāri dekhat shobhā sur-nar bhule, krishna-dās bali-hāri ... 2 Enchanting milieu of serene sandbanks, adds to loveliness of Vrindavan; Savouring celestial joy of men and deities, Krishnadas sings with delight.

0. On a swing of devotion, our soul is swinging on spiritual wave;
Similarly, all saintly beings and sages too find solace on the swaying swing of devotion.

1. Moon and Sun stands tall like pillars, and hammock tied with a rope of navel,
On this swings five loved ones[1], also swing in joyful bliss, where the Supreme Soul dwells.

2. The house with twelve rooms, where divinity dwells, there resides heavenly blissful joy;
Whoever has tasted it, gets one with the Supreme Divine, whom we serve.

3. Love for realization void beyond is like an abode divine love where the Divinity dwells;
Where only we two dwell with divine love; swaying on the same swing of Supreme Divine.

4. Pious Ganga and Jamuna take in river-banks abound with Lotus flowers grown out of muck;
That's akin to six mystical plexuses of body[2] or a confluence of three streams of rivulets[3].

5. Sailing in a boat of Sound as God, where name of Ram is Mariner of our boat of life;
He only can enable us fathom the ocean of life, that's what Saint Kabir proclaims.

[1] પાંચ પ્યારીયાં - five loved ones = પંચતત્વ - five basic elements - sustaining our life i.e. space, air, light, water, earth

[2] ષટ્ચક્રી ગાગરી - human body with the six mystical circles or plexuses

[3] ત્રિવેણી સંગમ ઘાટ - symbolized version of the three humours of the body

0. The ideal spiritual teacher capable of emancipating his disciples elucidates about who all rock on the swing of illusion.

ઝુલત જીવ જહાન જહાં લગી, કબહુ ન પાયો ઠૌર ... ૧

1. Such an illusionary swing, is hung on two poles of greed and covetousness. Such a swing reflects the nature of character of our mind that keeps swinging from one thing to another. Enlightened spiritual teachers of different schools on spiritual studies emphasize on steadying our mind. Until a spiritual seeker stabilize his or her mind and turn it away from worldly distractions like greed, passions, carnal desires and attachments, the mind will not be able to find peace.

2. By popular belief a soul, depending on one's Karma, a soul passes from one life to another, one birth to another, through ever revolving cycle of birth and death. Spiritual scriptures describe this revolution of transformation of being or existence as 8.4 million species on this planet, one of which is human. Striving to find solace from worldly pleasures, the human being does not accept spiritual defeat. Since births and deaths are imminent, ordinary human beings keep concentrating on the handiwork of the Yama, the son of Sun who is known as the God of Death. Nevertheless, spiritually enlightened saints like Kabir show the way to break this cycle of birth and death, by channelizing our consciousness towards virtuous Karmas.

3. Several learned and religious pundits, Gandharva have been swinging on this illusionary swing for ages. As per an ancient legend, the great mythological multi-hooded serpent carrying the earth on its hoods popularly known as Sheshnaag, who landed his help in churning oceans by wounding around Sumeru Mountain was filled with arrogance. Arrogance leads mind to instability. Even deities like Brahma, Vishnu and Mahesh were incarnated in human form on this planet owing some specific causes. Having been born as human beings, contrary to their Spirituality, they too, swung between worldly Karma.

human being acting in doldrums, spiritually enlightened Saint Kabir cannot help himself being amused.

Bhajans and prayers have drawn inspiration from the Mother Nature weaving in itself vivid shades of colors and shades evoking divine feelings in the hearts of the devotees. The advent of monsoon provides solace from sweltering heat of summers, which feels like heavenly blessings.

0. On the doorstep of the palace of King Dashrath, a beautiful swing looks shiningly beautiful. On the first day of Monsoon, and on third night of moonlit days, very comfortable swing is designed.

1. The splendorous swing looks so much wonderful, that thousands of Shesh Naag cannot describe its magnificence. The two poles symbolic represent birth and death, with four aspects of human life, meaning Birth, Youth, Old Age and lastly Death. Only through the divine grace of the God, can one enjoy all round grandeur of mortal life.

2. Reclining on a velvety pillow and lying on a vividly colored bed. All through life, the soul enjoys all sorts of comforts and pleasures like swinging on a celestial swing. Holding a red rope of the life, the Soul swings between two ends of human life.

3. Embellished with differently created gold flowery motifs the swing looks endearingly beautiful. Poet Krishnadas says, such occasions do not come your way, as after sweltering heat of the summers cause solace to the life of a devotee.

Young handsome Shyam, also fondly called Madan Gopal, rocking on the swing renders joyous image of within our minds. Jiggling and giggling and moving through the flowery groves and boulevards, the petite Vruj lassies add air of romance to romantic the spring. Lively melodies harmonically rendered on foot tapping rhythmic percussions beats of tambourine and Mridang, have made the Gopis and Gops alike to dance gaily, as the fragrant air stimulates romantic ardor.

Such is the magnetic effect of the season of Spring that not only the poetic narratives of romance are widely available in the Indian languages, English poets too are not far behind in giving words to expression of love and romantic fervor.

Attired in Blue and yellow colors, union of Radha and Krishna seem like a union of Earth with blues of the Sky. Attainment of spiritual enlightenment happens in a flash as bright flash of lightning. Describing the spiritual state of the soul dedicated to the worship of God, poet Rishikesh says, Love for Shyam Madan Gopal affection for the Supreme Soul, is like rocking on the spiritual swing.

Rasa (રાસ rās)

Although the concept of Rasa, literally means, 'juice, essence or taste', it connotes a concept in Indian arts about the aesthetic flavor of any visual, literary or musical work, evoking some emotion or feeling, but cannot be described. Thus, Rasas are created by bhava, meaning the state of mind. Bharat Muni, the exponent of Natrya Shastra - Scriptures of Dramatics describes varying human moods as Nine Rasa[1]

According to the Rasa theory of the Natya Shastra, entertainment is not the primary goal of performance arts but, it's the primary goal is to transport the soul of an individual into another parallel reality, full of wonder and bliss, where one experiences the essence of one's own consciousness, and reflects on spiritual and moral questions. The notion of rasa extended into spiritual, abstract, and even metaphysical realms.

The poet, Rishikesh has portrayed Lila of Krishna and Radha in vivid narrative intertwined with nature's splendor evoking aesthetic experience of love and union with loved one.

[1] For the interest of the readers in general and specifically for those interested in performance arts the Nine Rasa are listed below, with their specific meaning, Deity, Color.

In Avadh, where Kalpadrum tree (according to ancient legends, Kalpadrum tree, also referred to as Kalpataru) has spread its benign shade. Splendor of the palace of Rama, set with golden courtyard, golden temple like edifice and a gold Kalash (pitcher) atop the palace offers wonderful sight to behold. Different musical instruments playing lilting tunes make entire environment quite blissful. Watching dreamy setting of Rama's place, the God of Love (Kamdev) is embarrassed and the Moon too has reverently bowed down his head.

Man and women, moved by their love for the God, enjoy listening to the tales of acts of their deity. Merely beholding their adorable deities, the residents of Avadh consider themselves divinely blessed. The son of Dashrath is seated on right side on the throne with his wife Sita seated on the left. (Ritually wives are called "Vamaa", meaning who remains on the left side of her husband. Therefore, culturally wives always grace the left side of her husband). Visualizing pair of deities, the poet Premanad sings joyfully that, he has been divinely blessed with body and mind which is more than worth of worldly wealth.

This Bhajan has its roots in Vaishnav sect and it is penned by devout poet Krishnadas in Vraj Bhasha (Vraj dialect widely spoken in Vrundavan, Mathura (North India) and even in Nathdwara (Rajasthan). Poet Krishnadas was the last poet of first four poets of 'Ashtchhap' and most of the verses created by him are comprised in the distinct classical singing known as form of Haveli Sangeet. Most of the devotional verses are symbolic representation of carrying deep spiritual connotation.

Devotional worship borne out of spiritual knowledge holds greater significance. Worship devoid of spiritual essence becomes garrulous. The soul of a devout desirous to experience the essence of divinity swings like a pendulum. Young lovable Krishna (Navalbihari) symbolic as a Supreme Soul, is swinging gaily, as I have come to realize divine joy of swaying my soul on the spiritual swing.

In fact, devotion or Bhakti rests on two pillars of spiritual enlightenment and asceticism. It embodies the totality of love for God. Radha and Krishna are the male and female aspects of the Supreme Divinity, known as the Divine Couple. Together they are the full manifestation of God.

0. The swing of youthful handsome Krishna is embellished with saffron colored (Sorang) flowers, which is graced by loving couple i. e. Radha and Krishna in the form of Devotion and Awareness. Cowhands from all over have thronged to take a chance to sway the swing of Kunwar Kanhai (youthful Krishna) with devout love; meaning, acquiring their share of spiritual experience and divine joy.

1. Such a swing of Spiritual Enlightenment is suspended on the four pillars of embellished with precious jewels. These precious jewels are self-restraint, celibacy, contentment and forgiveness, which are as precious as bijou, pearls, gold and coral. The combination of all these spiritual virtues enables the seeker to attain spiritual realization.

The pulling string to sway the soul on the swing of spiritual realization is made up of quintessence - the elemental proportions of Prakriti or Elemental Nature. These five elements are Ether (Akash), Wind (Vayu), Fire (Agni), Water (Jal) and Earth (Prithvi). These five elements form the warp and woof of the entire cosmos.

Every single object and being - be it an animate and non-animate entity in the cosmos embodies a diverse spectrum and fusion of five elements giving it an unparalleled entity. The five cardinal elements are a part and parcel of the all-encompassing cosmic consciousness. Every animate and inanimate being is made up of atoms and the five basic elements which could be explained with the example of a structure of an atom. The fusion of these five basic elements forms human body. The five lower chakras - Muladhar, Svndhishthana, Manipura, Anaahata and Vishuddha are synchronized to the energy flow of the five elements.

2. Although, the swing embellished with different types flowers, have chains of garlands made of bright pearls. Young beautiful women are singing in sweet voice, with an accompaniment of Shehnai, spiritually charging entire atmosphere.

3. Beauteous dancing girls have enlivened the environment with divine magnificence, as flower petals are strewn. Perceiving splendorous beauty of the couple - Radha and Krishna, Krishnadas cannot stop himself from singing in praise of the God.

Just the mention of Radha and Krishna, evokes in our minds image of Ras Leela. A disciple is elated to learn of her beloved Shri Vallabhrai i.e. Shri Krishna is swaying on an appealingly ornamented swing. She beckons her friends to go and see her cherished Lord's breathtaking magnificence, to describe with even the words would fall short.

Believed to be an incarnation of Vishnu, God of Universal Creation, demonstrated the depth of Divine Love to the world. He was born to preserve the dharma of eternal love, and spread the fragrance of unconditional love. As we study the life of Shri Krishna, we learn that Krishna emphasizes on romanticism. Several of the poetic narratives of the romancing of Radha and Krishna are a plenty. Innumerable poets have given wings to their fantasy.

For lovers, romantic expressions are colorful depiction of inner feelings. For many color of romance is pink, whereas Saffron is a color of divine love for God. The following verse is a form of romantic dance known as Ras Leela depicting romantic fervor.

137. Hiňdolo Nav-raňgyo Re Sajani ॥ હિંડોળો નવરંગ્યો રે સજની

Nādbrahma pada 602, Rāga - Hindolā-no Kālero
નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૬૦૨, રાગ - હિંડોળાનો કાલેરો

હિંડોળો નવરંગ્યો રે સજની, ત્યાં ઝુલે શ્રી વલ્લભરાય;

ચાલો સાહેલી જોવાને જઇએ, આ સુશ શોભા કહી ન જાય ... ટેક hiňdolo nav-raňgyo re sajani, tyāň jhule shri val-labh-rāy chālo sāheli jovā-ne ja-ii-e, ā sush shobhā kahi na jāy ... repeat

A lover says, Shri Vallabhrai swaying on a newly colored swing, let us go and see the Lord swinging blissfully on a hammock. Let all friends come, so we all can go to see the splendorous scenario, which cannot be described in words.

નવરંગ કનક સ્તંભ દોઉ સુંદર, નવરંગ દાંડી ચાર સોહાય;

નવરંગ ચોકી તકિયા ગાદી, નવરંગ મોતીની ઝુમ બનાય ... ૧

nav-raňg kanak sthambh do-u suňdar, nav-raňg dāňdi chār sohāy nav-raňg choki takiyā gādi, nav-raňg moti-ni jhum banāy ... 1
Deeply in love with her Love God, alias Shri Vallabhrai, the spiritually enlightened disciple visualizes the swing made up of four vividly colored bars suspended on two golden pillars. But that is no ordinary swing that we find everywhere. It is a divine swing. Its two pillars are conscience and intellect - worth their value in gold. Moreover, as such a divine swing is assembled with fondness, affection, trust and devotion; its magnificence turns out to be beyond the scope of words. It is said:

ગૌધન ગજધન ઔર વાજીધન, ઔર રતનધન ખાન;

પર જબ આવૈ સંતોષ ધન, સબ ધન ધૂર સમાન...

[One may have a plenty of cows, elephants and horses as part of one's wealth. But all sorts of wealth until one have satisfaction of whatever is achieved.]

A mattress spread and a bolster placed on the swing symbolizes comfort of Awareness and Contentment, which are the true essence of spiritual enlightenment. A colorful string of pearls of virtuous deeds (Karma) add to the majesty of the divine swing.

નવલ લાલ નવરંગી રાધા, નવરંગ જુવતી ઢોળે રે વાય;

નવરંગ મોર કલા કરી નાચે, નવરંગ જમુના લ્હેરે રે જાય ... ૨ naval lāl nav-raňgi rādhā, nav-raňg juvati Dhole re vāy nav-raňg mor kalā kari nāche, nav-raňg jamunā lahere re jāy ... 2 Radha embodies the totality of love for Shri Krishna. Known as the personification of Bhakti, or spiritually Radha looks graceful dressed in saffron or red colored attire. Lively youthful lassie sways a hand held fan. Dancing peacock spreading their feathers makes up the sight adorable with sedately flowing waters of the river Jamuna.

નવરંગ પુષ્પવૃષ્ટિ વ્રજ ઉપર, ઇન્દ્રાદિક ત્યાં દુદુંભિ વાય;

નવરંગ ભક્ત તણા મન મોહે, માધવદાસ ઉમંગી જશ ગાય ... ૩

nav-raňg pushpa-vrushti vraj upar, indrā-dik tyaň du-dumbhi vāy nav-raňg bhakta tanā man mohe, mādhav-dās umaňgi jash gāy ... 3
Several deities led by Indra - the Rain God shower petals of flowers from the heavens as the skies seem to reverberate with the heavenly sounds of drums. When a disciple crosses the boundaries of duality, there is nothing but unity, bliss and divine love and his heart beats symbolically as the rhythmic beats of drums. The devout poet Madhavdas sings thus, in the praise of the Supreme Divinity, for his graciousness!

0. The adoringly visualizing the image of God Krishna, his disciples affectionately sing in His praise. Our most sagacious Master is rocking on a swing accompanied by Radha. Bedecked enchantingly in beautiful attire, their sight makes me offer oblations as the Lord Krishna looks like Kamdev (God of Love).

1. During the month of Shravan (the fifth month of the Hindu calendar) as the rainy season starts, after hot summers, and drizzling rains drench us with showers of cool rains, entire universe seems much pleasurable. Sounds of frogs croaking, yearning cries of peacock and endearingly cooing of cuckoo add to the charm of delightful weather and enhances loving feelings in the hearts.

2. Today I have seen a wonderful sight of dripping wet Hari (God) pleasantly laughing in rains with Radha to his side. Understanding smile of Radha glancing at Krishna conveys how both the lovers are warmly lost in loving embrace.

3. Handsome Shyam with fairly beautiful Radha is swinging on the colorful swing. As the swing rocks higher and higher, O' my love, as if about to touch the heavens, Narsinh steps up dancing with hearty joy.

The sixteenth century proved to be highly significant in the history of musical and poetic literary development in India. Several poets and musicians have been evolved. Out of all these, the poets of 'Pushtimarg' fondly revered as 'Ashta Sakha' literally meaning 'Eight Friends'. This devotional poem is taken from the collection of pious poet Nandadas, one of the 'Ashta Sakha'.

Musical compositions created by the 'Ashta Sakha', which are also referred to as 'Haveli Sangeet' are not meant for the entertainment by masses, but these are sung in the temples of Shri Krishna to evoke feeling of devotion in the listening disciples worshiping Shri Krishna.

These devotional verses are sung in accordance with seasons and part of the day in different Raga. For example, Morning Ragas are - Kalbhairav, Bibhas, Pancham, Asavari etc. During the afternoon Ragas such as - Sarang, Nur Sarang, Samant Sarang, Shuddh Sarang, etc. are sung. Whereas, during evening - Raga Nat, Purvi Sorath, Gauri, Hamir, Nayaki etc. are sung. Haveli Sangeet holds greater significance in 'Pushtimarg' and that is an effort to dedicate mind, heart and soul ate the feet of the Supreme Divinity.

0. Winsome Shri Krishna, who lifted the Govardhan mountain, is swaying in a swing. Accompanying the Lord is a beauteous daughter of Vrushbhan. The daughter of Vrushbhan, the gorgeous Radha is having joy of swaying along with her lover, Krishna, the savior.

In the praise of Radha, the daughter of Vrushbhan, also the poet Paramanand has sung.

પ્રગટ્યો સબ વ્રજ કો શૃંગાર, કીર્તિ કુખે અવતરી કન્યા, સુંદરતા કો સાર.
નખસીખ રૂપ કહાંલોં બરનો , કોટી મદન બલીહાર,
'પરમાનંદ' વૃષભાન નંદિની , જોરી નંદ દુલાર.

(Wife of Vrushbhan, Kirti gave a birth to a daughter, she was a virtual personification of beauty of entire Vraj. The daughter of Kirti and Vrushbhan is an essence of sublime beauty. Looking at the beauty of the daughter Vrushbhan, the poet 'Paramanand' wondering from where has the mother of the child brought splendorous thorough prettiness, as she pairs so well with Shri Krishna, the son of Nand).

(The swaying swing of spirituality is suspended on the two fascinating columns studded with glorious virtues as valuable as gems, gold symbolized as awareness and austerity, four virtual bars signified as fondness, affection, trust and devotion for God embodying totality of love for God.)

1. Such a swaying swing of mystical joy is suspended on the four pillars of embellished with precious jewels. These precious jewels are symbolic of self-restraint, celibacy, contentment and forgiveness, which are as precious as bijou, pearls, gold and red tinge of coral makes up the floor. The combination of all these spiritual virtues enables the seeker to attain spiritual realization.

2. Engrossed in her romantic merriment, amorous lovely Radhika is lost in joyous realm of divine love. Attractive friends of fondling Radha, sing lovely romantic songs which add to the delight of Radha.

3. Looking at the charming image of herself Radha claps with her friends with delight. Holding the image of her lover, Krishna, in her mind, Radha calls out to Shri Hari - Krishna to remain in her mind and soul. Thanking his good fortunes, Nanddas perceiving the splendor of the Supreme Divine lovers - Krishna and Radha, he enjoys singing in praise of God.

141. Jhulāvan Āyi Gopi ॥ ઝુલાવન આયી ગોપી

The worldly affairs are like dense dark forest through which a soul strives to find its way to reach the Supreme Realm. The swing sways in the forest of worldliness between illusions are reality.

0. The Gopis have come to sway the swing. They propose to go into forest where they wish to see their beloved God is swaying on a swing under the shade of Magnolia (Champa) flowers, which is as soothing as wish fulfillment. Desires comes swarming swaying imagination in hope of achieving happiness. Rooted in worldly affairs mind envisions realm of happi0ness, which in fact, is nothing but illusion. Such an illusion could be as soothing as intoxicating fragrance of Magnolia flower.

1. Fondly visualizing image of the God in the Lord Krishna attired in yellowish Pitamber (dhoti) and Radhika dressed up in (Sorang) brightly colored costume seated together makes up a beautiful pair. Beautiful brunette (Shyaama) and handsome dandy man (Shyam) as Radha and Krishna are swaying on wonderful swing, and their splendor cannot be narrated in word.

2. Two golden columns of wisdom and knowledge add beauty to the life of and individual. Four bars created out of love, fondness, hope and dedication; its magnificence turns out to be beyond the scope of words. Gopi, in the form of devotion or Bhakti sways the swing of God, as the fervent disciple Paramananda sings in praise of Supreme Divinity.

While describing vivid shades and phases of spiritual realization, Kabirdas Ji has painted colorful narrative on the canvass of our mind. With the beginning of spring, joy and cheerfulness spreads at galore. This Bhajan of Saint Kabir Ji describes spiritual joy visualizing unification with the Supreme Divine.

142. Piyuji-ne Prem Hiňdole Jhulāvu ॥ પિયુજીને પ્રેમ હિંડોળે ઝુલાવું

Nādbrahma pada 601, Rāga - Hindolā-nu Māru, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૬૦૧, રાગ - હિંડોળાનું મારૂ

પિયુજીને પ્રેમ હિંડોળે ઝુલાવું, પિયુજીને પ્રેમ હિંડોળે;

The spiritual seeker affectionately wants to sway his soul on a spiritual swing suspended on two pillars of mind and intellect, and get it painted with red color. Red symbolizes energy, action, confidence, courage, and change - the change from illusion to enlightenment. The color red brings passion and strength to your relationships, your life and your work. The spiritual swing of the soul enables a seeker to unify oneself with mind and intellect.

રંગનારા સાચા સતગુરૂ, ધસી ધસી ત્યાં જાવું;

મનસા વાચા કર્મણા દેકે, મંગલ મરૂવા લાવું ... ૧ raňg-nārā sāchā sat-guru, dhasi dhasi tyāň jāvu manasā vāchā kar-ma-nā deke, maňgal maruvā lāvu ... 1

How wisely Saint Kabir advises a seeker to rush to the virtuous Guru! Only a truly enlightened spiritual teacher can lead his pupils on the spiritual path. Having found such an accomplished spiritual, without wasting time, a seeker should dedicate oneself to Guru with mind, speech and action. Such a pious Guru is worshiped ritualistically performing Aarti and proffering fragrant flowers named Maravaa at his feet.

હેત પ્રીત અરૂ ભાવ ભક્તિકી, દાંડી ચાર સોહાવું;

ચેતન ચોકી જ્ઞાન કી ગાદી, તકિયા તૃપ્ત મિલાવું ... ૨ het prit aru bhāv bhakti-ki, dāňdi chār sohāvu chetan choki gnān ki gādi, takiyā trupta milāvu ... 2

With love and affection combined with faith and devotion, I shall brighten up the four arches on the spiritual path. I will make my Guru comfortable by arranging a seat in the form of my conscience with knowledge as blissful cushions and satiation as the pillows. With my consciousness awakened by the grace of my Guru, no evil influence can corrupt the soul.

સુરતા દોરી ચારૂ હિંડોળે, નાદ ધુધર ધમકાવું;

સખીઓ પાંચ પચ્ચીશ મિલકે, મુક્ત મંગલ ગાવું ... ૩ suratā dori chāru hiňdole, nād ghughar gham-kāvu sakhi-o pāňch pach-chish mil-ke, mukta maňgal gāvu ... 3

The swing is created from knit-work of mental tendencies. When these are restrained, continence is ensured. Transcendental peace prevails within the mind and then, expressible (Vyakta) and inexpressible (Avyakta) sounds resonate within us. While Aahata Nada is produced by the acoustics of friction, Anaahata Nada is spontaneous, perennial and abiding. It is music of the heavenly sphere that reverberates in everyone, irrespective of whether one is conscious of it or not. And, Praana (soul or Spirit) is the link between sound, the human soul and the universal consciousness. Ultimately, when all the senses, mind, intellect, soul get unified with the Supreme Consciousness, the five senses and twenty-five elements seem to sing in harmony.

ઐસે હિંડોળે ઝુલો મેરે પ્યારે, બહુવિધ વાજાં બજાવું;

મગ્ન ભયી સખીઓ સબ ગાયે, સોહમ્ તાલ બજાવું ... ૪

a-i-se hiňdole jhulo mere pyāre, bahu-vidh vājā bajāvu

As entire being of the spiritual seeker resonate harmoniously like several musical instruments, the mind and the soul sway serenely on spiritual swing. The resonating sound within, pulsates rhythmically unifying with the sound of 'Soham' i.e. identifying oneself with the universe or ultimate reality. Reverberating sounds from within seem like several soul-mates or friends. The seeker beseeches the Supreme Soul to sway blissfully on this swing.

પ્રાણજીવન હિંડોળે ઝુલે, નીરખી હરખી સુખ પાવું;

કહેત કબીરા આ રે હિંડોળે, વારંવાર ફિર જાવું ... ૫ prāna-jivan hiňdole jhule, nirakhi harakhi sukh pāvu kahet kabirā ā re hiňdole, vāram-vār fir jāvu ... 5

The seeker, perceiving the lover akin to one's own soul swaying happily on the swing delightfully sings expressing divine joy within. Ultimately, Saint Kabir reflects that, one who experiences sublime joy of swaying on such a spiritual swing does not have to go through the recurrent cycle of birth and death.

Narsinh Mehta, a Vaishnava bhakti poet of medieval India, is considered as the pioneer poet of Gujarat. He is also regarded as a poet of eroticism or romance (Shringara). The quintessence of his devotion is love and his love has inherent devotion. Hardly any festival in Gujarat is celebrated, when men and women irrespective of their age, participate in dancing that is known as Raas and Garba.

143. Sajani Ju-o Nāth Nihāli Re ॥ સજની જુઓ નાથ નિહાળી રે

Nādbrahma pada 614, Rāga - Sajani, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૬૧૪, રાગ - સજની

સજની જુઓ નાથ નિહાળી રે, વ્હાલો વાયે છે વેણ રસીલી રે;

Full Moon night is known to add romance in air and in such surrounding a joyfully elated Gopi calls out her friend to come and see their sweetheart lord Krishna. Cool breeze and lilting tunes of flute played by Mohan makes them amorous. As the Gopis sensually whirl around their sweetheart, their divine lover Mohan too, seem to be lost in an ocean of devotional love of the Gopis of Vrindavan.

A beautiful vivacious Shyamaldi with Krishna makes up a beautiful pair. The word 'Shyamaldi' is derived from a word 'Shyama' meaning 'brunette' (a fair woman with black hair) in English. With romance in air, sweetheart Krishna takes the Gopis in his loving embrace laughing cheerfully that turns on the Gopis with cupidity.

શ્યામા સન્મુખ આવી ઉભી રે, શણગાર સકલ તહાં શોભે રે; shyāmā sanmukh āvi ubhi re, shan-gār sakal tahāň shobhe re shyāmā sān kari kari ju-e re, juvaňti jan-nā man mohe re ... 3

As a vivacious brunette, elegantly attired appears before her sweetheart Mohan, people around them seem astounded looking at her enchantingly charming adornment. Coyly smiling and glancing demurely brunette looking up adoringly at Shri Krishna's face makes up the most beautiful passionate pair, but her youthfulness too, attracts the minds of the people around.

તાલી તાલ પખાવજ ગુગરડી, આગળ નાચે છે નારી રૂડી રે;

Immensely enjoying the divine playfulness of Krishna and Gopis, Narsinh Mehta sings in praise of the companion of the Gopis. Having perceived the great divine show, Narsinh says, he considers himself supremely fortunate to roll at the holy feet of his holiness, as he has been awarded with the greatest divine gift of witnessing the Raas (dance) of his lordship.

It is often mystical in nature, related to the spiritual union of people with God, because almost all of the poets were considered God-realized saints and their words are thus considered as emanating from a divine source. The following Bhajan vividly narrates moments of passionate love of Krishna and his sweetheart Radha delightfully rocking on an enchantingly wonderful swing.

[1] Sixteen bridal adornments encompass sixteen steps of beautification, from head to toe at the time of wedding. This beautification ritual, a woman is equated with the divinity of Goddess Lakshmi - the goddess of prosperity, fertility and beauty in Hinduism. In fact, this ritual is a celebration of the beauty of the woman and according to the Hindu mythology.

This Bhajan was rendered by the great poet Surdas. Saint Surdas was a 16th century blind Hindu devotional poet and singer, who is known for his lyrics written in praise of Krishna. They are usually written in Braj Bhasha, one of the two literary dialects of Hindi.

145. Dekh Ho Vasu-dev Hari-mukh ॥ દેખ હો વસુદેવ હરિમુખ

Amazed Devaki says, "My son resembles Bhagvan Vishnu with four hands. He has held weapons in his four hands." At that moment, Lord Vishnu, who was born as Shri Krishna appears before them and says, "You prayed me for taking birth as your son. Here I am! Now, stop getting awed and take me to the house of Nand Ji, across the river Jamuna."

[In each hand he holds an object or a weapon rather objects with purpose: a LOTUS (Kamal) that represents purity and beauty; a CONCH SHELL (Shankha), standing for the sound AUM, which is said to be the vibration of primordial creation; MACE (Gadaa), for strength and the destruction of evil; and a CHAKRA (Chakra), emblematic of the mind, intelligence, and the end of self-delusion.]

Once saint Narad had cursed King of Mathura, Kans that eighth son of his sister Devaki would kill him. Since then King Kans killed all seven children born to Devaki. As if signalled by divine making musical sounds of Jhala, Jhanjh, Pakhawaj and Kirtal began playing rhythmic sounds announcing time birth of the eighth child to Devaki, who was destined to be a messenger of death of Kans.

After child Krishna was born, Vasudev placed his new born son in a basket to take him to his friend Nand across the river to Gokul. With a lion guarding his path in front and massive Sheshnag (giant hooded snake) sheltering the infant, Vasudev stepped in deluging waters of Jamuna. There was long distance to cover, and rising waters reached up to the nose.

When rising waters of Jamuna, as if by arrogance, reached the nostrils of Shri Krishna angrily he made noise. Soon the river Jamuna realized the mystery. Politely Jamuna pleaded, "Vasudev Ji, you are ferrying Trilokinath (the Master of Three Universe) in the basket on your head lifted high with arrogance. Lower down your head with humility. Let me kiss the feet of Trilokinath with affection." As soon as Vasudev lowered his head, waters of Jamuna touched the toe of right foot of Shri Krishna dangling out of the basket. Soon the rising water level receded and Vasudev could easily cross over to the opposite bank.

Wading through the river, finally Vasudev reached the house of Nand Baba. Vasudev Ji described his experience in the prison, and how Lord Vishnu himself directed him to visit his friend Nand Ji. Listening to Vasudev Ji, Nand Baba was delighted. Vasudev said, "Nand Ji! Treat this child as your own son. Upbringing this child would be like worshiping Lord Vishnu."

Regarded as the Eighth Avatar of God Vishnu, Shri Krishna is worshiped as a supreme God in Hinduism. He is the god of compassion, tenderness, love and is one of the most popular and widely revered among Indian divinities. Born in Mathura in Northern India (around 3,228 BCE), Lord Krishna's life marks the passing of the Dvaapara Yug (દ્વાપર યુગ) and the beginning of the Kal Yuga (કળિયુગ) which is an era under which we are all living.

According to the Hindu lunar calendar, Lord Krishna was born on 'Ashtami' or the 'eighth day' at midnight in the holy month of Shravan (શ્રાવણ) when 'Rohini' constellation (Nakshatra) was rising on horizon. Owing to the difference in movement of the Constellations and Moon, the actual day of Birthday celebration of Shri Krishna could be on two different days since the constellation 'Rohini' and Ashtami may not appear on the same day. This occurs between August and September on the Gregorian or popularly known as Christian calendar. Well, now let us celebrate the birth of our most adorable deity - Shri Krishna!

146. Āja Sakhi Ashtami Ne Budha-vār Re ॥ આજ સખી અષ્ટમી

Rāga - Dhol, રાગ – ધોળ

આજ સખી અષ્ટમી ને બુધવાર રે, પ્રગટયા શ્રી પુરુષોત્તમ પ્રાણાધાર રે

āja sakhi ashtami ne budha-vār re,

0. Happiness of celebration is in air as a woman calls out her friend and as if reminding her says, today is the eighth day of the Shravan month and also Wednesday, when the basis of life Shri Purushottam was born. The poet refers to Shri Krishna as 'Purushottam' which means, 'only one of its kind Man'.

With happiness abounding in her heart, she asks her friend, "Dear sister dress up in most adorable at attires, as we have to go to the palace of Nand-Ji and congratulate Jashoda on the birth of her child. Birth of a child is considered as one of the happiest moment to rejoice in a mother's life, that makes her a 'complete woman'.

Poet Haridas asks disciple to welcome their lovable God with graciousness and reticence. Establish God in your heart, to be always one with your God.

As we sift through several devotional poetries and songs of Holi festivities, we come across vivid narrations of mischievous bantering between the Gopis of Gokul and Krishna. Despite petty squabbling the Gopis arduously strive to patch up with Krishna, on whom they ardently dote.

સાખી sākhi

hiňde van van shodhati, shri vruňdā-van mojhār vādi vele sarve joyuň, have ju-e saro-var pāl ... 1
Having left them in huff and vanished in the forests not finding Krishna anywhere, the Gopis went after him looking out for him. Searching through parks and orchards, flowery vineyards, and even on the banks of lake, they looked out for him everywhere in the forest in the Vrundavan.

ગર્વ જાણી ગોરી તણો, હરિ ભયે અંતર્ધ્યાન; garva jāni gori tano, hari bhaye aňtar-dhyān edhāni joti paňth-ni, nayane chhutyāň jharan ... 2

Hari (Krishna) eloped annoyed with show of arrogance by the Gopis; nevertheless, after regaining their senses, tears welled in their eyes as they anxiously looked out for some sign of return of their lover.

147. Paňth Nihālati Re Ho ॥ પંથ નિહાળતી રે હો

Nādbrahma pada 697, Rāga – Panthido, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૬૯૭, રાગ - પંથીડો

પંથ નિહાળતી રે હો, જોતી પ્રીતમના પગલાં;

paňth nihālati re ho, joti pritam-nā pagalā madhya nishā-e gheli re ho, bharati lathad-tā dagalā ... repeat
With their eyes fixated on the path from where they expected to see their lover returning, their ears were strained to hear the footsteps of their beloved. But after waiting for their darling sweetheart until turn of midnight, they turned back stumbling dejectedly.

ચૌદિશી નિહાળતી રે હો, જાણે વનચરતી હરણી;

cha-u-dishi nihālati re ho, jāne van-char-ti harani sudh budh visari re ho, prabhu mārā te tāri karani ... 1

Looking fervently around all in four directions, as if she were a female deer, a Gopi was wandering here and there searching for Krishna. At last, she wailed out saying, "O' my Master, Prabhu! I have lost my senses due to your elopement!

શ્યામા સૌ ટોળે મળી રે હો, હીંડે મારગડો જોતી;

shyāmā sa-u tole mali re ho, hiňde mārag-do joti nayane nir jhare re ho, chaturā chir-thi lahoti ... 2

All beautiful women and brunettes joined together and walked up the path looking for signs of return of Krishna. As the waiting became unbearable for the women, tears rolled out of their eyes and those thought they were very clever, sadly wiped their tears with end part of their saris.

શ્યામા સૌ ટોળે મળી રે હો, મનમાં કીધો એક વિચાર;

ચાલો સખી ત્યાં જઇએ રે હો, જ્યાં કંઇ રમતા નંદકુમાર ... ૩ shyāmā sa-u tole mali re ho, man-māň kidho eka vichār chālo sakhi tyāň ja-ii-e re ho, jyāň kaň-ii ram-tā naňda-kumār ... 3

All beautiful women and brunettes gathered to discuss, where their dear one could be found. At last, all the friends decided and said "Let us all go to the place where our Krishna - Nandkumar - usually play.

જોતા સૌ ત્યાં ગયા રે હો, જ્યાં છે જળ યમુના નીર;

અહીં હરિ બેસતા રે હો, જમતાં કર્મલડો ને ક્ષીર ... ૪ jotā sa-u tyāň gayā re ho, jyāň chhe jal yamunā nir ahiň hari bes-tā re ho, jam-tā karmal-do ne kshir ... 4

Furtively looking around, the group of women reached the flowing waters of the River Jamuna. Some of them remarked, 'Hari used to sit there and relish eating roasted flour of bajri (millet), rice, etc. mixed with ghee and jaggery and milk.'

વ્હાલો વગાડતો વાંસડી રે હો, ગોપી ગાતી સર્વે ગીત; vahālo vagād-to vāňsadi re ho, gopi gāti sarve git te kem visaru re ho, prabhu mārā purva janma-ni prit ... 5

The other woman added breathlessly, 'yes, here is the place, where our Krishna used to play sweet tunes on his flute and all of them sang songs.' She exclaimed how she could forget her beloved Krishna, with whom, she believed to have been united in love since the past birth.

જતને જાળવું રે હો, જોબન ભૂધર ભેટ કરીશ;

જો હરિ નહિ મળે રે હો, મારા પાપી પ્રાણ તજીશ ... ૬ jat-ne jālavu re ho, joban bhudhar bhet karish jo hari nahi male re ho, mārā pāpi prān tajish ... 6

Then she said, "I am going to preserve my youthful body with utmost care, and meeting my Lord again, I would submit myself youthful body for his pleasure. And if at all, I would not be able to meet Hari, I would give up my sinful soul." The poet has portrayed well the height of ardent devotion, that if she was unable to meet his divine lover, she would consider her soul an evil, and sacrifice her life!

શ્રી હરિ શ્યામળા રે હો, ધરતાં ધાબળિયાનો વેશ;

Young women gathered in groups, and perturbed at not finding spiritual solace cannot help themselves from crying out aloud. The poet at last moved by the melancholy of the women, advises them to seek out spiritual image their Supreme Soul and meditatively embrace Him. As we near the end of this Bhajan, we come to realize the poet has compared our soul with the Gopis seeking spiritual union with the Supreme Soul, as a way to attain emancipation (Moksh) from ever churning cycle of birth and death.

Indian Saints embody the highest ideals and are credited for demonstrating the reality of spiritual awareness. India is known to be the land of Saints and Gods. They have helped people to attain positive actions, devotion, spiritual practice and mental discipline by providing appropriate conditions and knowledge.

It is the legacy of Indian Saints like Surdas, Kabir, Raidas, Namdev, Tukaram, that represents the true identity of Indian ideology. Since time immemorial, India has been the seat of several religious sects by the followers of these saints, who adopted simple measures to explain the religious philosophies. The following Bhajan narrates how God comes to the aid of his true disciple in their times of crisis.

Meerabai, is popularly known as a disciple of Shri Krishna, an incarnation of Lord Vishnu. Miffed by her ardent devotion, her husband Vikram Singh sent Meera a glass of poison, telling her it was nectar. Meera gulped down the poison, but nothing happened to her by the divine grace.

Similarly, the barber Sena's[1] life was changed by God. Absorbed in the worship of God, Sena ignored repeated summons of the Muslim King. Nevertheless, a different kind of divine experience by the king, helped change the fortunes of the Barber Sena, who in later life became an ascetic saint.

Many people in Junagadh were jealous of saintly poet Narsinh Mehta, whose several social tasks were gracefully accomplished mystically. Upon receiving many complaints against Narsinh, King Ra' Mandlik imprisoned him, saying if he was a true devotee of Lord Krishna, a garland in the idol of the God would fall around the neck of Narsinh. Overnight, Narsinh kept worshiping Krishna as usual, but the next day morning, as the King and other people came, mysteriously the garland was lifted off the idol and dropped around the neck of Narsimh who was behind bars, and silently worshiping.

Appeased by the devotion of Dhruva, God bestowed him a place in the upper Universe in the form of North Star - named Dhruva.

The Supreme Divinity, who provided shelter to the dilapidated house of Saint Namdev, who hailed from the lineage of the pupils of Guru Gorakhnath. Namdev's wife was in advance stage of pregnancy. While the saint was away from home, torrential rains broke out. There was none around to help his wife. Suddenly the roof parted and an elderly woman appeared. She acted as a midwife and enabled her to deliver a baby boy. Next day, when Saint Namdev returned, he was overwhelmed by mysterious divine grace. He soon realized, it was God Himself who had helped the safe delivery. Later, the child grew up to become a famous saint by name - Karma Mela!

In the same way, Lord Krishna helped his school-time friend and alleviated him from dire poverty. With divine gift of prosperity, Sudama's wife rejoiced the comforts she had never envisioned.

[1] Prahlada worshiped inspired by Narada. Prahlada refused to acknowledge his father as the supreme lord of the universe and claimed that Vishnu was all-pervading and omnipresent. To which Hiranyakashipu pointing to a nearby pillar and asked, if Vishnu is in it: Prahlada answered "He is in pillars, and he is in the least twig." As seething with anger Hiranyakashyapu moved menacingly to kill Prahlad, Vishnu in the form of Narsimha appeared from the broken pillar and in defense of Prahlada. Hiranyakashyapu was bestowed with a boon by Brahma. As per the boon bestowed by Brahma, Hiranyakashipu could not be killed by human, deva or animal; but Narasimha was none of these, as he was a form of Vishnu (a deva) incarnated as part human, part animal. He came upon Hiranyakashipu at twilight (when it was neither day nor night) on the threshold of a courtyard (neither indoors nor out), and put the demon on his thighs (neither earth nor space). Using his nails (neither animate nor inanimate) as weapons, he disembowelled and killed the demon.

[2] Vithoba alias Krishna reached the palace in the form of Barber Sena. While Lord Krishna, in the form of Sena massaged the king's head with oil, the king saw the reflection of the four-armed Krishna in the cup of oil, but as he looked up he saw Barber Sena. The perplexed king fainted. Sena return to his home.

Meanwhile, when the king regained his senses he asked his royal official to hurriedly call back Sena. He asked Sena to show his four-armed form. He asked for a bowl of oil to be brought and looked at the reflection of Sena in the bowl of oil. But he could not see image of the four-armed divine image of Lord Vishnu he had seen earlier. Barber Sena soon realized that, Lord Vishnu had impersonated as Sena. The king thanked Sena to enable him to perceive the image Lord Vishnu. Having perceived the divine image himself, the Muslim king became a disciple of Krishna. The king fell at the feet of Barber Sena and rewarded him with a bagful of gold coins.

Krishna wants pure love and surrender from his devotees. He takes such great pleasure in receiving the loving sentiments of His devotees. For his devotees Lord Krishna becomes friend, philosopher and guide and even to some like Gopis of Braj he is lover.

Elated by happiness of being in love with Krishna, Radha sings inviting her beloved Lord Krishna. Spiritually literature on Radha and Krishna have considered Radha a metaphor for the human spirit, her love and longing for Krishna is theologically viewed as symbolic of the human quest for spiritual growth and union with the Supreme Divine.

The following poem describes how bewitchingly Radha invites her Lord Krishna to her lane! We find the devotees reach out to God to seek divine blessings by visiting the temples. But, Krishna who wants pure love and devotion, bows to the wishes of his devotees. In order to offer grand welcome to Krishna, Radha has strewn the lane with flowers of her prayers.

Only true and devoted lover of God who has given up all his worries has laid them at the feet of his Lord. When a devotee has surrendered himself at the mercy of the Supreme Divine, he becomes free of woes and apprehensions. Summing up his prayer, poet Raghunath says, his beloved Lord Shri Krishna is aware of his anguishes. The devotee is sure that his adored lover, Krishna would take care of him and protect from woes the life.

This devotional poetry is sung in on Garbi note or tune. Many are unaware about the difference in Garbi and Garba style of singing. Both Garbi and Garba are sung in chorus rhythmically dancing going round in circle. The basic difference lies in the manner of singing and singers. Garba or Garbo is mainly sung by women, whereas Garbi is usually sung by men. Garba sung by women are mostly sung as prayers of Goddess Amba. On the other hand, verses of Garbi are mostly centered over devotion for Krishna.

150. Fari Nahi Male Re ॥ ફરી નહિ મળે રે

Nādbrahma pada 720, Rāga – Garbi, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૨૦, રાગ - ગરબી

ફરી નહિ મળે રે, ફરી નહિ મળે રે,

લેરે લ્હાવો તને ફરી નહિ મળે;

fari nahi male re, fari nahi male re, lere lahāvo tane fari nahi male

Taking devotional fervor on a different plane, Medieval poet Narsinh Mehta, starts the song on a cautionary note. You will not ever get such an opportunity in life. Take as much benefit of this time, as you will never ever get such a chance to make most of your life. What is to be achieved for which we may not get another chance? Let us see what the poet is hinting at...!

બાવળિયાનું બી વાવે તો આંબા નહિ ફળે;

આવી રૂડી મનષા દેહ ભૂલમાં ભમે ... લેરે લ્હાવો તને ફરી નહિ મળે bāvaliyā-nu bi vāve to āmbā nahi fale āvi rudi manashā deh bhul-māň bhame ... lere lahāvo tane fari nahi male

Still taking the suspense further, he says, if one sows seeds of a thorny babul tree, mangoes will not grow on it. Being in proximity of a thorny plant or a tree, there is every chance of suffering pain. Whereas, a mango tree is like a divine grace that gives us chance to relish sweet fruits. Going through innumerable births and deaths, we have been bestowed with chance to be borne as a human being that is considered as the supreme specie. Here is the chance of million generation life time.

Saint Kabir Saheb has rightly pointed out...

> મનુષ્ય જન્મ તો દુર્લભ હૈ, નહીં બારંબાર,
>
> તરુવર તે ફલ ગિર પડો. બહોર ન લાગે ડાર..
> Human life is the most precious, which we shall not get again and again. If a fruits drops from a branch of a tree, it would never be able to get back to the branch.

Similarly, having been borne as human is a rarely gotten chance. Hence, Kabir Ji advises us to work assiduously to watch our Karma and lead virtuous life, which may lead our soul to get freedom from the vicious cycle of birth and death, life after life!

કેવડો કસ્તૂરી મોગરો તેલમાં તરે;

મોતિડાંની કણક લઈ ઘંટીમાં દળે ... લેરે લ્હાવો તને ફરી નહિ મળે kevado kasturi mogaro tel-māň tare motidā-ni kanak la-ii ghaňti-māň dale ... lere lahāvo tane fari nahi male

Driven by illusions, man spends the precious life in futile pursuit of worldly pleasures. Only a foolish would fry Kevdo (Agave flower), Katoori (musk) and Mogra (Jasmine) in oil. It is needless to say, essence of all these three most fragrant things would be lost. Similarly, making dough to bake bread using powder of pearls is but a futile effort to satiate hunger, by wasting precious jewel-like time of the life. Wake up O' man! You will not get a second life to mend your grave mistakes!

ચેતવું હોય તો ચેતી લેજે, અવસર નહિ મળે;

નરસૈંયાના સ્વામી વિના અર્થ નવ સરે ... લેરે લ્હાવો તને ફરી નહિ મળે chet-vu hoy to cheti leje, avasar nahi male nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi vinā artha nav sare ... lere lahāvo tane fari nahi male

Lastly, with on a cautionary note, the poet says, if you wish to wake up now, wake up quickly, before it is too late. You will not get such an opportunity to wake up spiritually. Without worshiping Lord Krishna the Master of Narsinh, all else is vain. Wake up your inner self, as you will never have such a pleasant opportunity to attain spiritual realization!

Anyone who has fervent faith upon God seems to have thrown the worries to the wind. Such an individual is less concerned with ups and downs of life and believes in seeking joy from every moment of life. This Bhajan by Narsinh Mehta echoes the sentiments of a devotional worshiper and believer of God.

0. A devout merrily sings, have a joy of this day. Why worry about what is going to happen tomorrow? Who has seen tomorrow!

1. Singing on the positive note, the poet says, 'Let your soul bask under showers of orations and dance with gaiety, enjoy the happiness of living today.' Live every moment of life cheerfully. With every passing moment something is lessening. We have to make most of every day and embellish with choicest colors!

2. The pious poet draws our attention to the virtues of the Supreme Divinity. When we get to meet somebody, try to analyze his or her nature, moralistic qualities. As and when we come to realize his or her true self, we either avoid or accept the individual. But spiritual contemplation makes us realize how grateful we are for the divine grace upon us, for enabling us to be borne as a human being. With divine providence, a spiritual seeker thanks his stars and pleasantly devotes oneself at the services of the Supreme Soul, without worrying about tomorrow.

3. Welcoming God, the worshiper cheerfully proffers comfy pew and pillows of flowers, and spreads out bed of flowers. The worshiper aims to take solace in providing all material comforts to the Supreme Creator of this Universe, the one who basically is the provider of all sorts of material comforts to the man! The believer in such philosophy thinks of living every minute happily and shunning all elements of unhappiness of life, with no regard for tomorrow.

4. The famous American novelist Paul Laurence has rightly said, "We believe this life to be a fathomless reservoir of life, since we are unaware when we shall die!" The next moment of life is beyond our reach. When an opportunity arises to do something good, we may think of doing it some other time, perhaps tomorrow. An opportunity and time waits for none. There is no specific time for birth or death. Then, why wait to take up some virtuous task? Should we match our steps with time, the time gives us company and so do the God.

5. Lastly, a worshiper is advised to devout oneself at worshiping Rama, and serving the saints. But these ordained tasks are to be taken up sincerely holding the faith in God in our hearts and minds. Let us make up most of this day, as whoever has seen tomorrow...!

Devotion fervor has different shades. One may worship God out of fear or to seek favor. For the people of Dwarka the God is Dwarkaadhish - the King of Dwarka, while for some the God is a friend, philosopher or a lover, or the Master. For the people of Mathura or Vrundavan, Krishna is a friend or a lover, and for the Vaishnavaites lovingly worshiping and perceiving the God - Lord Krishna is a child. The essence of all these emotions is just directed at the Divine Creator in whom we perceive reflection of devotional feelings, since worshiping God in such a way gives us a sense of devotion.

152. Naňda-nā Chhoru Re ॥ નંદના છોરું રે

Nādbrahma pada 722, Rāga – Garbi, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૨૨, રાગ - ગરબી

નંદના છોરું રે ખેલત કાંકરી કોણે મારી
કોણે મારી રે મારે હૈયે લાગી ... નંદના છોરું રે

Naňda-Nā Chhoru Re Khelat Kaňkari Kone Māri
Kone Māri Re Māre Haiye Lāgi ... Naňda-Nā Chhoru Re
The following devotional verse borne out of love for the child Krishna, expresses motherly caring expression of a devout. Which mother would tolerate her child being hit by a pebble - even in fun or in play! When the son of Nand, adored by all, is hit by a pebble thrown playfully, it caused pain to the heat of the devout.

તેરી મારી મેં તો નહિ રે મારુંગી
મોરી દિલકી મારી મર જાઉં રે ... નંદના છોરું રે

Teri Māri Meň To Nahi Re Māruňgi
Mori Dil-Ki Māri Mar Ja-Uň Re ... Naňda-Nā Chhoru Re
Not willing to accept the blame, another devout blurts out, 'May he might have been hit by you playfully; I have not hit the pebble. How can I do that, who I love so much? I would rather die rather than flinging a stone at the son of Nand Ji.

આ તીરે ગંગા ને પેલી તીરે જમુના મારે ભરવા છે ઝાઝાં નીર રે ... નંદના છોરું રે

Ā Tire Gaňgā Ne Peli Tire Jamunā
Māre Bharva Jhājhā Nir Re ... Naňda-Nā Chhoru Re
A Gopi exclaims, she has to fill up lots of water. The waters here are symbolic products or results of the Karma that she has to perform in the course of life. A devout further say, 'I have to collect waters of Ganga from this side of the bank and waters of Jamuna from the other side.' How is that? How come a river has waters of Ganga and Jamuna rivers on either bank?
In Hindu philosophy the rivers are accepted as an extended part of Hindu families, mostly revered as a mother as 'Mother Ganga', whereas, Kalindi or Yamuna, is revered as a sister of Lord Yama - the God of death and justice. Legends describe Yama as the twin of Yamuna, a river goddess associated with life, and the Yama as the son of the sun god Surya and Saranyu.

Saint poetess, Meerabai has sung,

"ચલો મન ગંગા-જમુના તીર...

ગંગા-જમુના નિરમલ પાની, શીતલ હોત શરીર,

બંસી બજાવત ગાવત કાન્હા, સંગ લિયા બલવીર,

ચલો મન ગંગા-જમુના તીર...

The waters of Ganga and Jamuna are holier, that calms and soothes our bodies. The feelings these rivers invoke within the hearts of a devotee that on its banks Krishna - Kaanhaa is singing and playing flute accompanied by his brother Balram or Balvir.

Having departed from the realm of the Supreme Soul, having attained life as a living being in the mortal world it gradually gave up the divine qualities having fallen into the black hole of Maya. All the living beings those once had His very essence of being a part of the Supreme Divinity is shattered, and based on the spiritual qualities of their respective Karma, are segregated into eight million, four hundred thousand species. Entire universe, thus is overwhelmed, and there remains only recourse for a soul to alleviate from such quagmire is to worship Supreme Almighty.

I have stopped worrying about the Universe, and here, I have plunged into the worldly affairs building up around me binding Karma. Forgetting why have I have been born in this world and how can I raise my soul to higher realm, I kept dwelling in worldly pleasures and avarices. Blinded by ignorance, I foolishly pursued worldly riches fully and selfishly disregarding richness of virtuous life.

Adhyaru Ji Maharaj has classified twenty-eight Kirtan by different name. He has pointed in the direction of Bhakti Marg (Path of Devotionalism). Gleaning essence from Vedas, Purana, etc., he has offered it in these Kirtan (chants). Out of these, melancholic chants (શોકભાવનાં કીર્તનો) reflect on the verses of Garuda Purana[], and advises to eradicate fears described by Garuda Purana by worshiping God. He has also stated that, a devout do not have to endure the suffering described in the Garuda Purana. By providing title "શોકભાવનાં કીર્તનો (Melancholic Chants) he has also indicated that, singing this Kirtan, the worshiper never have to the anguishes of the pains and sufferings of the Life Cycle. Adhyaru Ji says that, whatever he has to say is stated after a lot of thoughts having studied all the treatises and the facts mentioned therein. He does not speak contrarily. Hence, he presents this Kirtan by name - Ved Purana.*

O' God! I have deeply meditated having read and studied all the scriptures like Vedas, Puranas. Even I have thoroughly studied and pondered over Nighantu (lexicon). The span of the life is not much longer, although, one may feel it is longer in terms of age of a man. However, lost in the worldliness, a man does not have time to reflect on the unfulfilled task of attainment of unification with the Supreme Soul.

One need to involve oneself in the spiritual study, worship God, chant name of Rama. By following the spiritual learning, one may be able to realize the ultimate quintessence of the ancient scriptures that the sentient Supreme Almighty is ever prevailing. ...1 ...2

O' God! Why have I forgotten about the sufferings my soul has endured in the past births? And why have I chosen to state of being in mother's womb. Several spiritual treatises have given to belief that, a soul chooses one's mother and father, to be able to take birth, and even as a human being. Attainment of the birth totally depends on the results of the Karma of the past births.

Only if man could recover the memories of the past births, one could enliven memories of the sufferings of the past births, one could mend his ways in the present birth. Although, reminiscing the memories of the past births, certainly will not be possible for one, but most essentially one could contemplate and meditate on the virtues of the Supreme Almighty, only thus could salvation be attained. ...3 ...4

Having been born as a human being, the soul got immersed in the quicksand of the Maya and captivation of the worldly passions, and thus, slipped off onto the path of self-destruction. The Almighty sends the soul in this world to undergo the results of the past Karma. It is ironic that, human beings have not been blessed with such memory, which may store and recollect memories of the past birth.

What is most important fact, that we being born as human species, we are endowed with a thinking mind, unlike other living species in the world! Instead of using intellect for achieving spiritual growth, man gets lost in the painful realm of birth and death, leaving aside the basic purpose coming into this world to live pious way of life, and obliterate ill-effects of the Karma of the actions of the past and present actions. .... 5... 6

Mahatma Gandhi had coined a unique term for poor and neglected people as 'Daridra Narayan', thus, he had visualized God in the form of a poor person. It could be a peasant, hapless aged and sick individual, a victim of social injustice. Even serving our parents, needy neighbors and strangers with due human care, too is a service to the God. All these must be done devoid of selfish motives, craftiness and carried out with a sense of humility and sense or worshiping the God.

Divine blessing and grace is attained through the performance of such noble actions. And we must bear in mind that the source of all the ideas of idealistic thoughts of performing altruistic activities originates from the divine grace, which ultimately gets absorbed within the divine realm. .. 9 .. 10

The Vedic scriptures have segregated the human society into four Ashramas. Traditionally, an Ashram is a spiritual hermitage. The four ashramas are: Brahmacharya (student), Grihastha (householder), Vanaprastha (retired) and Sanyasa (ascetic). The Ashram system is one facet of the Dharma concept in Hinduism. Similarly, the society has been segregated into four Varna - The Varna system in Dharma-shastras divides society into four varnas (Brahmins, Kshatriyas, Vaishya and Shudras). As a matter of fact, the evolvement of Ashramas was to enable a man to perform various duties and activities in conformity one's status as a student, householder, retired or ascetic. On the other hand the system of classification i.e. Varna is a system that existed in the Vedic Society which divided the society into four classes based on job or works specifications as - Brahmins (priests), Kshatriyas (warriors), Vaishyas (skilled traders, merchants), and Shudras (unskilled workers).

However, disregarding the Vedic system of Dharma, several so-called religious saints and godmen have established their Ashramas and temples. All these establishments are nothing but the sources of income for them, which serve the purpose of befooling the ignorant masses. With passage of time, the system of Varna came to be evolved as caste system. Being born in a particular upper caste instilled a sense of false ego. Vainly pampered by arrogance, a man gets dislodged from the path of spiritual pursuit, and ultimately fails to rise to spiritual heights, and is subjected to go through the incessant cycle of birth and deaths. ... 41... 42.

*Garuda Purana

The Garuda Purana is one of the Vishnu Puranas. It is in the form of a dialog between Vishnu and Garuda, the King of Birds. The second section of Garuda Purana deals with the issues connected with after-death, particularly the funeral rites and the metaphysics of reincarnation. Portions of the Garuda Purana are used by some Hindus as funeral liturgy.

Of interest are the intermediate states between birth and rebirth, which roughly correspond to the western concepts of Hell and Heaven. Since the Garuda Purana was written during the medieval era, it is possible that the writer of this text had contact with Christianity. The earlier Hindu texts do not elaborate about 'Hell' and 'Heaven,' at least not to this extent, and the subject is completely absent in the oldest texts. The Garuda Purana starts with the details of the afterlife. Following this is an account of funeral procedures, including rituals, the astrological timing of the post-death observances, and ritual gifts.

નિચટ - નિઘંટુ (વૈદિક શબ્દોનો કોષ; શબ્દસંગ્રહ; શબ્દકોષ; એક પદાર્થના અનેકાર્થ અને અનેકાર્થનું એક નામ વર્ણવેલું હોય તેને નિઘંટુ કહે છે. - As per Bhagwadgomandal Lexicon - Nighantu means, a lexicon or a dictionary, which reflects equivocal words and one name describing equivocal words. In Mahabharat, Muni Kashyap is referred to as the creator of Nighantu)

The Vedas and Puranas are being referred to as leading guide for the humanity, and the Vedas, the commandments of the vedas or the spiritual treatises have deeper impact on the Man's Life. As such, inquisitiveness or curiosity to learn these volumes knowledge prevails among the spiritual seekers. However, not all may be able to read the ancient scriptures. Nevertheless, such people can easily follow the path of worshiping God or spiritual meditation, and thus can attain the grace of the Supreme Almighty. Making submission for the venerations before God, in favor of the conventional worshipers, Adhyaru Ji Maharaj has showed that, such simple disciples and believers are also worthy of the grace of the Supreme Soul, and 'Sorangi' is a shade of devotion.

The verses of 'Sorangi' vividly narrates such devout involved in the worship of God. One needs to acquire specific education to study the Vedas or Puranas. However, the Goddess of Sarswati, bestows a spiritual seeker with a path of attaining emancipation through praying God. A disciple does not have to learn the ancient treatises, but he straightway gets connected with the Supreme Soul. God is benevolent enough to have mercy upon His disciples. And the disciple who has been enthralled by 'Sorangi' is always happy-go-lucky kind of an individual. He is least concerned with the different hues and shades of the life. He is just absorbed in divine love. A 'Sorangi' or an individual, who has thrown to winds all his worldly concerns and meditating on perceived image of the Supreme Divinity, is fancifully least concerned with his appearance or attire. The path of attain divine grace is such that a seeker does not have to labour to study different spiritual scriptures having to worship Goddess Saraswati.

But on the side-line, let us understand what 'Sorangi' is. 'Sorangi' is a kind of vegetation. The ascetics dye their loincloths with the dye obtained from the flowers of this vegetation. Sorangi are of two types - male and female, which grow on different trees. These trees grow abundantly on Western Ghat hills in Maharashtra to Kanada in Konkan region. The buds of these flowers are being sold as Nag Kesar, having botanical name - Mesua ferrea. However, these lack in receptive qualities of Rose Chestnut (Mesua ferrea). Before these buds come to full bloom, they taste sweet which are source of vigour. In the months of Magh and Fagun (January to February or February to March), these trees flower and its fragrance spread in the forests. Unopened buds of these flowers are dried and exported for manufacturing dyes. The reddish color obtained from these buds is used for dyeing high grades silk or muslin cloths. These flowers are also used in producing medicines and fragrant hair oils. The taste of the bark of this tree is bitter, and its wood is used in construction. While the ascetics prefer using this excellent type of colors, the worldly masses take delight in wearing garments dyed with this shade of color on auspicious and religious festivals.

155. Ji Re Sarasvat Svāmi-ne Vinavu ॥ જી રે સરસ્વત સ્વામીને વિનવું

જી રે સરસ્વત સ્વામીને વિનવું, અને માગું એક પસાયો દે;

The worshiper beseeches the Saraswat Swami with utmost earnestness and innocence at heart for the divine grace. We will sing in your praise and worship you with true religious fervor. We will sing aloud with all innocence that you, the Almighty, are an Emperor of the Brahmaand or the Universe. You are as wonderfully handsomely colorful as Sorangi.

Colors are one of the most beautiful and also one of the most under-appreciated aspects of the physical realm. We are surrounded by colors, but how often do we notice the numerous subtleties in the myriad shades? Colors hold significance for people around the world. Not only do colors influence emotion, but they also hold meaning in religion and various cultures.
Spiritually, color can impart information, both as in aura colors, and energy - as in healing. The aura is the spiritual energy field surrounding living beings which is "visible" to the psychically sensitive eyes. It would be helpful for those interested in spiritual studies, to understand and realize spiritual significance of the shades governed by In reference to 'Sorangi' - Red, Orange and White. White acts as a canvas for all colors to stand out vividly. White is associated with truth, purity, cleansing, healing and protection. It is a good general healing color for the removal of pain and suffering. In the aura it signifies a high level of attainment, a higher level soul incarnate to help others.
Red and Orange colors are derived from the flowers of 'Sorangi' tree, which have been referred above. Red symbolizes energy, passion, strength, courage, physical activity, creativity, warmth, and security, whereas, Orange symbolizes individual's relationship to the external world, the needs and wants of the physical body and the ways in which these are satisfied, the world of work.

God is mightier to devastate or create millions of Universes; that is why we address God as the Supreme Almighty. Have you ever wondered how God in the form of such mightiest child could have been accommodated in a small bamboo basket carried by Vadudev or borne within the womb of Devaki. Astounded by supreme powers of the Almighty, a seeker wonders saying, who does he proffer flowers and leaves of plants like Tulsi (Basil) or Bili (Bael), in whose mouth fourteen universes dwells?

The worshiper monk is in deep love with Rama and Krishna. He or she is eagerly waiting to have union or direct perception with the God. There is a request being made to the almighty one to visit his or her region and shower his grace upon various people of the region and to assure them success in their actions and endeavours. These are sacred and humble words about requesting the God to have his presence in the region and bless his grace to everyone.

0. Thou Lord! Please descend early to my place;
Grace the success in the endeavours of the servants.

1. Thou Lord! Nothing looks splendid without your presence;
My mind has extreme desires to meet you.

2. Thou Lord! I am desperately waiting for my dear;
Please, do purify our sacred residences.

3. Thou Lord! Please fulfil the wishes of women;
You are the life energy, what more we should ask for?

4. Thou Lord! Rama and Krishna are Gods for the poor;
O dear! Please, help us to fulfil our life long wish of enlightenment.

In a moonlit sky.”
- Dr. Debasish Mridha

Seeking the deepest truth that affects human destiny, an American physician and philosopher Dr. Debasish Mridha reflects thus. An ardent devout of God may have vivid imaginations of God being a friend, master, lover or even to the extent of one's son, who is about to be married. In fact, according to Hindu customs, a pair of bride and bridegroom is regarded as Laxmi and Vishnu.

The poet imagines affectionately as a mother who may imagine getting her son married with pomp and splendor!

0. And when a worshiper imagines perceiving God as her son, whose wedding is planned, calls out for holy waters of Ganga and Jamuna, and getting Vanmali or Shri Krishna for his wedding. Dressed up in saffron colored apparels and embellished with ornaments, the bridegroom looks handsomely astride a horse in the wedding procession.

1. Enthusiastically busying preparing God as a bridegroom, the devout asks to tie a gold torse on his turban, and even flowery garland. When a procession takes the bridegroom to the bride's house, seated astride horseback, sister of bridegroom shakes a small pot filled with grains, and moves it down his back, as the bridegroom looks elegant on the horseback.

2. Mother Jashoda holding a coconut and areca nut (supari) in hands, and having worn a chaplet, and also carrying along a Vaman Divdo (lamp), leads the way of the bridegroom. A devotee prays to God to lead oneself on the spiritual path, bout paradoxically out of affection, poet imagines Jashoda leading Krishna's wedding procession.

3. The people of Gokul thronged the streets to watch such a wonderful bridegroom. Having perceived imagery of the God as a bridegroom, devout are delighted. Absorbed with spiritual pleasure at the imagery of God as bridegroom getting married, devout lovers of God, perceives Him astride horseback in the wedding procession.

In Hindu culture, marriage is a pious bond of a man and a woman. It is considered as the most propitious obsequies (Sanskaar). It is an auspicious unification of the souls of two individual - a man and a woman! A bride and bridegroom take different vows, as per the Vedic dictates of mutual faithfulness and to share joy and pains of life, while fulfilling social duties and living as wedded husband and wife. The marriage is not just a wedding ceremony, but it is also a unification of two different families.

Traditionally right from the evening prior to the wedding day final preparations and joyful singing begins. The songs sung through different events in a wedding ceremony hold greater significance in terms of Hindu culture and religion.

While a priest chants Vedic verses, the bride and bridegroom take four rounds around the pyre of the holy fire. Each of these rounds signifies industriousness in four different aspects of human life - Dharma (Faith or Duty), Artha (Wealth), Kaama (Sexual Passion) and Moksha (Emancipation). In the first three rounds a man takes the lead, signifying duties to be fulfilled, earning livelihood and act to carry forward the genealogy. According to the first book of the Bible - Genesis (1:26-28) we are told that God made the human race by creating Adam and Eve. Most of the spiritual scriptures prescribe husbands and wives to engage in sexual activity within their committed marital relationship and have children. The Vedic scriptures too, assert that God designed and created all living beings, inclusive of the human race to have sexual passion.

In the last round, signifying Moksha, a woman is bestowed with the Supreme task to take lead to seek emancipation for her husband and self, by accomplishing the duties on her part with love, devotion, virtuousness and forbearance, paving the way for emancipation for herself and her husband. The Hindu religious and cultural values describe this ritual of four rounds around the holy pyre as "Mangal Phera" is a combination of two words, 'Mangal' meaning propitious and 'Phera' as a round. Through all the first three rounds, the wife avows to go along with her husband; in the last round the husband avows to go with his wife in her spiritual pursuit, and thus both of them avow remain mutually faithful and respect each other.

158. Goviňd-ji Parane Naňda-ji Par-nāve ॥ ગોવિંદજી પરણે નંદજી પરણાવે

sāňji dev tyāň āni bolāve, to chāre maňgal gā-ii-shuň re ... repeat

Wedding of Lord Krishna, the Govind! How spectacular pageantry it could be! Looking forward to the invitation from Nand Ji, devout women of Gokul, anxiously wonders, when Nand Ji would arrange the wedding of his son, Krishna and invite them to sing songs in the evening prior to the wedding day. As songs are sung in the evening, these are called 'Saanji', and womenfolk are eager to sing ritual songs during four rounds the newlywed couple take.

જશોદાજી આપણને બોલાવે, ખોળામાં કંઇ નૌતમ લાવે;

નવું નવું કરીને ગવડાવે, તો ચારે મંગલ ગાઇશું રે ... ૧

navu navu kari-ne gav-dāve, to chāre maňgal gā-ii-shuň re ... 1

The womenfolk expect Jashoda to invite them for Krishna's wedding. Also, the women propose to take along the finest gifts. The enthusiastic devout women of Gokul, want to sing newer songs to memorialize the four auspicious events of the wedding of Shri Krishna.

વર વનમાલી આવીને જુએ, સાંભળતા સૌ દુઃખડા ખુએ;

તે સમે માવડી ગાવડી દુહે, તો ચારે મંગલ ગાઇશું રે ... ૨ var van-māli āvi-ne ju-e, sāmbhal-tā sa-u dukhadā khu-e te same māvadi gāvadi duhe, to chāre maňgal gā-ii-shuň re ... 2

Adorning a garland of flowers of forest, when the bridegroom Krishna arrives to listen the singing, womenfolk promise to bless him. And at that moment, they would all sing auspicious songs at all the four events when some mother milks a cow.

આવીને ત્યાં કહાનની પાસે, માતાનું મન રૂડું રે થાશે;

નિરખી સ્વરૂપ રસિક સોહાસે, તો ચારે મંગલ ગાઇશું રે ... ૩ āvi-ne tyāň kahān-ni pāse, mātā-nu man rudu re thāshe nirakhi svarup rasik sohāse, to chāre maňgal gā-ii-shuň re ... 3

For the women of Gokul, Krishna mattered most, as they expressed their affection with a sense of motherly feeling. Fervently loving women pleased to have seen Krishna appearing before them, they reiterate singing the songs of all the four auspicious events of the wedding.

વરઘોડે વર જ્યારે ચઢશે, વ્રજમેં સૌ કોઇની દષ્ટિએ પડશે;

વલ્લભનું મન ત્યાં ગળશે, તો ચારે મંગલ ગાઇશું રે ... ૪

val-labh-nu man tyāň gal-she, to chāre maňgal ga-ii-shuň re ... 4

As Govind, prepare to proceed for wedding ceremony riding a horse, the people of the town - Brij, would rejoice. And when Vallabh (the poet of this Bhajan) absorbs the sublime joy of perceiving the Lord, we will sing songs of all the four propitious events.

Radha is considered as a metaphor for the human spirit or Atma. Her love and longing for Shri Krishna is theologically viewed as symbolic of the human quest for spiritual growth and union with the Supreme Divine or Brahma. Legends about the divine love of Radha for Shri Krishna have been inspirational theme of numerous literary works. Several artistic performances depicting dances, renowned as Raas Lila have enthralled the disciples of Shri Krishna and lovers of performing arts.

Attainment of spiritual wealth is certainly a matter of great and ultimate joy for devout. In Sanskrit, Radha means, affluence and accomplishment. But that is in spiritual context. But for the disciples of Radha, it is the name of the Gopi who is the beloved of Krishna, embodying soul and Brahma.

0. For the benefit of common people, the poet using a metaphor describes joy of Radha. Delighted Radha thanks her stars for being born as Radha. As she is getting married to the Complete Man of her dreams i.e. Supreme Soul, she seems to realize accomplishment of the good Karma of the past birth.

1. Radha says, only one thing was uppermost in my mind, and my God you have at last realized. If only God could realize the true desire of His disciple through life after life, the only desire of true devout is to attain oneness with the Spiritual Master. It is like Radha's dream of marrying with Shri Krishna is fulfilled.

2. As a dream of marrying her beloved lover, akin to common lovers, to Radha, even the blowing winds sound pleasant to her ears. She feels as if several musical sounds are emanating from the heavens echoing in the skies. The deities from the heavens have arrived to congratulate the newly wedded couple. As if a soul of devout is unified with the Supreme Soul.

3. All dignitaries are seated in heavenly court of the Lord, as the son of Jashoda has lovingly hugged Radha. As Krishna, the lover (Vallabh) of Radha, showers his affectionate love, Radha thanks her stars, for having been spiritually wedded with the master of this Universe, the Brahma.

The sacred words of Shree Vallabha in this song celebrate the divine arrival of Shree Krishna in Gokul. This place has been considered as the place of faith in God. The arrival of the Complete Brahma brings joy to everyone and Mother Jashoda has been given special respect for being a mother of the supreme child. Details of the activities are briefly described with elegant and subtlety beautiful rich words. Joy, happiness and positive energy is floating everywhere.

160. Gokul-māň Eka Naňda-ji-nu Dhām ॥ ગોકુલમાં એક નંદજીનું ધામ

Days are passing in happiness, childhood Leela is happening in Vraj everyday; Shree Vallabh says that Vedas and Puranas are sung, Mother Jashoda is praiseworthy.

Most people worship God with a material motive. In most cases, they stop their worship as soon as they obtain their objective. They regard God as someone who can lessen their miseries and make their lives happy and peaceful. Still, Lord Krishna considers them pious, because in their hour of difficulty they have chosen to approach God, and not an ordinary individual.

Despite several reversals in her life, Kunti, the mother of five Panadava, held her faith in the Supreme Divinity of Godhead, Shri Krishna, and her devotion to Him. In the midst of all these troubles, she always sought Krishna's shelter. She never prayed to Krishna for a boon of a trouble-free life or for returning the kingdom to her sons. She never challenged Krishna by asking why He allowed her family to undergo such sufferings despite His presence. In fact, after the battle, when her sons regained their lost kingdom, she prayed to Krishna for bestowing her with more calamities! Why?

Let me quote from Shrimad Bhagwat. Kunti says, "I wish that all those calamities would happen again and again so that we could see you again and again!" Seeing you means," We will no longer see repeated births and deaths."

The spirit behind the following Bhajan, stems from the above episode from the Mahabharat.

161. Guru Charane Kar-jodi Lāguň ॥ ગુરૂ ચરણે કરજોડી લાગું

Nādbrahma pada 770, Rāga – Dhol, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૭૦, રાગ - ધોળ

ગુરૂ ચરણે કરજોડી લાગું, સદા પ્રભુજીની ભક્તિ માંગુ;

હરિ ગુણ ગાઇ આનંદ શું જાગું, તો સાંભળ સ્વામી કરું વિનંતિ રે ... ટેક guru charane kar-jodi lāguň, sadā prabhu-ji-ni bhakti māňgu hari gun gā-ii ānaňd shuň jāgu, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... repeat Having bowed down seeking blessings of the Guru, a devout worshiper pleads the God for reverence for the God. As I awake from sleep, I should be singing prayers venerating you. Here, the expression 'awake from sleep' denotes awakening from gross ignorance of spiritual enlightenment.

ભક્તિ મારગ ભૂધર કાંઇ નવ લેતી, દુઃખ ને સુખ શરીરે સહેતી;

સદા પ્રભુજીના વિશ્વાસે રહેતી, તો સાંભળ સ્વામી કરું વિનંતિ રે ... ૧ bhakti mārag bhudhar kāň-ii nav leti, dukh ne sukh sharire saheti

sadā prabhu-ji-nā vishvāse raheti, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... 1
The path of devotion is serpentine, and it tests the nerves of the spiritual seeker in search of ultimate emancipation. Nevertheless, fixated on the absolute faith on the God, the disciple willingly accepts all sorts of sufferings and comforts, whichever are encountered on the spiritual road to reach the Supreme Divine. The disciple seeks divine blessings to surpass the worldliness, on the strength acquired with deep faith on Krishna.

દુર્બલ જાણી પ્રભુ દયા કીજે, ચરણ કમલની સેવા દીજે;

હરિગુણ ગાઇ મારું મન રીઝે, તો સાંભળ સ્વામી કરું વિનંતિ રે ... ૨ durbal jāni prabhu dayā kije, charan kamal-ni sevā dije hari-gun gā-ii māru man rijhe, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... 2

Considering me a weakling, kindly have mercy upon me, and grant me an opportunity to serve at your holy feet. And, when the Lord bestows an opportunity to the devotee to proffer services to the Almighty, the worshiper cannot stop himself from singing in His praise.

હું અપરાધી ને કોણ મારું ગજું, સંસાર સાગર કયી પેર તજું;

રામનું નામ કયી પેર ભજું, તો સાંભળ સ્વામી કરું વિનંતિ રે ... ૩ huň apa-rādhi ne kon māru gaju, saňsār sāgar kayi per taju rām-nu nām kayi per bhaju, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... 3

The spiritual seeker beginning treading on the spiritual path, at times gets filled with self-doubt. It is quite natural, as his mind and soul are still overwhelmed with a sense of guilt. He modestly says, I am your guilty and powerless, and I have no capability to fathom the ocean of this universe or 'Sansar Sagar'. I am not aware of the ways of worshiping and even manner to chant the name of Rama. He beseeches his Guru for guidance on the spiritual path.

રામજી વિના કારજ કયી પેર સરશે, મીઠડી માયા પ્રભુ મન મારું હરશે;

rām-ji vinā kāraj kayi per sarashe, mithadi māyā prabhu man māru harashe laksha chorāshi-no fero padashe, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... 4

Now, the seeker wonders, how the tasks to attain enlightenment be accomplished, without the divine grace of Lord Rama. Praying for divine intervention to liberate one's mind from the worldly pleasant realm of Maya, the worshiper fearfully cries out, that his soul would have to, once again pass through the never-ending cycle of birth and death. Hence, a worshiper prays the Lord, again and again.

કાયાવાડીનો કોણ રખેવાળ, સેવક જાણી પ્રભુ સન્મુખ ભાળ;

લક્ષ ચોરાશીનો ફેરો ટાળો, તો સાંભળ સ્વામી કરું વિનંતિ રે ... ૫ kāya-vādi-no kon rakhe-vāl, sevak jāni prabhu sanmukh bhāl laksha chorāshi-no fero tālo, to sāmbhal svāmi karu vinaňti re ... 5

Until spiritual awakening is not realized, an individual is blinded by worldly splendors and physical attributes like strong physique, attractive countenance, beauty, than make an individual appealing to the people around him. Having traversed some distance on the spiritual path, the worshiper realizes all these to be vain and detrimental in attainment of ultimate liberation from the cycle of birth and death through eighty four million lives. Worshiper seeks divine guidance to overcome his traumatic mental state. →

જગ જીવન તમે દેવકીના જાયા, કોઇ ન જાણે પ્રભુ તમારી માયા;

Turning to Lord Shri Krishna, worshiper says, you are the ultimate source of life. Not only human beings, but entire breathing and living elements, creatures and vegetation survive, thanks to your vitalizing essence. The legends may proclaim you as a some of Devaki or a son of Nand Ji, grew up in Gokul, but for me you are the sole guide to attain the divine grace.

Reviewing the annals of the several lives, a worshiper praises the Gopis of Gokul for living in celestial proximity of Shri Krishna. Those Gopis of Yadav clan, gave up false attachments, devoted themselves at the holy services of Lord Krishna and worships Him to take in His refuge.

Going back to the chronicles of history, a worshiper says, "Nothing is impossible for you. You lifted up the mountain Govardhan on the nail of your finger[1]. You also, killed the Kansa, the brutal and menacing king of Mathura, and got your parents liberated from his prison. As you are such powerful I plead you to concede to my request."

[1] Lord Vishnu, incarnated as Shri Krishna lived in Gokul. As the story goes, Lord Indra, the king of all gods, who had control over rains and thunderstorms. The people of Gokul were farmers are reared cattle; hence, they depended on rains for their living. During seasons of draught they used to worship Lord Indra and make offerings to appease him.

But, Krishna explained to the villagers that it was not Indra, but it was due to the Mountain Govardhan, which blocked rain carrying clouds, making them shower rains in and around Gokul and Vrindavan. He asked the villagers to stop worshiping Indra, and in turn offer their prayers to Govardhan. Displeased Indra sent torrential rains to teach a lesson to the villages. The villagers were worried about floods. Sensing their despair, Shri Krishna, who was an incarnation of Lord Vishnu, placed his under the mountain, and lifted it up on his little finger. The people saved themselves gathering under the shade of the mountain.

As a matter of fact, God is omnipresent and omnipotent. When the ardent devout Prahlad worshiped and chanted the name of Rama, He appeared in the form of Nar-Sinh, having head of a lion and torso of a human being. Lord Nar-Sinh killed the king Hiranyakashyap, who tormented Prahlad for worshiping God, thus saved life of Prahlad.

Ranka and his wife Banka, devotional couple hailed from Pandharpur in today's Maharashtra in India. They belonged to a woodcutter caste. Despite their grave poverty, never allowed covetousness to seep in their character. Akin to such downtrodden and hapless people, they worshiped Lord Shri Ramchandra alleviated them from their sufferings. Even Hanuman, who in fact, was an Adivasi (aboriginal tribal), was made an important government official of Ayodhya, by Lord Rama.

Narsinh Mehta, a saintly poet was penniless, as he had organized wedding of his daughter. The people around him jokingly taunted how he was going to arrange for lavish gifts for his only daughter. In order to test his disciple, Lord Krishna appeared before him as a wealthy money-lender. He asked Mehta to mortgage his favorite Raga Kedar. Narsinh complied as asked and managed the wedding of his daughter. Ardent devout of Shri Krishna, Meerabai sang Bhajans in his praise. Even the mighty Pandava too, was protected by Shri Krishna, just because all of them worshiped Him with utmost devotion and faith.

Nabha, Pipa Bhagat and Namdev[2] were able to have the grace of perceiving you. Ultimately, O God, you have lead them to your divine realm. A seeker is aware that the path of spiritual realization is akin to walking on the sharp edge of a sword. At every step worldly avarice, greed, passion etc swarm around a spiritual seeker to ensnare. A spiritual seeker guided by the divine vision, can accomplish ultimate enlightenment and successfully traverse the treacherous path to attain a place in divine realm. Realizing this fact, a spiritual seeker calls out God to hold his hand and lead him on the path of devotion.

[2] Saint Nabha lived in Vindvana, while Saint Ravidas also known as Saint Raidas was born in Varanasi (Benaras) in Uttar Pradesh and Saint Namdev hailed from Maharashtra, while Saint Pipa Ji, also wellknown as Pipa Bhagat was born into a Rajput royal family at Gagaron, in the present-day Jhalawar district of Rajasthan. These Indian mystic poet-saints of the Bhakti movement of the 15th to 16th century CE, were venerated as the Guru in the region of Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and mainly Punjab. As we check the annals of history related with Saint Kabir JI, we come across reference to his meeting with likes of Saints Ravidas, Namdev and Pipa Ji, and even Saint Surdas, the blind saint, is known to have been blessed with spiritual vision unlike normal sight.

A spiritual seeker argues saying, just for the sake of your devout you have incarnated in ten different forms. Lord Vishnu, though the master of the universe, incarnated a dwarf Brahmin requested for three steps of land. King Bali agreed to grant the gift. Dwarf Brahmin known as Vamana, metamorphosed into Vishnu's giant form, taking all of heaven in one step and earth in second and Paataal in third step. King Bali realized that the Vamana was none other than Vishnu. He offered his own head for the third step, pushing him down into the depths of the Earth, (netherworld) also known as Paatal Lok. According to Hindu mythologies, Vishnu granted Bali a boon whereby he could return to earth every year. Hence, the worshiper appeals to the Lord to listen to his pleas.

Singing in praise of the Supreme Divine, worshiper poet Vallabhdas says, though he was an insignificant creature, but beseeches the Supreme Soul to listen to their prayers to have mercy upon us and provide us place in your divine realm. Saying thus, the seeker bows down his head in reverence for the Supreme Divinity.

Radha's connection to Krishna is of two types: svakiya-rasa (married relationship) and parakiya-rasa (a relationship signified with eternal mental "love"). The Gaudiya tradition focuses upon parakiya-rasa as the highest form of love, wherein Radha and Krishna share thoughts even through separation. The love the gopis feel for Krishna is also described in this esoteric manner as the highest platform of spontaneous love of God, and not of a sexual nature. That is all about devotion.

Saint Kabir Saheb has rightly said,

પ્રેમ બિના જો ભક્તિ હી સો નિજ દંભ વિચાર;

ઉદર ભરન કે કારન, જન્મ ગંવાયે સાર.

Worshiping devoid of love for God is not devotion, but absolutely hypocrisy or false pretense. An act of display of devotion is selfishness, which is performed for earning livelihood to satiate hunger. Everything else is worthless without true devotion. In fact, the basis of devotion or worship is love, therefore, worship God with utmost loving devotion, so as Nirvana or ultimate liberation could be attained.

162. Prabhu-ji Vinā Māre Palak Nā Chāle ॥ પ્રભુજી વિના મારે પલક ના ચાલે

પ્રભુજી વિના મારે પલક ના ચાલે, વેણની વાત વધારી મારે વ્હાલે;

The disciple unable to bear separation from God reflects she cannot bear living without her Lord. Here, the disciple is supposed to be Radha, or for that matter Meera. Look at the depth of words to express the imagination of an ardent devout supposing God is chatting with her sweetly. Radha or Meera prays the Mother Destiny or Vidhata for betrothal with such a lover, who while being strong and stout, has a warm heart of a lover, willing to accept her as a his consort.

Moved by love for the lover Krishna, Passionately driven staring anxiously at her beloved Krishna, she does not feel like shifting her glance from her Lord. Her devotion is so deep, that she does not find anybody equal to her beloved lover. In spiritual terms, characterizing pietism and mentation, Saint Kabir Saheb says, "In this universe, devotion devoid of mentation is not possible and selfless devotion is not possible without platonic passion."

My father has determined to have you as my bridegroom, saying me, look lady, He will enable you to accomplish your good fortunes. The devout worshiper of Shree Krishna pleaded with Ranchhod - the Lord, saying should you concede to my plea my long cherished wishes would be fulfilled.

ൟൟൟ Traditional Bhajans of Bhakta Samaj ൟൟൟ

0. Prayers sung with ardent love for God enables a man to attain self-realization, which ultimately paves the way for emancipation. Merely singing Bhajans or prayers as religious rituals does not enable the soul to get liberated from the churning cycle of life, where birth and death follows through ages, and a soul remains bereft of attaining Moksha or emancipation. Only if the prayers or Bhajan is sung with true sense of devotion, it enables one to interconnect one's soul with the Supreme Soul.

Feelings of happiness, achievements, status in society etcetera are but illusionary. We keep running in pursuit of illusionary happiness as a deer runs towards mirage. The illusionary waters keep moving away and away, and ultimately the deer may collapse for lack of energy and unsatiated thirst. Kabirdas Ji says,

माया मरी न मन मरा, मर मर गये शरीर।
आशा तृष्णा ना मरी, कह गये दास कबीर।।

1. Saintly poet Kabirdas Ji says, body, mind, Maya (illusion) gets destroyed in the end, but hope and greediness are never destroyed. Therefore, one must avoid getting entrapped in the worldly illusionary hope and greed. What is advisable is to take recourse to the Almighty or an ideal Guru, as they only can alleviate one from the quagmire of worldly passions.

2. Now the time has come to save oneself from drowning into the unfathomable abyss of life and death. Here is an opportunity, for you as a human being to make the most of your turn of the life cycle of birth and death, and attain ultimate liberation. Continue to worship Lord Rama seeking His divine blessings. And that is the ultimate source of achieving Moksha.

3. Singing in the praise of God, Saintly Poet Haridas says, millions have been emancipated whoever worshiped Rama, who has also alleviated several from the quagmire of worldly mess. As legend describes, how life of an elephant named Ajamil, was saved by Lord Vishnu, from the jaws of death when a crocodile caught the elephant by his leg dragging it to the depths of waters and ultimate death. Truly, Shri Hari comes forward as a savior for those who worship with ardent devotional love.

4. It is said being born as a human being is the result of past good Karma. Once in universal lifetime of a soul such an opportunity comes. But the soul, having been born in this world and having been engulfed in the worldliness full of passions, avarice, greed and ignorance of self that oneself is an essence of the Supreme Soul, forgets his creator God - Rama! The poet Haridas Ji, fervently appeals to re-establish God within the heart, else our soul will have to bear the insurmountable pain and anguish of the never ending Life Cycle.

Legends and devotional songs are full of vivid narratives of dreamy and passionate loving relationship of Radha and Krishna. This devotional song vividly narrates the mental state of a devout worshiper, who is out meet her beloved Shyam under one pretext or the other. Let us try to dwell into joyful devoutness of the lover.

0. Here I have left to see Hari - my beloved God. Following the sermon delivered by my Guru Ji, I am on my way to perceive my fond beloved God. Burning with the desire to meet one's lover - God - she mentions different reasons. The first reason she cites is that her Guru has advised her to go and meet Hari - her beloved Shyam.

1. For me, my character and satisfaction derived out of worship are like valuable silver ornaments adorned on my wrist and ankle (Kalla and Kaambi). Besides, cymbals and chains of anklets are symbolic of my love and asceticism.

2. Hey Shyam! I have left my home to meet you carrying a gold pitcher, leaving behind all household chores. Ever wonder what gold pot a devout carried along? Here, poetically the devout worshiper conveys her heart is like a pot of gold, and when God beckons, she gives up all the routines of household to rush to her divine beloved.

3. When the inner voice of spiritual love sounds like a lilting tunes played by Shyam on his flute, devout worshiper gets absorbed with color of spiritual love. How could a passionate disciple remain in home, when the Supreme Divine gives a call for union!

4. Moved by love of fervent disciple sometimes, it is not surprising that God may walk up to meet His disciple. As she left hurriedly to meet her Lord, He chose to come forward to meet her. Bending forward lovingly she falls at the feet of the Almighty.

5. And then, moved by her devotion, God places colorful coverlet on her. The coverlet is dyed with unfading everlasting color.

Saint Poet Meerabai has sung, "મૈંને ઓઢી કાલી કાંબળી ચઢે ન દૂજો રંગ". I have wrapped myself in a black shawl, which cannot be dyed with any other color. My soul is dyed with spiritual color and no other tint would touch to tarnish it.

6. At last, the worshiper mentally wedded to Krishna - her spiritual spouse, says, stirred by love, I have embellished my parting of hair with vermilion as a mark of being married. Being married with the Supreme Soul is reflected by poet Gopal Das is akin to mark of spiritual realization and attainment of spiritual unification with the Supreme Divine.

The followers of Kabir Panth, believe Saint Kabirdas Ji as a personification of the Supreme Divinity. His words of wisdom on various spiritual and religious aspects have always shown us a path to attain the divine essence. Spiritual teachings have emphasized on the fact that every living being is an essence of the Supreme Divine. Only thing required is to invoke divinity from within our hearts.

165. Tuň To Rām Ratan Kar Raňg-māň ॥ તું તો રામ રટણ કર રંગમાં

Nādbrahma pada 781, Rāga – Dhol, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૮૧, રાગ - ધોળ

તું તો રામ રટણ કર રંગમાં, તારું જાય છે જુવાનીનું જોર અવસર આવો નહિ મળે ... ટેક tuň to rām ratan kar raňg-māň, tāru jāy chhe juvāni-nu jor avasar āvo nahi male ... repeat

Bhakt poet of this Bhajan, Pritamdas Ji voicing the thoughts of Saint Kabir Saheb says, Man, chant the holy name of Rama with blissful delight. Since the moment we are born, we steadily continue to gain strength until youthfulness, but then with growing age our strength and vigor begin to vain. Bear in mind, you will not get such an opportunity to uplift your soul to unify with the Supreme Soul.

જીરે કાચો કુંભ જલે ભર્યો, તેને ફૂટતાં નહિ લાગે વાર ... ૧

jire kācho kumbh jale bharyo, tene futatā nahi lāge vār ... 1

Our body is like a pot made of mud, which is filled with water. Science has proved our body is made up of almost seventy percent of water, and rest thirty percent is made up of flesh and bones. Our body is as fragile as a earthen pot.

Originally reflecting this thought, Kabir Ji had said,

જલ મેં કુંભ, કુંભ મેં જલ હૈ, બાહર ભીતર પાની;
ફૂટા કુંભ જલ જલહીં સમાના, યહ તથ કથૌ ગિયાની॥

The way, when an earthen pot is sunk in sea water, it gets enveloped with water outside as well within. Owing to the shape of the pot, water acquires the shape of the pot. But no sooner the pot akin to human body breaks, the difference of between the soul within and the Supreme Soul gets obliterated.

જીરે કાચા સુતરનો તાંતણો, તેને તૂટતાં નહિ લાગે વાર ... ૨

jire kāchā sutar-no tāňtano, tene tutatā nahi lāge vār ... 2

Human body enveloping the soul within is as easily broken as a thread of cotton. In no time it may break, if not handled carefully. Your human form is frail like a fiber of cotton, so why be pleased about its prowess and power!

જીરે વાડી ખીલીને ફૂલ્યો મોગરો, તેને કરમાતાં નહિ લાગે વાર ... ૩

jire vādi khili-ne fulyo mogaro, tene karamātā nahi lāge vār ... 3

This universe is as wondrous as a garden full of enchantingly beautiful and fragrant flowers. But a flower bloomed with the first ray of the Sun in the morning is destined to shrivel and fall off. The beauty and fragrance of Jasmine is temporary absolutely like human life.

જીરે બાજીગરે બાજી રચી, એને સમેટતાં નહિ લાગે વાર ... ૪

jire bāji-gare bāji rachi, ene sametatā nahi lāge vār ... 4

Our life is like a game laid out by a juggler who spreads out his the backgammon game. None has any inclination how the things would fare, once the page of destiny is turned. It is just futile to blow your own trumpet, since in no time Mother Destiny may turn the table.

જીરે પાંચ તત્વનું પૂતળું, માંહી બોલન હારો રામ ... ૫

jire pāñcha tatva-nu putalu, māñhi bolan hāro rām ... 5

The human body, just like the entire universe, is made up of the five elements earth, water, fire, air and space. These elements are also referred to as Panch Mahabhoot. The pulsating sound of Prana or breath, which is independent of these five elements are referred to as a voice of Rama.

જીરે ગગન મંડળમાં ચોરી રચી, ત્યાં પરણે છે આત્મારામ ... ૬

jire gagan maṅdal-māñ chori rachi, tyāñ parane chhe ātmā-rām ... 6

The ultimate aim of mundane soul or spiritually inclined individual is to experience the essence of the Supreme Divinity. Portraying entire universe as a pavilion of marriage, poet Pritam Das says, here is the place where the soul gets unified with the essence of the Supreme Soul. As wedding unites two individuals in wedlock, their entire existence pulsates with same rhythm. When a soul gets unified with the Supreme Soul, ultimate Nirvana or Moksha is attained.

જીરે દાસ પ્રીતમની વિનંતિ, અમને મળ્યા છે સતગુરૂ શ્યામ ... ૭

jire dās pritam-ni vinaṅti, am-ne malyā chhe sat-guru shyām ... 7

Lastly, pleasantly singing in praise of God, poet Pritam Das thanks his stars for having found a divine guru. It is absolutely true that, only when a spiritual teacher accepts his pupils under his command, the soul can attain pinnacle of spiritual enlightenment, by the grace of Satguru Shyam.

Discerningly conveying his thought of the issue of the existence of God, Kabir had once said, "I am neither an atheist nor a theist; I am neither a believer, nor a non-believer." If he was neither of these two, then how do we understand? Our mind is programed to tread the path of either 'this' or 'that'. Our mind usually gets confused between 'this' or 'that'. However, in order to realize the gospel of Kabir we need to understand his contradiction of his speech, but not thoughts. Kabir has always been mystic and his philosophical approach has remained monotheism or non-dualism.

166. Akhaňd Sāheb-ji-ko Nām ॥ અખંડ સાહેબજીકો નામ

Nādbrahma pada 797, Rāga – Mangal, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૯૭, રાગ – મંગલ

અખંડ સાહેબજીકો નામ, ઔર સબ ખંડ હૈ;

સાધુ ખંડિત મેર સુમેર, ખંડિત બ્રહ્માંડ હૈ ... ટેક akhaňd sāheb-ji-ko nām, a-u-ra sab khaňd hai sādhu khaňdit mer sumer, khaňdit brahmāňd hai ... repeat

The name of Akhand Saheb, that is, the name of the Supreme Soul (Atam Ram) is imperishable. In fact, the name of the Supreme Soul or God is eternal! What is eternal is everlasting or permanent! All else - animated or unanimated - be that pious or sinner, hillock or mountain, and the universe to are perishable and subject to devastation.

It is spirituality to know what a soul is and meditation is the language of the soul! Meditation is the journey from nothingness to perfection! The aim of meditation is to attain a state where the mind is restrained, calm, thoughtless and stable.

સ્થિર ન રહે ધીર ધ્યાન, જીવનકો ધૂંધ હૈ;

સાધુ લક્ષ રે ચોરાશી જીવ, પડ્યા જમ ફંડ હૈ ... ૧ sthir na rahe dhir dhyān, jivan-ko dhuňdh hai sādhu laksha re chorāshi jiv, padyā jam faňd hai ... 1

If the mind does not achieve steadiness in meditation, the life turns into dense fog, through which the ultimate truth remains imperceptible. Kabir Ji asks, why wander inattentively through eighty-four lakh (8.4 million) generation, why sleep in surrounding of darkness of ignorance. The God of Death is standing on headboard of your bed.

ચંચલ મન સ્થિર રાખ, જબ ભલે રંગ હૈ;

ઉન સંતનકે સંગ, સદા આનંદ હૈ ... ૨ chañchal man sthir rākh, jab bhale raňg hai una saňtan-ke saňg, sadā ānaňd hai ... 2

Restrain your mind and concentrate your mind on meditation, even if the world is full of different colors to distract your mind. Saintly beings never give up their genteelness, even if they are surrounded by evil beings. It is exactly like a fragrant sandalwood tree, which might be surrounded by poisonous snakes. The worldly attractions which deviate mind from meditating on the Supreme Soul, are like these snakes. Therefore, Kabirdas Ji advises seekers to accompany those saintly individuals, who dwell in the spiritual joy.

જીનસે સાહેબજીસે હેત, સોઇ નિર્બંધ હૈ;

ઉલટ નિકટ ભર પિયુ, તો અમૃત ગંગ હૈ ... ૩ jin-se sāheb-ji-se het, so-ii nir-baňdh hai ulat nikat bhar piyu, to amrut gaňg hai ... 3

Anyone who has unwavering affection for the Supreme Divine, he only is free from the bonds of life and death cycle. Once the soul of a seeker is unified with the Supreme Soul, the seeker may be emancipated. Besides, if you are in the care of ever-affectionate God, The life turns into the river Ganges in which just the elixir flows.

દયા ભાવ ચિત્ત રાખ, ભક્તિકો અંગ હૈ;

કહે કબીર ચિત્ત ચેત, જગત પતંગ હૈ ... ૪

dayā bhāv chit-t rākh, bhakti-ko aňg hai kahe kabir chit-t chet, jagat pataňg hai ... 4
Have compassion for everybody and your mind on worshiping God. Let not your mind gets deviated from your pious deeds, as such a pious mind could realize the ultimate truth. Kabirdas Ji cautions the seeker saying, awaken yourself from within, as the world is like a kite, that flies in the sky tied to a thread. The moment the thread tied with the kite is snapped from its controller, it would fall flat to the dust. Same way if the thread that ties the soul with the Supreme Soul is snapped, the soul would be subjected to innumerable lives and deaths.

The teachings of Saint Kabir Ji, are an epitome of the spiritual knowledge conveyed through several scriptures given out through ages. Kabirdas Ji says, दुर्लभ मानुष जन्म है, देह न बारम्बार, तरुवर ज्यों पत्ता झड़े, बहुरि न लागे डार।..

Birth as a human being is obtained with much difficulty. We do not take birth in the human form again and again, as once leaves fall off the tree never ever get back to the branches. Kabirdas Ji has also said, "Once this most valuable birth is gotten as a human being, imbibe the spiritual learning within and worship the Supreme Almighty prevailing over the Universe.

167. Manashā Dehi Pā-ii ॥ મનષા દેહી પાઈ

Nādbrahma pada 798, Rāga – Mangal, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૭૯૮, રાગ – મંગલ

મનષા દેહી પાઈ, રામ ગુણ ગાઈએ; સુરતિ અકન કુંવારી, હંસાકો બહાઈએ ... ટેક manashā dehi pā-ii, rām gun gā-ii-e surati akan kuňvāri, haňsā-ko bahā-ii-e ... repeat

Addressing the soul of a man, Kabir Saheb says, since you have gotten the human form worship God chanting the name of Rama. Since the Maya is solely inclined towards gratification. If inborn human tendencies get disassociated with the Maya or illusions, can a man turn to worship God. Further, he advises to associate the tendencies of the mind with the Supreme Soul.

સતગુરુ વિપ્ર બોલાય લગન લખાઈએ;
વેગે કરી લો વિવાહ, ઢીલ મત લાઈએ ... ૧ sat-guru vipra bolāy, lagan lakhā-ii-e vege kari lo vivāh, Dhil mat lā-ii-e ... 1

Reaching out to the God or desire to seek divine blessings, may make us restless! Though it might feel like a deep anguish, but that is the signal of good fortune on the way of attainment of the God's grace. Here, the soul may experience a conflict between affection for worldly pleasures and emancipation. Humorously comparing the soul involved in illusions not finding an ideal spiritual teacher, as a girl remains spinster not finding a suitable groom. Suggesting a remedy, Guru Kabir Ji suggests quickly finding a Brahmin to perform the marriage ritual, and with the same haste find a spiritual teacher, who can liberate the soul from the grasp of the Maya. The tendency of Maya remains focused on gratification of passions; that is why, it is said to have remained a bachelor - rather not unified with the Supreme Soul.

પાંચ પચ્ચીશ શું નાર, મંગલ ગાઈએ;

લક્ષ ચોરાશીનો ફેરો, બહોર નહિ આઈએ ... ૨

pāňcha pach-chish shuň nār, maňgal gā-ii-e laksha chorāshi-no fero, bahor nahi ā-ii-e ... 2

The way one should not get captivated by innumerable worldly attractions, the soul should avoid getting entangled in the cycle of birth and death. Rather, the five senses should be diverted to the twenty five elements of the Mother Nature, which are the sources of pure spiritual happiness. In this way unification of soul with the Supreme Soul will liberate it from the cycle of birth and death through eighty four million generations.

સુરત નુરત દોઉ બેઠે, હથેવારો જોડીએ;

જમ શું જીવ ઉગાર, તનખાં તોડીએ ... ૩

surat nurat do-u bethe, hathe-vāro jodi-e jam shuň jiv ugār, tanakhā todi-e ... 3

Guiding a spiritual seeker seeking ultimate emancipation, Saint Kabir advises to strive to divert the extrovert or outwardly tendencies towards inward realm of spiritual happiness. Strive hard to save your soul from snare to entrap the tendencies in the quagmire of worldliness.

હંસાએ કર્યો વિચાર, સુરતિ શું યોં કહી;

તુમ જુગ જુગ અકન કુંવારી, એતા દિન ક્યોં રહી ... ૪ haňsā-e karyo vichār, surati shuň yoň kahi tum jug jug akan kuňvāri, etā din kyoň kahi ... 4

The soul of the spiritual seeker, treading on the spiritual path ponders over the attitude, why it has not been unable to find success in uniting with Supreme Divine, and have remained a spinster.

સુરતિએ હંસાને કરી સલામ, પિયુ તુમ સત કહી;

મોહે સતગુરૂ મળ્યા નહિ, એતા દિન યોં રહી ... ૫ surati-e haňsā-ne kari salām, piyu tum sat kahi mohe sat-guru malyā nahi, etā din kyoň rahi ... 5

The attitude of the soul, mildly replied confessing that, it has failed so far in finding an ideal Guru, who could have enabled the soul to attain ultimate emancipation. As a result, the attitudes of the soul remained lost in the worldliness, like a spinster remains unwedded.

Nevertheless, the conscience remains disgruntled, not finding a way to get united with God. The Saint Meerabai expressing such an anguish of conscience has sung;

हे री मैं तो प्रेम दिवानी, मेरो दरद न जाने कोय
गगन मंडल पै सेज पिया की, किस विध मिलना होय....

પરમ પુરુષકી સેજ, અખંડિત ખેલના;

પિયો રે પ્યાલા પ્રેમ, અધર રહી ઝીલના ... ૬ param purush-ki sej, akhaṅdit khelanā piyo re pyālā prem, adhar rahi jhilanā ... 6

Responding to similar anxiety of conscience, Kabir Ji consoles the soul of a seeker to remain aloof and uninvolved in worldliness, and having reached the divine realm of the Supreme Divinity to enjoy drinking glassful elixir decanted over the lips, as you contentedly enjoy incessant love on the divine bed, i.e. divine realm of the Supreme Divinity.

પુરૂષ પુરાતન લાઈ, શબ્દ સુનાઈએ;

કહે કબીર ભજો રામ, પરમ પદ પાઈએ ... ૭ purush purātana lā-ii, shabda sunā-ii-e kahe kabir bhajo rām, param-pad pā-ii-e ... 7

Lastly, summarizing Saint Kabir Saheb says, every living being nurtures a desire to seek divine grace. Therefore, the seeker on look-out for divine grace and seeking emancipation must learn the lessons of virtuousness and chant the name of Rama. Kabir Saheb counsels to following this path, and attain ultimate place in the Divine Realm.

168. Jiv Tuň Kahāň-se Āyo ॥ જીવ તું કહાંસે આયો

Nādbrahma pada 800, Rāga – Mangal, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૦૦, રાગ - મંગલ

જીવ તું કહાંસે આયો, કહાં ચલ જાયેગો;

જીવ તું કર લે પહિચાન, મુએ પસ્તાયેગો ... ટેક jiv tuň kahāň-se āyo, kahāň chal jāye-go jivat tuň kar le pahi-chān, mu-e pas-tāye-go ... repeat Whoever has known, from where does the soul come and where shall the soul go after one's death? No amount of intellectual or logical thinking can find clue to this mystifying question. O Man, recognize your Self. Should you fail to recognize your Self, you may repent at the moments of death. Let us see, what spiritually enlightened saint Kabir says in the following lines.

સત્ય લોકસે આયો, ત્રિગુણમેં સમાય રહ્યો;

ભૂલ ગયો વો દેશ, માયામેં લપટાય રહ્યો ... ૧ satya lok-se āyo, trigun-meň samāy rahyo bhul gayo vo desh, māyā-meň lapa-tāy rahyo ... 1

In fact, your soul was free of all vices thanks to the untainted realm of virtuous world from where you arrived in this world. But Worldly nature bound your indestructible and free soul with these three qualities. This resulted in you forgetting your origin, and allowed yourself to be enveloped by three qualities: Sattvaguna, Rajoguna and Tamoguna.

નહિ તેરો ગામ ને ઠામ, નહિ પુર પાટણ;

હૈ રે બટાવલું લોક, નહિ કોઇ આપણાં ... ૨

nahi tero gām ne thām, nahi pur pātan hai re batā-valu lok, nahi ko-ii āpanā ... 2
Your soul is so much engulfed in worldly pursuits (Rajoguna qualities), that you are lost in wondering about from one place to another in search of sublime spiritual peace. Relations are driven by avarice. Freeing your soul from these three Guna, ultimate salvation is realized on becoming a free soul - Muktatma !

કહે કબીર વિચાર, હંસા મંગલ ગાવહી;

હંસ ગયે સતલોક, બહોર નહિ આવહી ... ૩

kahe kabir vichār, haňsā maňgal gāva-hi haňsa gaye sat-lok, bahor nahi āva-hi ... 3
Saint Kabir says, just think how can you get rid of the chain of Three Guna and sing spiritually with ultimate happiness? Rise yourself from within to realize the lost virtues of Righteous World - your origin, and then you would be able to rise above all worldly waves of pain and happiness!

169. Hari-ne Bhajatā Haji Ko-ii-ni Lāj ॥ હરિને ભજતાં હજી કોઇની લાજ

Nādbrahma pada 803, Rāga – Mangal, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૦૩, રાગ - મંગલ

હરિને ભજતાં હજી કોઇની લાજ, જતાં નથી જાણી રે;

જેની સુરતા શામળિઆ સાથ, વદે વેદ વાણી રે ... ટેક hari-ne bhajatā haji ko-ii-ni lāj, jatā nathi jāni re jeni suratā shāmaliā sāth, vade ved-vāni re ... repeat It's not known if anyone's repute was gone worshiping god.

Even words of Veda asserts this, who is devoutly with Shyam.

વ્હાલે ઉગાર્યો પ્રહ્લાદ, હિરણ્યાકંસ માર્યો રે;

વિભિષણને આપ્યું રાજ, રાવણ સંહાર્યો રે ... ૧ vahāle ugār-yo prah-lād, hiranyā-kaňsa māryo re vibhi-shan-ne āpyu rāj, rāvan samhāryo re ... 1

As Prahlad endeared god, Hiranyakans was killed to protect him, While, Vibhishan was bequeathed kingdom killing mighty Ravana.

વ્હાલે નરસિંહ મહેતાને હાર, હાથોહાથ આપ્યો રે;

ધ્રુવને આપ્યું અવિચલ રાજ, પોતાનો કરી સ્થાપ્યો રે ... ૨ vahāle nar-siňh mahetā-no hār, hātho-hāth āpyo re dhruv-ne āpyu avi-chal rāj, potā-no kari sthāpyo re ... 2

Mehta Narsinh immersed in love for god was garlanded at god's hand, Same way Dhruv was place of permanence in god's own divine realm.

વ્હાલે મીરાં તે બાઇનાં ઝેર, હળાહળ પીધા રે;

પાંચાળીના પૂર્યા ચીર, પાંડવ કામ કીધાં રે ... ૩ vahāle mirā te bā-ii-nā jher, halā-hal pidhā re pāňchāli-nā puryā chir, pāňdav kām kidhā re ... 3 Meera forced to shun god or have poison, but lovingly god drank that,

And as Panchali entreated, god saved her honor, and also of Pandavas.

વ્હાલે અંબરીષની ઓળખાણ, અવતાર દશ લીધાં રે;

વ્હાલે ગજની કીધી સહાય, પૈદલ પરહર્યા રે ... ૪ vahāle amba-rish-ni ola-khān, avatār dash lidhā re vahāle gaja-ni kidhi sahāy, pai-dal par-haryā re ... 4

Seeing Ambrish love him, god came time and again thru ten incarnations, Clutched in jaws of croc as elephant cried for life, god ran barefoot to help.

આવો હરિ ભજવાનો લ્હાવો, ભજન કોઇ કરશે રે;

કરજોડી કહે પ્રેમળદાસ, ભક્તોનાં દુઃખ હરશે રે ... ૫ āvo hari bhajavā-no lahāvo, bhajan koi kar-she re kar-jodi kahe premal-dās, bhakto-nā dukh har-she re ... 5

Whoever would love god in such a way, and worship Him delightfully,
With folded hands Premaldas says, He will free his devouts from pains.

170. Sukh Dukh Man-māň Na Āni-e ॥ સુખદુઃખ મનમાં ન આણીએ

Nādbrahma pada 882, Rāga – Mangal, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૮૨, રાગ - મંગલ

સુખદુઃખ મનમાં ન આણીએ, ઘટ સાથે રે ઘડિયાં sukh dukh man-māň na āni-e, ghat sathe re ghadiyā tālyā te ko-ii-nā nav tale, raghu-nāth-nā jadiyā ... repeat Why lament over joyful bliss or sadness, when these are linked to life.

Bestowed by Raghunath, destined as they are, can't ever be evaded.

નળ રાજા સરખો નર નહિ, જેને દમયંતી રાણી sarva devo-ne jyāre bhid padi, samaryā aňtar-yāmi bhāvat bhāňgi bhudhare, mahetā nar-sai-yā-nā svāmi ... 7

Even when all deities were tormented, they took refuge of Almighty, Sorrows of life were shattered by the Creator, the lord of Narsinha.

This Bhajan is purported to have been sung by Bhagat Namdev, who was influenced by Vaishnavism, however this bhajan carries an influence of poetess Mirabai. Like other Bhakti movement saints, Namdev composed bhajans, which were devotional songs meant to be sung to music.

Saint Namdev, who hailed from the lands of Maharashtra, is also said to have met Saint Kabir along with other Bhagat poets - Ravidas and Pipa.

Similar to Saint Kabir Saheb, to Namdev, mechanical rituals were futile, pilgrimage to holy places pointless, and deep meditation and loving mutual devotion was what mattered most. At one place he has remarked, "One stone is lovingly decorated, while another stone is walked upon. If one is a god, then the other must also be a god!"

This bhajan reflects pangs of separation of an ardent devout from god. During the course of spiritual pursuit, many times a devotional spiritual seeker may find oneself lost in wilderness - a nowhere land! At such times, the seeker complains, 'Merciful Lord of unfortunates, why should I be left alone to live?'

171. Tame Suno Dinā-nāth Dayāl ॥ તમે સુણો દિનાનાથ દયાળ

Rāga – Akeli, રાગ - અકેલી

તમે સુણો દિનાનાથ દયાળ અકેલી ક્યોં રહું;

tame suno dinā-nāth dayāl, akeli kyoň rahuň;
Listen O' merciful God, why should I live alone?

લોક બેગાના મેં દુઃખી રે વાલો ગયો રે અકેલી મેલી;

દિલ તલસે રે દારા કો, હાં રે માહે તનમાં તાલાવેલી ... ટેક lok begānā meň dukhi re vahālo gayo re akeli meli;

dil talase re dārā ko, hāň re mahe tan-māň tālā-veli ... akeli kyoň rahuň Looking around the world the devout finding herself amidst unfamiliar people laments her merciful God has left her alone, so why should she live alone? Who are these unfamiliar people? These other people are lost in worldly pleasures who do not worship God. Being devotionally wedded to God, her heart pines for the love of her beloved, as her mind is restless.

કઠણ કસોટી ખલક કી રે વાલો કાયર સબ પરિવાર; kathan kasoti khalak ki re vahālo kāyar sab pari-vār;

hete saňdesho mokalyo, hāň re vahāla nahi ko-ii āvan-hār ... 1
Sending a message to her much-loved lord, she grieves living in such a world is a like enduring tough test. Not finding her kin and family supportive she calls them cowardly timid. Conveying message to the Almighty the devout pleads to alleviate her from her distress, as she does not find any savior coming her way.

પાલવ બિછાવું પ્રેમ કો રે તમો સુણો ત્રિભુવન પ્રતિપાળ; pālav bichhāvu prem ko re tamo suno tri-bhuvan prati-pāl;

gun ava-gun māhe mat dharo, hāň re mohe mrutyu se lijo ugār 2
Calling the God being the protector of the three worlds, the dedicated devout is willing lovingly to spread her sari as a mark of submission. Reminding the Lord of the three world, ignoring discrimination of three qualities i.e. Sattvagun, Rajoguna and Tamoguna the disciple pleads to ignore virtues and demerits of the disciple and alleviate from the deathly darkness of ignorance.

અંતરગત આતુર ભયે રે વાલો વ્રેહની કરે રે પુકાર; aňtar gat ātur bhaye re vahālo vreh-ni kare re pukār;

jan nām-dev svāmi vinaňti, hāň re tame sunajo sar-jan-hār ... 3
The disciple worshiping the beloved God, anxiously cries out with anguish having been separated from her master. Ardently persuading the creator of this universe, the poet Namdev beseeches to listen to the cries of the pitiful devout.

172. Tame Ju-o-ne Karam-ni Rekhā ॥ તમે જુઓને કરમની રેખા

Rāga – Karam-ni Rekhā, રાગ - કરમની રેખા

હાં રે તમે જુઓને કરમની રેખા, લખ્યા નવ ચૂકે રે;

હાં રે એ તો વિધાતા કેરા લેખ, લખ્યા નવ ચૂકે રે;

hāň re tame ju-o-ne karam-ni rekhā, lakhyā nav chuke re hāň re vidhātā kerā lekh, lakhyā nav chuke re

A widespread belief in India is that at birth a deity, named Vidhata, comes to write the destiny of the newborn child on its forehead. Like the well-known concept of karma, one must bear one's fate since no amount of effort can alter it, since the writing of fate is engraved on your palm that will not ever fail. One must bear one's fate since no amount of effort can alter it.

રાયસુ જેણે યજ્ઞ કર્યા છે, તેડ્યા દેશોના ભૂપ રે;

rāyasu jene yagna karyā chhe, tedyā desho-nā bhup re gupta rahevā-nā ho kārane re, rāye lidhu kiňk rup ... lakhyā nav chuke re

After conquering over several kingdoms and amassing prosperity the Pandav king Yudhishthir performed Rajsuya Yajna to celebrate his success. He hosted lavish festivities, which was attended by several kings from different kingdoms. But as Deity Vidhata had differently written his fate, and with turn of fate, he lost everything while gambling with Duryodhan. Along with his brothers, he was forced to live in forests and then anonymously, he was forced to work as a servant to survive.

By stroke of bad luck, greatest archer Arjun had to adopt disguise of a eunuch and adorn bangles. It was the same Mighty Arjun who had created splendorous Indraprashth by burning dreary thorny woods and developing barren lands of Khandav forests.

Similarly, another Pandav, Nakul had to work on cremation grounds to earn living, and his brother Sahadev was forced to work as a horse wrangler for a king. In order to arrange for food to quench his hunger, powerful and mighty warrior like Bhimsen, who could playfully wield mace (bludgeon) had to work as a cook.

પાંચાલી દાસી થઇને રહ્યાં છે, સર્વ સતી ઓમાં શ્રેષ્ઠ રે;

Panchali, the erstwhile princess of Panchal and Queen of Indraprastha, was compelled serve as a maidservant or a lady-in-waiting, who is considered as the most pious and holy Sati. With folded hands, famous poet Bhalan[1] reflects, such things happen owing to the writings of Vidhata, the deity of fate.

[1] Poet Bhalan was born in the 15th century in Patan, in the present-day Gujarat state in India. He was a famous Gujarati poet of the medieval period. He was also a renowned scholar of Sanskrit literature, and he is considered a major contributor in Bhakti-vad (Devotionalism) in Gujarati literature.

173. Jay Baja-raňg Bālā Prabhu ॥ જય બજરંગ બાલા પ્રભુ

ૹૹૹ

Several legends connected with the early life of Shri Krishna present before us an image of the most adorable child Kanaiyya. Despite his mischiefs the child Krishna was much adored and loved by the people of Gokul. Affectionate warmth and yet, prayerful emotions of the Gopis of Gokul for their beloved Kanaiyya is vividly described in this Bhajan by the devotional poet Narsinh Mehta.

174. Fule Bharu Re Hari-ne Fule Bharu ॥ ફૂલે ભરું રે હરિને ફૂલે ભરું

Rāga – Dhol, રાગ - ધોળ

ફૂલે ભરું રે હરિને ફૂલે ભરું, ઘેર આવે મારો વાલો હરિને ફૂલે ભરું

fule bharu re hari-ne fule bharu, gher āve māro vahālo hari-ne fule bharu

A Gopi sings adorably awaiting young Krishna to arrive at her home. Expecting the arrival of Krishna, unable to suppress her feeling of joy, Gopi says, she would welcome Krishna with choicest flowers. Using the colorful flowers, she expects to embellish Krishna.

ફૂલની રે પોંહોચી ને ફૂલનો રે હાર

દડૂલો દોડાવતો આવે નંદલાલ ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૧ ful-ni re poňhochi ne ful-no re hār dadulo dodāvato āve naňda-lāl ... gher āve māro .. 1

The Gopi knows well to win over divine grace, no amount of gift of gold or silver could appease God. Just the natural expression of devotion in the form of flowers, is sufficient to appease God. Interlacing flowers she has prepared a ring and a garland to embellish child Krishna, she visualizes Nandlal (son of Nand Ji) come running to her, playing with a ball of flowers.

શેરીઓ વળાવું પથરાવું રે ફૂલ

વાલાજી ને જોવા આવે સહુ કુળ ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૨

sheri-o valāvu patharāvu re ful vahālā-ji ne jovā āve sahu kul ... gher āve māro .. 2

Here the message of cleanliness is conveyed, as the Gopi says she would get swept off all dirt and grime off the streets, and spread flowers on the path welcoming her adored deity. The people from all walks of society throng to see their lovable divinity, as he is coming to her home.

કનક કટોરામાં કઢીચેલ દૂધ

માહે વાટી સાકર ભેગુ કપુર ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૩

kanak katora-maň kaDhiyel dudh māhe vāti sākar bhegu kapur ... gher āve māro .. 3
The Gopi has prepared sweetened warm creamy milk in a bowl of gold. Caring about the child's health, traditionally following a healthy recipe, she has mixed the milk with candy sugar and camphor[1] to be offered to the child Krishna, when he reaches her home.

તમો દીઠડે સુખ પામે મારી દેહ

પ્રિત જોડી નવ દેજો મને છેહ ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૪

tamo didhade sukh pāme māri deh prit jodi nav dejo mane chheh ... gher āve māro .. 4
Seeing you in person, happiness spreads through my entire self. It gives me spiritual peace. With a lurking doubt in her mind, she pleads Krishna, not to ditch her ignoring her warm devotional love, but come and grace her home with his divine presence.

વાત કરતાં કેમ લાગી તમને વાર

આટલા મોંઘા શું થાઓ નંદલાલ ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૫

vāt karatā kem lāgi tam-ne vār ātalā moňgha shuň thā-o naňda-lāl ... gher āve māro .. 5
Why do you take so much of time, chatting with your other friends? Why do you show tantrum and try to secure respect for yourself Nandlal, when we devoutly love you? Better come and grace our home.

ભોળે ભાવે મને ભેટેલા કહાન

નરસઇના સ્વામી છે રૂપ નિધાન ... ઘેર આવે મારો .. ૬

bhole bhāve mane bhetelā kahān nar-sa-ii-nā svāmi chhe rup nidhān ... gher āve māro .. 6
Enthralled with divine realization, the poet Narsinh says, my lord Krishna, had taken me in his loving embrace with undiluted love for His devout. Truly, the lord of Narsinh is a great source and affluence of magnificent and impressive in appearance love, come to home, my Lord.

[1] Camphor, also known as Kapur in Gujarati and Hindi, is widely used in Indian households, mainly as a room freshener, essential oils and for religious ceremonies. Not many may know, but there is something known as edible camphor which is used as an important ingredient in our dishes. The use of edible camphor helps to cure digestive problems, inflammation, cold and cough.

This Bhajan by Bhakti Saint Mirabai vividly articulates the devotional depth of a devout who consider the worldly splendours as trivial and worthless, finds solace in ultimate enlightenment. Essence of this Bhajan dwells on the core value of devotional love Krishna.

Mira, refused to comply with all those rules and norms mandatory for a married royal Rajput woman. Though traditionally married to a Rajput Prince, she spiritually believed herself to be married with Lord Krishna.

175. Meň To Paheri Lidho Chudalo ॥ મેં તો પહેરી લીધો ચૂડલો

મેં તો પહેરી લીધો ચૂડલો તમારો રે હરિ, તમારો રે હરિ

નથી રે નજર કોઇ બીજાના ભણી

meň to paheri lidho chudalo tamāro re hari, tamāro re hari nathi re najar ko-ii bijā-nā bhani
O God, as a mark of being wedded to you, I have adorned your bangle. (Here, adorning a bangle (Chudlo) by a woman in the name of her husband is a mark of her being married.) Now, I don't look at any other person being married with you, my beloved Hari.

ઊંચા ઊંચા મહેલ મારે કામ ન આવે, મન નહીં ભાવે

મને વ્હાલી લાગે ઝૂંપડી તમારી રે હરિ (૨)

નથી રે નજર કોઇ બીજાના ભણી ... મેં તો પહેરી

uňchā uňchā mahel māre kām na āve, man nahiň bhāve mane vahāli lāge jhuňpadi tamāri re hari (2) nathi re najar ko-ii bijā-nā bhani ... meň to paheri
High-rise royal palaces are of no use to me, nor appeal to my fondness. I just adore that small hut, where you, my god, dwell. Here, the poetess Mira compares her heart as a humble abode where Krishna dwelt. She further reiterates, other than you I have not cast my eyes on anybody, as I have adorned your bangles.

હીરા માણેક મારે કામ ન આવે, મન નહીં ભાવે

મને વ્હાલી લાગે તુલસીને માળા રે હરિ (૨)

નથી રે નજર કોઇ બીજાના ભણી ... મેં તો પહેરી

hirā mānek māre kām nā āve, man nahiň bhāve mane vahāli lāge tulasi-ni mālā re hari (2)
nathi re najar ko-ii bijā-nā bhani ... meň to paheri
What do I do with these diamonds and rubies; they do not add to my delight me anymore. Rather a garland of Tulsi (Basil) is dearest to me. O' god having found your divine love, none seems worthy of casting my glance, since I have adorned your bangles as mark of marriage with you.

હીરનાં ચીર મારે કામ ન આવે, મન નહીં ભાવે

મને વ્હાલાં લાગે ભગવા ચીર રે હરિ (૨)

નથી રે નજર કોઇ બીજાના ભણી ... મેં તો પહેરી

hir-nā chir māre kām nā āve, man nahiň bhāve mane vahlā lāge bhagava chir re hari (2)
nathi re najar ko-ii bijā-nā bhani ... meň to paheri

The clothes woven with thin silken threads do not catch my fancy anymore. Since I have relinquished all desires of worldly pleasures for love for God, Saffron clothes appeal to me much. No... no... none appeals to me that I glance at someone.

બાઇ મીરાં કહે પ્રભુ ગિરિધરના ગુણ, ગિરિધરના ગુણ

મને ચરણ કમળ દત્ત લેજો રે હરિ (૨)

નથી રે નજર કોઇ બીજાના ભણી ... મેં તો પહેરી

bā-ii mirā kahe prabhu giri-dhar-na gun, giri-dhar-na gun mane charan kamal dat-ta lejo re hari (2)
nathi re najar ko-ii bijā-nā bhani ... meň to paheri

Mirabai, ultimately says, I have fallen in love with divine virtues of Prabhu Giridhar. She further implores Supreme Divine, Giridhar to grant her place at his lotus feet, as solemnly says again and again, her eyes are fixed over the holy image of Krishna and none seems worthy to look at. Saintly and chaste Mirabai, bearing in mind herself married only to Krishna, considers it sinful, even to look at anyone else.

176. Man Tuň Shaňkar Bhaji Le ॥ મન તું શંકર ભજી લે

મન તું શંકર ભજી લે, મન તું શંકર ભજી લે man tuň shaňkar bhaji le, man tuň shaňkar bhaji le chhod ne kapat bholā-nāth-ne bhaji le ... repeat

O' my mind, pray Shankar! Worship Lord Shankar, whose name itself means the Supreme Benefactor. Pray Bholanath - an embodiment of honesty, by giving up all your slyness.

કોણ ચઢાવે ગંગા જમુના, કોણ ચઢાવે દૂધ;

કોણ ચઢાવે બિલ્લી પત્ર, કોણ ચઢાવે ભભૂત ... ૧ kon chaDhāve gaňgā jamunā, kon chaDhāve dudh;

kon chaDhāve bil-li patra, kon chaDhāve bhabhut ... 1
Why worry who would proffer holy waters of Ganga and Jamuna, and who would proffer milk for ablution? Don't worry who shall proffer Bilipatra[1] and also ash?

રાજા ચઢાવે ગંગા જમુના, રૈયત ચઢાવે દૂધ;

બ્રાહ્મણ ચઢાવે બિલ્લી પત્ર, યોગી ચઢાવે ભભૂત ... ૨ rājā chaDhāve gaňgā jamunā, rai-yat chaDhāve dudh;

brāhman chaDhāve bil-li patra, yogi chaDhāve bhabhut ... 2
The king proffers waters of Ganga and Jamuna, while subjects of king or state, proffer milk; while a Brahmin may proffer Bilipatra[1], an ascetic (Yogi) proffers ash.

કોણ માંગે અન્ન ધન, કોણ માંગે પુત્ર;

કોણ માંગે કંચન કાયા, કોણ માંગે રૂપ ... ૩ kon māňge an-na dhan, kon māňge putra; kon māňge kaňchan kāyā, kon māňge rup ... 3

Again, stop worrying as to who is seeking abundance of grains or wealth, or even divine blessings to beget a son. Some prays Lord Shiva for perfect health, while some for beauteous appearance.

ગરીબ માંગે અન્ન ધન, વાંઝિયા માંગે પુત્ર;

બ્રાહ્મણ માંગે કંચન કાયા, ગુણિકા માંગે રૂપ ... ૪ garib māṅge an-na dhan, vaṅjhiyā māṅge putra; brāhman māṅge kaṅchan kāyā, gunikā māṅge rup ... 4

In fact, poor may pray for food, and a childless may seek blessings to beget a son. A Brahmin may ask for pure gold-like healthy physical form, while a courtesan may ask for enchanting beauty.

આંકડાનો ભાત બનાવ્યો, ધંતુરાની ભાજી;

પીરસે રાણી પાર્વતી ને જમે ભોળાનાથ ... ૫ āṅkadā-no bhāt banāvyo, dhaṅturā-ni bhāji; pirase rāni pārvati ne jame bholā-nāth ... 5

Wife of Shankar is so much engrossed in worship of her lord, that she cooked Ankdo[2] for rice, and Dhanturo[3] for vegetable. Lost in lovelorn prayers of Shiva, the queen Parvati serves such meal, and Bholanath happily dines.

આંકડો ધંતુરો શિવજી, ભાવના છે ભોગી;

ભણે નરસૈંયો વહાલો, જૂનાગઢનો જોગી ... ૬ āṅkado dhaṅturo shiva-ji, bhav-nā chhe bhogi;

bhane nar-sai-yo vahālo, junā-gaDh-no jogi ... 6
Saint Narsinh, an ascetic from Junagadh (Gujarat) says, Lord Shiva accepts all things proffered to him with equal love, even Ankdo[2] and Dhanturo[3]. It is a symbolic representation of how Lord Shiva absorbs pains and anguish signified as poisonous of his devotees. As the legend of Amrut Manthan (churning of sea) describes how Lord Shiva accepted a bowl of deadly poison, that nobody wanted. If it was left out loose in the world, nothing could have survived.

---

[1] bilipatra - Leaf of Bael tree (Botanical - Aegle marmelos)
[2] ankdo - Crown flower (Botanical - Calotropis gigantea)
[3] dhanturo - Datura (Botanical - Genus datura)

Note: Both ankdo and dhanturo plants have medicinal uses and he being a divine ascetic living in forests, had realized the value of such seemingly unwanted plants.

As a saying goes "Man proposes and God disposes"... the ways of fateful forces are truly unfathomable!

King Dashrath had decided on coronation of Ram, his eldest son as the next king of Ayodhya. But the Mother Destiny had a different design in store. Queen Kaikeyi reminded King Dashrath of the two promises he had made to her long ago. Accordingly while asking the King to fulfill his promises, she asked Prince to be sent to forests and coronate her son Bharat as the next king of Ayodhya. While granting two promises to his wife Kaikeyi, it had never occurred to King Dashrath, how it would boomerang.

All powerful King Ravan is said to have brought all the stars of destiny under his control. Sensing himself invincible, King Ravan kidnapped Sita, the wife of Lord Ram. But he had never imagined in his wildest dream, that securely protected Lanka could ever be invaded. As the tides of destiny turned, mighty Ravan was forced to witness burning Lanka before he lost his life in battle against the Prince Ram. Really, sometimes unexpected happens.

The great celebrated warrior of Mahabharat, Abhimanyu had thought of devastating the 7-strata strategic formations of the Kaurav armies. He was so sure of emerging winner as he rushed through the enemies, but the destiny had cast a different strategy against him. Before any help from his own armies could reach him, he was surrounded by mighty warriors of Kaurav army, and brutally killed. How can we ever realize that unexpected can happen to devastate our dreams.

A merchant couple – Sagalsha and his wife were exceedingly philanthropic and used to offer meals to hungry people and Brahmins. It so happened once that, they invited a hungry ascetic from Aghori sect to have food. To make the long story short.... the Aghori demanded human flesh to be cooked. Finding no way to meet the demand of the Aghori for human flesh, the couple decided to sacrifice the life of their only son Chelaiyya. The Aghori demanded crushed head of their son to be served for his meals, but with a condition, that no drop of tear must shed from their eyes. The couple obliged. Touched by their height of ingenuity and devotion, God appeared before them and graced them with divine blessings and returned the life of their son.

chādar khased-tā fuladā dekhāy ... ana-dhāryuň te āgal thāy

Saint Kabir was revered alike by Hindus and Muslims. Hindus considered him as a one of them, while the Muslims believed him to be a Muslim. As per a legend associated with last days of Saint Kabir, sensing rivalry between his devotees, Kabir Ji said, "Cover my body with a bed-sheet and let me sleep." When the divine soul of Saint Kabir left for heavenly abode, upon removal of the sheet his Hindu and Muslim devotees were awed to find a pile of flowers. None of his devotees had ever expected such a thing could happen. They shared the flowers equally - the Muslims buried them in a grave and the Hindus placed them in flowing waters of river Ganga.

Tattva Vichar means Theology that expounds mutuality and system of Jagat (World), Jivatma (Soul), Shiva and Moksha (Emancipation), which are the basic topics of philosophy.

For a Jivatma or a Soul, to be born as a human among the innumerable species of life, is itself a unique blessing in the arduous journey through countless births. Many people believe that we, humankind, are the creation of a supernatural entity called God, that God had an intelligent purpose in creating us, and that this intelligent purpose is "the meaning of life".

Owing to our righteousness Karma, we have been born in the human form. Despite that, we are not liberated from the cycle of birth and death. As a matter of fact, human birth provides the exclusive opportunity to pursue Purushartha. The word, Purushartha literally means, an "object of human pursuit". It is a key concept in Hinduism, and refers to the four proper goals or aims of a human life. The four Purushartha are Dharma, Artha, Kama and Moksha. Even in the brief life span, there is the inbuilt chance to gain access to knowledge of God, experience His infinite greatness, and seek salvation.

178. Bahu Punya-kerā Puňja-thi ॥ બહુ પુણ્યકેરા પુંજથી

Nādbrahma pada 895, નાદબ્રહ્મ પદ-૮૯૫

બહુ પુણ્યકેરા પુંજથી, શુભ દેહ માનવનો મળ્યો, તોયે અરે! ભવચક્રનો આંટો, નહિ એક્કે ટળ્યો,
સુખ પ્રાપ્ત કરતાં સુખ ટળે છે, લેશ એ લક્ષે લહો, ક્ષણ ક્ષણ ભયંકર ભાવમરણે, કાં અહો રાચી રહો ? ... ૧ bahu punya-kerā puňja-thi, shubh deh mānav-no malyo, toye are ! bhav-chakra-no āňto, nahi ek-ke talyo, sukh prāpta karatā sukh tale chhe, lesh e lakshe laho, kshana kshana bhayaňkar bhāv-marane, kaň aho rāchi raho ? ... 1

The pursuit of worldly happiness begets much sorrow borne out of greed, avarice, which we fail to realize. Every moment of such action is detrimental to attainment of Moksha. Then why should we tread such a path of falsity?

Just pause and think, what have you achieved, what has been increased with increase in wealth or rights and privileges? Do you believe growth or expansion of family or clan, can really give you a sense of achievement? Saint Kabir Ji has said,

नींद से अब जाग बंदे, राम में मन रमा।
निरगुना से लाग बंदे, है वही परमात्मा।।

You are asleep in the realm of Maya - illusion. It is time you wake up and divert your mind in the worship of Rama. Concentrate your mind in realization of Nirguna or formless form of God, who is the Supreme Being.

લક્ષ્મી અને અધિકાર વધતાં, શું વધ્યું તે તો કહો ?
શું કુટુંબ કે પરિવારથી, વધવાપણું એ નય ગ્રહો;
વધવાપણું સંસારનું, નરદેહને હારી જવો, એનો વિચાર નહીં અહોહો ! એક પળ તમને હવો !!! ... ૨ lakshmi ane adhikār vadhatā, shuň vadhyu te to kaho ?

vadhavā-panu saňsār-nu, nar-deh-ne hāri javo, eno vichār nahiň aho-ho ! eka pal tam-ne havo !!!! ... 2

Enhancement of worldliness, results in deterioration of physical form, owing to succumbing to passions, materialism and cupidity. Halt your pace on path of degradation of soul, stop for a moment to think.

Saint poet Narasimha Mehta has sung: Either Spirituality or devotion is the only tool that draws the living being to Paramatma or God. Strive to attain pure joy from listening to devotional kirtan or worships. Worshiping Supreme Divinity is the way to achieve liberation from the chains of bondage of passions.

નિર્દોષ સુખ નિર્દોષ આનંદ, લ્યો ગમે ત્યાંથી ભલે, એ દિવ્ય શક્તિમાન જેથી, જંજીરેથી નીકળે;
પરવસ્તુમાં નહિ મૂંઝવો, એની દયા મુજને રહી, એ ત્યાગવા સિદ્ધાંત કે, પશ્ચાત્ દુ:ખ તે સુખ નહીં. ... ૩ nirdosh sukh niradosha ānaňd, lyo game tyāň-thi bhale, e divya shakti-mān jethi, jaňjire-thi nikale, para-vastu-māň nahi muňjhavo, eni dayā muj-ne rahi, e tyāg-vā sid-dhāňt ke pashchāt dukh te sukh nahiň ... 3

It is pitiful to get engulfed in things of others. The only way to achieve true sublime happiness is to get rid of those disadvantageous principles. After following such inauspicious ways, there cannot be anything less than anguish, unhappiness and gloom.

A poet asks,

> સંબંધોના સમીકરણમાં સરવાળે શૂન્ય જોઈ ને અકળાયો છું
> મારી શું ઓળખ આપું, હજી હું ખુદને જ ક્યાં પૂરો કળાયો છું.
>
> [I am confounded to find Zero in the equations of relations. When as yet
> I have not fully realized myself, how do I introduce myself?]

હું કોણ છું ? ક્યાંથી થયો ? શું સ્વરૂપ છે મારું ખરું ?
કોના સંબંધે વળગણા છે ? રાખું કે એ પરહરું ?
એના વિચાર વિવેકપૂર્વક, શાંત ભાવે જો કર્યા, તો સર્વ આત્મિકજ્ઞાનનાં, સિદ્ધાંત-તત્વ અનુભવ્યાં. ... ૪ huň kon chhuň ? kyāň-thi thayo ? shuň svarup chhe māru kharu ?

konā sambaňdhe valaganā chhe ? rākhu ke e paraharu ?
enā vichār vivek-purvak, shāňt bhāve jo karyā, to sarve ātmik-gnān-nā, sid-dhāňt-tatva anu-bhavyā ... 4

Have you ever asked yourself, "In reality, who am I? Whether am I a father, a husband a friend, a professional, a traveler? Who am I? As a matter of fact, on the basis of your child, you are a father, owing your wife, you are a husband, owing to your work, you are a professional and on the basis of transport, you are a traveler. All these identities are superficial and just based on something else! Then what are you?

Since we are unable to find answer to a question - "Who am I"; we keep striving to create our identity. We are always lost in confusion as to 'what should we adopt or discard?' In case, if we deeply contemplate and peacefully meditate, we may come to realize that, we are the spiritual essence of the Supreme Soul, which has remained shrouded by ignorance about SELF. Always repeat to yourself; - 'Who am I?' - 'I am an unstained, amorphous element of the Supreme Soul. By God's grace such self-realization is attained.

તે પ્રાપ્ત કરવા વચન કોનું સત્ય કેવળ માનવું?
નિર્દોષ નરનું કથન માનો, 'તેહ' જેણે અનુભવ્યું;
રે! આત્મ તારો આત્મ તારો ! શીઘ્ર એને ઓળખો,
સર્વાત્મમાં સમદ્રષ્ટિ દ્યો, આ વચનને હૃદયે લખો. ... ૫ te prāpta karavā vachan konu satya keval mānavu ?

nirdosh nar-nu kathan māno 'teh' jene anu-bhavyu, re ! ātma tāro ātma tāro ! shighra ene olakho, sarvātma-māň sama-drashti dyo, ā vachan-ne rudaye lakho ... 5

However, to achieve that whose words could be relied upon as truthful? Have faith on the words of an innocuous individual, who has himself experienced 'that' truth. Recognize the essence of your soul. Try to realize the spirit of your soul. Strive to developing equable view for all souls, which is the only way to have self-realization and ultimate emancipation. Engrave this Truth on your heart.

Cut his bonds of million births granting freedom from birth or death,
May you grant everlasting peace to the soul reaching you, O' God.

સુસંપતિ, સુવિચારને, સતકર્મનો દઈ વારસો,
જન્મો જનમ તમ ભક્તિથી, કિરતાર પાર ઉતારજો,
આ લોક ને પરલોકમાં તમ પ્રેમ રગ રગ વ્યાપજો,
પરમાત્મા એ આત્માને શાંતિ સાચી આપજો. ૩

su-sampati, suvichār-ne sat-karma-no da-ii vāraso janmo janma tam bhakti-thi, kiratār pār utār-jo ā lok-ne par-lok-māň, tam prem rag rag vyāp-jo paramātmā e ātmā-ne shāňti sāchi āp-jo 3

Bequeath him legacy of just riches, ethical thoughts and blissful calm,
May you help him fathom ocean of life sailing on your devotional prayer
In this life and after life, may you dwell lovingly in every core of being,
May you grant everlasting peace to the soul reaching you, O' God!

મળે મોક્ષ કે સુખ સ્વર્ગનાં આશા ઉરે એવી નથી,
દ્યો દેહ દુર્લભ માનવીનો ભજન કરવા ભાવથી,
સાચું બતાવી રૂપ શ્રી રણછોડ હૃદયે સ્થાપજો,
પરમાત્મા એ આત્માને શાંતિ સાચી આપજો. ૪

male moksha ke sukh svarg-nā, āshā ure evi nathi dyo deh dularbh mānavi-no, bhajan karavā bhāv-thi sāchu batāvi rup shri ran-chhod rudaye sthāp-jo paramātmā e ātmā-ne shāňti sāchi āp-jo 4

I nurture no hope for liberation nor for divine joys and happiness,
I just seek precious human form, to worship you ever ardently, Show me your true celestial form and dwell within my heart ever,
May you grant everlasting peace to the soul reaching you, O' God!
